SUCCESSFUL BOND SALE

Hon. A. J. Leger, Provincial Secretary Treasurer certainly has every reason to be pleased over the great success of the provincial bond issue which was floated yesterday. In all $4,250,000 worth of bonds bearing interest at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent were disposed of to a syndicate at 97.351, which will mean an annual interest charge to the province of 4.92 per cent, which is admittedly a very low rate. As part of the issue was a refund of an issue on which province had been paying interest for the last ten years at the rate of 6.25 per cent, it means a saving of the substantial sum of $23,275 per year. On the issue of January last there was an annual saving of $20,000 so the total has been brought up to $43,275. It is only fair to the former government to say that the bonds which were refunded yesterday were issued at a time of tight money and good judgment was displayed in making the term one of short duration. Had long term bonds been issued of course the high rate of interest would have been maintained for at least another ten years. The present Provincial Secretary Treasurer surely has reason to be proud of his success as a bond salesman.

OLD SIGNS ARE GONE

There are complaints over the unreliability of many of the older harbingers of the seasons. In older times one could but look at the family table and tell the time of year almost to a week. New radishes signified the summer was about a month away; fresh peas were inseparable from June; strawberries marked the period after the fourth of July. But now in January one finds rosettes of radish beside the celery, celery itself born from the old limitations of time. Winter strawberries are a fixture, having passed through a distressing stage in which they suggested horehound.

Rotogravure sections have helped to destroy the reliability of the older omens. Sons and daughters of the hardy pioneer who was sewed into his flannels appear in the Sunday supplements in backless swimming suits on the Miami sands. A press picture shows a line of charging halfbacks at spring practice. The hockey playoffs come well after the vernal equinox. Sulphur and molasses are now 'virtually extinct; a robin has been around the neighborhood the last six weeks. Tennis, once a summer sport now engages Mr. Tilden most of the time, and a good journeyman golfer picks up as much lucre in winter as he does in dog days. Furs are summer attire for one of the sexes and b. v. d.'s are affected in winter by a large element of the other. Six world's swimming records were broken last week in an afternoon.

We are left with almost no harbinger of spring in which our faith can rest. The New York World suggests that the coming of the circus has kept its old significance; but circuses in these parts arrive on no set schedule. There remains, as far as we know, only one infallible sign of impending spring. We refer to Income Tax Day. This alone is fixed and inevitable.

INDEPENDENCE

One of our most over worked words and over worked ideas is independence. There is no such thing. Any one who tried to achieve it completely would not only be wasting his time but would find no comfort in the process. Life has no more important lesson to teach than the lesson that we are dependent, one on another. In fact each one of us is dependent on a number of others. Our business is not to waste time on the silly idea of achieving independence. Our chief business is to learn how to work harmoniously with those on whom we are dependent and who are dependent upon us.

HEROES AND VALETS

It is said that no man is a hero to his valet. Since few men have valets we are to interpret this to mean that few men remain heroes or even admirable in the eyes of those with whom they are in longest and closest contact. Let us say, as a better proverb, that few men are heroes to their wives. Their wives know them too well. Wives know that most husbands are half grown children—some of them not even half grown. The so-called "big man" is usually big in all the walks and ways of life. Even the home folks know it. There are not many.

There has been on successor to Houdini. Some claim to be, but we doubt whether any of them could extricate himself from a breakfast nook.

Any astronomer who can locate a remote and invisible planet with a little algebra ought never to lose a golf ball in a small patch of clover.

"The girl of my dreams" says Rudy Vallee, "must be beautiful to look at" it is these flashes of originality that mark Rudy apart.

THROUGH OUR SUEVE

Greatest triumph of old age is to be listened to.

Now that spring is here the problem is to make a success of it.

Even the line of least resistance is often busy when you want it.

Stille: As helpful as an old dictionary with the page you happen to want torn out.

We all have "pasts," but many of them are utterly barren of anything important.

Men who are close with their money won't ask to borrow any from YOU.

A treatment visitor praises the town; it takes some sour old resident to traduce it.

You are entitled to pursuit of happiness, but that's not your "business" on earth.

A girl learns from her mother her first lesson in cooking. When aged she stands with her nose just level with the kitchen table while mamma is rolling out the dough.

Psychoanalysis is now discussed as pastime by people whose parents thought introspection in conversation was impolite.

Nobody can say anything better than Shakespeare or Milton or Keats or Ruskin, so genius now turns to science and invention where something new can be found.

Bank Completed

The new Bank of Commerce building in Queen street, a three story structure, to replace the one burned here two winters ago, has been completed and this afternoon a luncheon is being served in the new edifice for the employees of the bank and the public. The new bank will be opened for business on Monday. The cost of the building was $50,000. J. M. O'Halloran is the manager of the local branch.

Divorce Court

The April term of the New Brunswick Divorce court will open here on Tuesday of next week with the docket about the usual size. Between twelve and fourteen cases are on the docket. The court will be held in the York County Court House, in view of the fact that the Appeal Court will meet in the Supreme Court here next week.

Summer Coming

One of the surest signs of the arrival of the summer season, is the placing of the silent policemen at the intersections of the streets in the city. This practice has been in vogue for the past several years, and has aided in the handling of traffic problems of the city. Another sign of the fast approaching warm season was the presence of the water sprinkler about the city today.

A Spring Tonic An Aid to Health

You Can Lay the Foundation of Good Health Now by Building Up Your Blood and Strengthening Your Nerves Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The good old fashion of taking a tonic in the Springtime, like most of the customs of our grandparents, is based upon sound common sense and good medical practice. Winter is always a trying time for those who are not in rugged health. Many men, women and children go through the winter on reserve strength they have stored up during the sunny summer months, and grow increasingly pale and languid as the spring days approach. A tonic for the blood and nerves at this time will do much for such people, by putting color in the cheeks and banishing that tired feeling that worries thousands of people at this season of the year.

It is impossible to be energetic if your blood is thin and weak, or if your nerves are frayed or shattered. You cannot compete with others if you do not get refreshing sleep at night, or if your appetite is poor or you are losing weight. You need a tonic at this time to add to your efficiency now, as well as to save you from suffering later on. And in all the realm of medicine, there is no safer or better tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills tone and enrich the blood which circulates through every portion of the body, strengthening tired nerves and run-down organs and bringing a feeling of new strength and energy to weak, easily tired, despondent men, women and children.

Mrs. L. Hupman, Summerville Centre, N. S., writes:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of the greatest benefit to me. A few years ago I was in a badly run down condition. I became so weak and nervous that I could scarcely go about, and doing my housework left me completely used up. Everything seemed to worry me, and I was in a very discouraged condition when I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon found the pills helping me, and continuing their use I fully regained my health. Since then I always take a few boxes in the Spring to build me up for the hot weather, and always I find the best results. I therefore cheerfully recommend these pills as the best of health builders.

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

There are still a great many property owners who retain a Victorian impression of the insurance agency.
