PICTURES OF THE FUTURE

The lines along which the public may expect the motion picture of the future to develop, were outlined by H. M. Warner, President of Warner Bros., in an address made by him recently before four hundred religious, educational and social leaders in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Warner said in part: "The next five years will make the motion picture miracles of the past decade, vivid as they have been, seem only a preparatory period. The absolute perfection of synchronization is here. While we are bringing the present proved inventions to a constantly higher plane of performance, the mechanical brains of the producing companies are concentrating on such problems as full natural color and the three dimensional film.

The latter will make the screen not a flat surface, but a complete room or countryside, with perspective in all its true values. A sculptural quality will be added to movement, sound and color. The stereopticon of childhood days is to undergo a magical transformation.

"The industry has now come to the point of serving audiences of 115,000,000 weekly in the United States and 130,000,000 abroad with their principal form of entertainment."

HONEST STUDENTS

The Harmon Foundation which lends money to needy college students finds that ambitious young men who want to go to college are good risks. After extending credits to the amount of more than half a million dollars the losses in collection are less than two per cent. Advancing funds to college students can be called an investment instead of a philanthropy. Without honesty a college education would be somewhat worse than nothing. Happy are these boys who realize what it means all through life to have a reputation for paying one's debts.

William J. Granfield, democrat, who came out on a wet platform, was elected to Congress on Friday from the second district of Massachusetts, over Fred D. Griggs, republican. He succeeds to the seat vacated by the death of Representative Kaynor. The democrats claim that it was one of the biggest political upheavals in the history of the state.

The S. S. S. R. stands for Soyus-Sovetskikh Sotsialisticheskikh Republikh. Conditions in that benighted land are evidently worse than we had suspected.

One professional gentleman who can not be highly recommended, on the bare evidence in the record as handed down to us, is Job's personal physician.

As we understand it, a Detroit citizen now lays himself open to suspicion if he is detected admiring a motor boat.

We know a little girl whose hazy idea of psittacosis is that it's a "parents' disease" and means "talking too much."

The normal waistline, says a fashion writer, is Nature's own. Ah, yes; but then Nature herself is so old fashioned!

"The best way to spread parrot's disease," observes a medico, "is by kissing," but that, it appeals to us, is just about the worst way.

A Balkan king sat in the cab the other day and tried his hand at running a fast locomotive. This is just in case.

Rather an unusual thing happened to a local card player the other night. She won the same bottle of bath salts she won last July.

"Do you suppose you could take this grapefruit," said the disgruntled diner to Tessie, the ebullient waitress, "and hang it back on the tree, for a time?"

Columbia dean finds many college entrants "morally immature." That isn't surprising. A lot of them never will mature.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

So live that you won't be one to overcrowd the prisons.

An income tax blank makes a man feel close to the government.

Virtue is its own reward. But so many persons don't like the loneliness.

Nobody should rely wholly upon the radio tenors for a solution of the sweet mystery of life.

Rev. Lon R. Call: "The ideal minister, like the ideal woman, exists only in fiction." Add man to the list.

It is said there is no cure for laziness. It is just as well there isn't. A lazy man would be too lazy to try it.

True, as Arthur Brisbane says, "crimes speak louder than words." Words cannot compete with sawed-off shotguns.

Possibly one of life's greatest disappointments is that of the public speaker who pauses for applause and doesn't get it.

Hi Slooem says that he notices that the building trades are now using the odd cent racket that has been so popular with the retail stores. To show how close they are figuring the contractors for the new Normal School are only asking $415,999 for the job.

TO SELL BLOCK OF DEBENTURES

(Special Cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

London, Feb. 13—A syndicate has been organized it was learned today to place 1,500,000 pounds sterling in four percent debentures of the Buenos Aires Great Southern railway on the London market at a price of 74.

PRICE WILLIAM

Prince William, Feb. 12—King Groundhog cast no shadow upon us, either in his den or out, on Candlemas Day, as the people of Prince William are as active as ever.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kitchen have returned from Maine for the winter.

Mr. Elden Jewett has returned from Gagetown where he has been employed.

Miss Mildred Kitchen has left us the first of February to take charge of the school at Plaster Rock.

Mrs. Louis Jewett is spending a few weeks in Fredericton.

We regret that Mrs. Frank Jewett was in poor health and that it was necessary for her to go to Fredericton for x-rays.

The U. B. W. M. U. met at the home of Mrs. Ersel Moore's on Thursday only ten were present owing to the bad roads and it being the coldest day of the year.

The "Church Aid" was invited to meet at the Parsonage for its next meeting.

The young people of Prince William and Burden took advantage of the fine weather Sunday evening to have a "Sing" at the Parsonage. An enjoyable evening was enjoyed by all.

The monthly social of B. Y. P. A. was held at Mr. and Mrs. Huntley Crewson's by invitation. This was a Valentine social, which was much enjoyed by all. Watler Clayden, one of the members, taking a team from Prince William, thus turning it into a sleigh drive, about forty were present.

Mrs. Alvin Lawrence spent a few days in Fredericton last week.

Mr. Frank Joslin, from Queensbury is the most popular man in Prince William at present, as people are having their wood sawn by him.

Mrs. John Courser, who has been ill since November is slowly recovering.

Mrs. William Scott is confined to her bed by serious illness, and Miss Sadie Lawrence, her sister, has been called from Boston, arriving during the past week.

YOU CAN REST ASSURED

He brushed his teeth twice a day, was examined by his doctor and dentist twice a year, wore his rubbers when it rained. He slept with his window open at least eight hours every night. He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables. He relinquished his tonsils and traded in several worn out glands. He did his daily dozen daily, besides taking plenty of outdoor exercise. He was all set to live to be a hundred.

The funeral will be held next Wednesday. He is survived by 18 specialists, four health institutes, and numerous manufacturers of health foods and antiseptics.

He had forgotten about automobiles at street crossings.
