SENATOR FOSTER HEARD FROM

Senator W. E. Foster, of St. John was the principal speaker at a Liberal convention here on Saturday, called to select a candidate for the Federal Parliament. He delivered a speech in which he opined that Liberalism was not dead in York-Sunbury. If Liberalism in this constituency is still able to show some signs of life there is no public man we know of who is less deserving of credit for it than Senator Foster. When holding office as Premier of the province he had a government control bill prepared at the public expense, but failed to get it through the Legislature. As a purchaser of certain Fredericton real estate, however, he was more of a success. Monuments in York-Sunbury, which bear testimony to Hon. Dr. Foster's indefatigable work as Premier include an hotel, which yields a return of one per cent on the investment, and a silent concrete proposition at South Devon. Other great achievements in the way of statecraft by the present Senator Foster include the transfer of the Saint John Telegraph from the Liberal to the independent field and the purchase and destruction of another Liberal paper, the Saint John Globe. The Senator holds the record as a short term cabinet minister at Ottawa and as provincial Federal leader in the election of 1925 he established another record by capturing a lone seat for his party in Gloucester County.

J. J. F. Winslow, K. C., of this city was nominated to contest York-Sunbury in the Liberal interest at a convention at the County Court house on Saturday evening. He has not the ghost of a chance of winning and knows it, but the party leaders demanded that a man be must put up and Mr. Winslow against his bitter judgment, no doubt consented to make the sacrifice. In the event of the King Government being sustained he will have the patronage and some day he may be in line for a judgeship. It is now up to the friends of Mr. Hanson to leave no stone unturned to make his majority decisive.

Weekend tragedies in the province seemed to establish quite a record. Four people were killed and nineteen injured by the wreck of a circus train at Canaan and in Moncton two met death as the result of a shooting affray. Strange to say the automobile although much in use did not contribute to the toll of death.

Our insistency that "something must be done about it" is sometimes the worst policy we can pursue. Often the best way to treat worrisome problems is to go away and leave them. It is a wise man who knows when not to do anything about anything.

Farmers are said to be using loud speakers as a scarecrow in their fields and orchards. Presumably the singers or speaker is chosen with care, so that the crows will not think it is just another crow calling them.

A Boston police chief orders a parade each morning of any bootleggers in custody at headquarters. There is a question about suitable music, "Sweet Aedline" not being in march time.

Mr. Schmeling has had a photograph taken with the championship belt over her shoulder. We understand there were changes but had no idea the foul line had gone so high.

The greased-pole, once a hilarious feature at outings, seems to have disappeared. Here and there, though you see a stock market victim painfully inching his way back.

What has become of the old-fashioned household magazine, with directions for sawing up a barrel into an easy chair, or making a door mat of a veteran coconut cake?

The use of radio to heat homes is predicted. I have heard "Red Hot Mamma" songs that ought to keep the temperature at about 92.

Edison dabbled in Wall street to some purpose. Years ago he sold the stock ticker to a Wall street fellow for $40,000.

When the old clock drops an hour behind time during the day, it is also saving daylight for some one.

A veteran paragraph—the one about the love of money being the root of all industry—has made its first 1930 appearance.

An old-timer is one who can remember when automobiles were so high you could have run one of these new Bantams under them.

With none of the girls in town, it is estimated that King Carol's fan mail must be heavy.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

The greatest educator and benefactor of the human race is the book agent. Ask any one of them, if he doesn't volunteer the information.

THE MAN who tries to dodge his duties usually finds the detour much rougher than the road.

LOVE is the tie that binds and all that sort of thing, but it never seems to render a wife tongue-tied.

Lima Beane says the man who wants but little here below won't have any bother finding room to store it.

HARD times are those in which people keep on driving a good car despite the cute radiator cap on the new model.

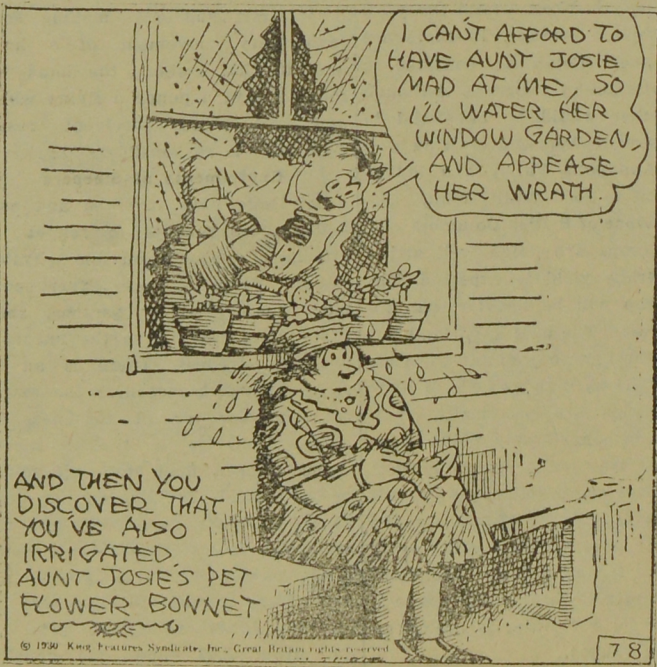

Though unwilling to admit that money is everything, it is no more than fair to say it makes the sunshine on payday.

With a love of nature, a fondness for literature, a few fast friends and a clear conscience—What more could anyone ask of life?

It has been revealed by railroad experts that a fight with his wife before breakfast reduces an employee's efficiency. This is a serious matter in which the traveling public is directly concerned. A railroad man should arrange to fight with his wife on holidays only.

On the Last Lap

Candidates were officially nominated by both parties in the eleven constituencies in the province, and the political battle may be said to have entered upon its last lap.

You have some fire insurance, of course; few householders tempt fate by going without any fire insurance. But enough—that's the point.
