MACHINE BEATS MAN

Strange and interesting that man can make a machine which can do something better than he can do it himself. Even so fine an instrument as the human eye can be outdone by a pair of mechanical eyes designed to match colors. A needle pointer swings when colors are laid before these mechanical eyes. If the colors match perfectly the needle rests at zero on a scale. If the match is off, the needle swings one way for "too light" and the other way for "too dark." It registers differences in color invisible to the eye. More and more we turn our jobs and our duties over to our new and astonishing machines. How much of our very personality are we going to give up to the monster?

BRAINS AND BEAUTY

Young men about to marry don't have to choose between brains and beauty. Late intelligence tests show they go together. Tests recently made on 150 of the fairest show girls on Broadway that the average intelligence runs very high. In the manner in which the psychologist figures, the girls averaged an intelligence rating of 128. Groups of college women have been found with a rating of 127. A group of college men rated 130. And this is interesting—a group of business men averaged only 86.

"Nature is inexorable in the execution of her lays. One who comes into the path of a cyclone, or who lives in the zone of an earthquake succumbs to the force of the natural phenomenon, and meets his death. We are appalled at the toll of life taken by storms on land and at sea, and by the earthquakes and tidal waves that follow. Yet year after year, the total loss of life consequent upon our industrial system, and our automobile recklessness mounts higher than all of the other loss combined. It is the mowing of a great number in one casualty that makes it dreadful. When we kill them one at a time it does not seem so bad."

Premier King, speaking in his own constituency in Prince Albert, gave his audience a forecast of the election result in the different provinces. He stated that the Liberals would probably carry all four seats in Nova Scotia and nine in Prince Edward Island. He tactfully refrained from making any forecast in New Brunswick, which goes to show that he has little faith in his Postmaster General as a campaigner.

Is government control of the liquor traffic in New Brunswick a failure? There may be some differences of opinion on the matter but we are inclined to think that the great majority of the thousands of people who attended the Orange celebration here last Saturday and noted the splendid order that prevailed will candidly admit that it is a vast improvement over prohibition.

While the Marysville cotton mill and the Hartt Shoe factory are running on part time, the tourist industry appears to be flourishing. The prop. of the Aula overnight camps on the Woodstock Road, has been compelled to add ten new camps to his already large equipment.

There are six women offering as candidates for the Federal Parliament at the pending election. Among the number is Mr. W. C. Kennedy, of Windsor, Ontario, the widow of a former minister of Railways, running in South Essex.

Lima Beane says the difference between age and youth is that the one sings—darling, I am growing old; the other—darling, I am growing bold.

With the advent of July the obscure gentlemen known as June Brides will begin to come to and receive recognition as of some importance in the scheme of life.

There are many good and enduring automobile tires, but we're waiting for the advertisement of one that never goes flat twenty feet distant from a large, umbrageous tree.

Kansas Headline: "Drillers Discover Gas," well, what did they expect to discover, the missing link or a peach orchard in full bloom?

One of the best things on editor does in the course of a day is to fill the waste basket.

It seems the convention in heavy-weight boxing at the moment is to waltz the first four rounds and sit out the fifth.

"A flood of stein songs," says a theatrical weekly, "may now be looked for." As the University of Maine goes, so goes the nation.

"Small objects looked large," says Admiral Byrd. "One of our men mistook a shoe 10 feet away for a seal." This isn't another of those Carnera jokes, is it?

Mr. Darrow says, "Life is but an interrupted succession of nothingness." Is it a rule of arithmetic that nothing interrupted by nothing is nothing?

Still unconvinced by Byrd exploit, Voliva says the world is "more like a pancake than an orange." We guess that makes Rudy Valee the maple syrup.

The Pullman company lost one million dollars in a month. By a coincidence this is the amount the big talker in the smoking compartment usually net in his last deal.

A dietary Daniel has come to judgment. He is a football coach and gastronomic expert in an Oregon college, and he things "spinach is taken too seriously." We agree with him; but how, we would like to show, can one take spinach less seriously?

Will Do Good

Moncton Transcript: The docket was clear this morning in police court, no arrests were made during the night. Evidently the new clause in the Liquor Act, which states, "that any person convicted of being drunk more than once within any period of twelve months is automatically interdicted under Sub-section 4, Section 81, of the intoxicating Liquor Act, is liable to a penalty of $200 and 2 months in jail," has put the fear of the law into the habitual drunkards in the city and they will watch their step more carefully in the future.

Water Drops

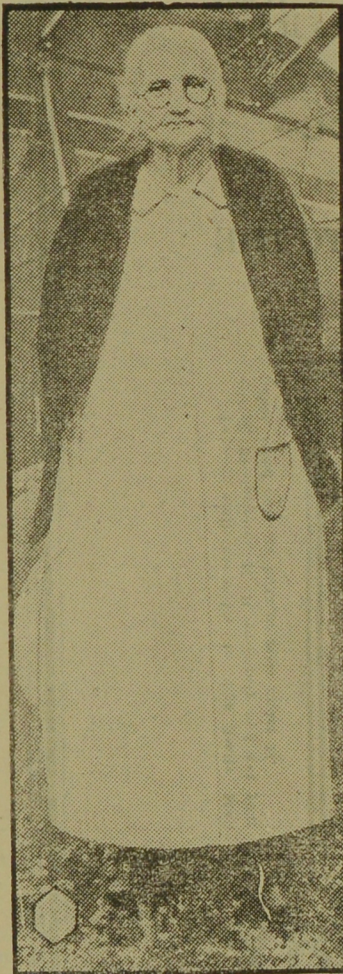

The St. John River dropped another inch in the last 12 hours, the present level being 3 feet above the summer level mark.

Toronto, July 16—Toronto residents have written to the press complaining about the use of the Stein Song of the University of Maine in the schools of this city. They object to the sentiment of the song which they claim will suggest drinking to the younger element. School officials, however, deny that any official cognizance is given to the air in the school, and that there is any danger of the children being taught bad habits through hearing the music which was made popular by Rudy Vallee.

Fire Insurance Enough?

You have some fire insurance, of course; few householders tempt fate by going without any fire insurance. But enough—that's the point. If a destructive fire does attack your home and you find you are but partially insured, you will never forgive yourself for not taking out sufficient protection when it could so easily have been done. We suggest that you phone 291-21.
