A DIFFERENCE WHO'S OX GETS THE PRONG

(Woodstock Press)

When the "Intoxicating Liquor Act of 1916" was before the House of Assembly, and by the way, it was the present Premier, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, who, as Attorney General, drew up that law, there was a very strong feeling among the members, that before such a drastic law, and it was a drastic law, was passed, it should be submitted to the people by way of a plebiscite.

The New Brunswick Temperance Alliance went before the government and argued that there was no necessity for a plebiscite. In fact they insisted that the bill be passed forthwith. The government accepting the views of the Alliance, did pass the bill without a reference to the people, thus denying to those who might have been opposed to such a law, an opportunity to have any say in the matter.

We submit that if it were fair or just to pass a law in 1916, which made the man who took a drink of liquor a criminal, without asking his consent, it was equally fair and right to pass a law in 1927 to remove that stigma from him without consulting the Temperance Alliance.

"It makes a lot of difference whose Ox is being gored."

PROHIBITION NOT AN ISSUE IN THE CAMPAIGN

(St. Croix Courier)

An air of mystery appears to surround the visit to St. Stephen of Mrs. Gordon Wright, national president of the W. C. T. U., who addressed a meeting at the Queen Theatre on Sunday evening in opposition to any form of Government Control of liquor. It is known that the necessary arrangements for this meeting were made by the local executive and candidates of the Opposition party, but the meeting apparently was not under the auspices, as that expression is generally understood, of any organization. Mrs. Wright stated to a representative of the Courier following the Sunday night meeting that she came to New Brunswick in response to a wire from the Temperance Association of Carleton County, sent, she understood, at the request of the Woodstock branch of the W. C. T. U. Along with explanation there is to be considered the following letter published in the Woodstock Press of May 27:

Misunderstanding

"The W. C. T. U., of Woodstock are not responsible for bringing Mrs. Gordon Wright, Dom. President, here at this time.

"We stand for Prohibition pure and simple—and neither political parties have pledged themselves for Prohibition, so in this contest there is no Prohibition issue.

(Sgd.) President of W. C. T. U. of Woodstock."

WEST AUSTRALIA MAY BREAK FROM COMMONWEALTH

Conberra, Australia, June 12—The movement in the state of western Australia for secession from the Commonwealth must be taken seriously, Sir James Mitchell, Premier of the state, declared today. He believed the great bulk of the people were behind this movement, and it would continue unless something was done immediately to reduce the considerable load of taxation and other burdens for which the Federal government was mostly responsible, he added.

POLITICIANS THROW BOMBS IN BELGRADE

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Belgrade, Jugo-Slavia, June 13—A series of four bombings all believed to have been for political purposes and caused disquiet today. ANCIENT SPEARS MAKE MACHINE GUNS LOOK CHEAP

London, June 11—The American gangster will his expensive machine guns is a comparative piker alongside of the fierce, barbaric tribes of 1,300 years ago, in expensive weapons at least.

An exhibition of "Art in the Dark Ages" here reveals the savages used gold lavishly in their weapons.

One chieftain used a spur of solid gold weighing more than 13 ounces, highly decorated gold mounted daggers, an iron spear-head with a band of red cloisonne enamel on a gold base about the mouth and wore a gold collar of six carved almost oblong plates embossed with scenes and figures.

Neither was his horse neglected. It was provided with a pair of gold trappings with gold rivets.

These relics were removed from a tomb of a Lombard chieftain who led his warriors across the Danube in 586 and began the conquest of Italy.

Also found in the tomb were the gold mount of a horse-collar with two grotesque wolf-like heads to fill the end panels and a sword and helmet of iron, both mounted in gold.

(St. Croix Courier)

With election day but one week distant and matters rapidly approaching a climax in Provincial politics, interest will very soon shift to the Federal field.

Recollecting the statement made to his intimate friends R. W. Grimmer, the present member for Charlotte, on the occasion of his acceptance of the nomination in 1926, when he said that it would be the last occasion he would offer for election, a representative of the Courier interviewed Mr. Grimmer on Monday of this week, on which occasion he reaffirmed his statement of four years ago.

Burns of this city, a member of the Temperance Alliance executive, was in the chair. Mrs. Wright calling Premier Baxter, a New Brunswick Mussolini, was strongly opposed to Government Control and gave sentimental reasons for its discontinuance. SCOTCH TRAMPS NOT THRIFTY

Glasgow, Scotland June 13—The first annual report of the department of health for Scotland mentions that "in one parish where the council have an arrangement with a householder to supply supper, bed and breakfast for vagrants, it is not uncommon for tramps to ask for, say, another egg for breakfast, and to offer to pay for it themselves.

Great affairs are not necessarily engineered by men who get up early in the morning.
