ANOTHER TALE ABOUT THAT STINGIEST MAN

(New York Sun.)

A variation of the stingiest man story has been unearthed in the suburbs. The commuter who is the hero of this tale congratulated his wife heartily on the occasion of her birthday a few days ago and hurried off to make his train. When he returned that same evening, he carried a large package.

"There!" he triumphantly exclaimed, "All for you!"

She gazed doubtfully upon twelve rose bushes.

"And now," he said, bustling around, "let's have something to eat and we'll go right out and plant 'em."

THE CPEATION OF FISHERIES PORTFOLIO IS SEEN AS SIGN OF EARLY FEDERAL ELECTION

Ottawa, April 30—Notice given today of the intended creation of a Department of Fisheries divorced from the Marine Department with which it has always been united is viewed with some significance in political circles here.

Primarily, this proposal is to carry out one of the last recommendations of the Duncan Commission on Maritime claims. It is further believed by those who look for a general election this year that the creation of this extra portfolio is not foreign to the election.

It will bring the number of separate departments each with a minister, up to 18. One minister, Senator Dandurand, has no portfolio. For the creation of a separate department of fisheries, the agitation has been quite long. Canadian fishery associations have favored it and stimulus was lent to the movement by the favorable report of the Duncan Commission.

Deputy Appointed.

Last year an intial step was taken by the appointment of a separate deputy minister, W. A. Found. Now the job is to be finished by naming a full fledged minister.

Probably nothing will be done in the matter of the appointment until there is a cabinet shuffle.

Some time ago, when this was rumored, the gossip had it that Hon. P. J. Veniot would become Minister of Fisheries and be succeeded as Postmaster General by Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, he being replaced in the State Department by an English-speaking minister from Quebec, where a vacanacy has existed since Hon. J. A. Robb's death. But in all probability any appointments will await a general shuffle. The new portfolio may be assigned to Prince Edward Island, which has none. Hon. J. E. Sinclair would be in line for it in the event if he does not prefer the vacant senatorship.

Hon. J. H. King Slated.

Senator Bostock's death has suggested the likelihood of Hon. J. H. King's replacing him in the Senate, in which event there would need to be a new minister from British Columbia and a new head of the Pension Department. It is agreed that nothing affecting the cabinet will be done for a considerable time. Hon. Arthur Cardin will continue as Minister of Marine, when jurisdiction over the fisheries is divorced from his department.

Sees Appeal Near.

London, April 30—In an editorial commenting on the present Canadian political situation, the Times today says:—

"In Canada, it may be taken a general election is not far off and for the rest of the session the parties are adopting a sparring position. In Parliament Mackenzie King is in a very strong position with a safe majority in both Senate and House of Commons. The Conservatives are in better heart than they have been for some years because of the success of provincial elections in Saskatchewan and Ontario and the vigorous leadership of Mr. Bennett, which has given them renewed confidence. Looking forward to an election, the Conservatives can be trusted to seize every opoprtunity during the remainder of the session to belabor the Government and put their own policy before the country.

"Forecasts of the new budget are already being published and eagerly discussed for it is felt that the fate of the Government at a general election will depend more than anything else on the impression which its fiscal policy makes upon the electors. Whatever may be the fate of the United States tariff bill and whatever measure of self-defence Canada may feel compelled to take with regard to trade with its neighbor, it is believed that the proposals of the Canadian Government will include definite schemes for marketing Canadian wheat in Great Britain and British anthracite and other products in Canada as well as generally promoting trade within the Empire."

SOME INTERESTING GOSSIP FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

New York, May 2—The tall, slender somewhat snow-burned man is Carl J. Lomen. Snow-burned is right. He is the reindeer king of Alaska and got that fine Floridian tan by walking miles over the ice after detachments of his quarter-million reindeer. It may be going a long way to find a New York story, but he brought one out of Alaska that seems worth retelling.

"Knud Rasmussen took an Esquimo with him to New York on one occasion," he said, "and when the boy went back he told what he had seen. Ever since then he has been known to the people as The Liar."

Last winter Lomen brought one of his Eskimos to New York, but the boy took no chances with his reputation when he returned.

"What you do maybe in New York?" his friends asked.

"Just same like here," said he. "Take out kayak on river. Catch um fish. Maybe spear seal on ice."

Sometimes it seems that this old world isn't properly balanced. This morning I strolled along that section of Sixth avenue which is dense with employment agencies. Second men, waiters, butlers, dishwashers, cooks blocked the pavement as they peered at the board. A young Swedish girl spelled out the offers.

"Ay tank Ay try dat wan," said she to her companion. The point of this paragraph is that she might double for Greta Garbo in that star's latest talkie. Voice, figure, walk, face seemed identical. Difference in value about $24,975 each 30 days.

My researches led me to the conclusion that red-headed girls have been sadly misunderstood by the world. We have believed that red-are impulsive and unbusiness-like. A red-head, we thought, is above all sordid considerations. The facts are that:

One of the new hotels tried to staff a dining-room with red-heads. Only eight could be located in New York, and some of the redness was chemical. Whereas on Park avenue, where two hundred millionaires have their being, red-headedness is almost an epidemic.

This is, of course, about the most newfangled city on earth. Its towers are higher, speed greater, lips redder, shows livelier than in any other city at all. Yet one of my walking delegates informs me that on the Bowery he met a sailor hunting for Uliffe's drug stors, which was established in 1805.

"Why Uliffe's?" my agent asked. "Plenty drug stores everywhere."

Only at Ulliffe's, the sailor said, can a certain eye remedy be obtained. It has been made up for the seagoing trade at Ulliffe's for more than 100 years.

Paired reports on the state of the bootlegging business in New York are offered for the scurtiny of those who (a) believe that New York will go dry and those who (b) think that it never will. The night deposits in which a cynical Broadway calls the "bootleg banks" have been falling off. The "bootleg banks" are the branches of perfectly reputable institutions, which have brass dinguses on the outer walls through which nocturnal business men may make their dospits. The intense value of these institutions to bootleggers in a city addicted to hijackery after dark is evident.

There are millions of people cooking who don't know much about it. Cooking, too, is an art.

Being spoiled grandchildren is the happiest state.

RHEUMATIC VICTIM FOR SIXTEEN YEARS

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Her Health.

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. Wet, cold weather may aggravate it but that is not the cause. Bad blood charged with uric acid is the reason. Re-build the blood and rheumatism will disappear. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich and purify the blood and that makes good health.

Mrs. John C. McPherson, St. Mary's Ont, writes:—"For sixteen years I was a victim of rheumatism. For eleven years I was unable to walk. Massage and chiropractic treatment failed. I was utterly discouraged till I heard how strongly Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended for cases like mine. I began their use and in a few weeks the pain lessened, my appetite and color improved, and now I am able to do light housework. It is wonderful what these pills have done for me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do one thing but they do it well—they enrich and purify the blood. This rich blood banishes rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia and neuritis and promotes health and strength. The Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
