

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advices The Use of "FRUIT-A-LIVES",
The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBERG
589 Casgrain St., Montreal.
April 20th, 1915.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-lives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Head-aches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and now for six months I have been entirely well. I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive." When it comes to having patience, a woman with a husband and six children can show the world the genuine thing.

What about the Belgian Children's Christmas?

This is not an appeal to give the children of our Ally the same kind of a Christmas that our own little ones expect, with Santa Claus and toys and candy. They have given up hope of that till after the war.

It is simply a call for food—for enough bread and soup to stop the pangs of hunger that hundreds of them feel every day.

The cost of a moderate size turkey—of two or three boxes of chocolates—of one of the many presents we have formed the habit of giving to those who do not need them, will feed a Belgian family a whole month!

Don't you think the money will do more good if this year you give some of it to the Belgian Relief Fund? Will it not be more pleasing to Him whose birth we celebrate? Send your contribution weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to Local or Provincial Committees, or

MR. EUSTON HACHE'S ORATION TO VOTERS OF CARAQUET SHORE

Promised in Return for Support to Secure for Then The Privilege of Shooting "De Wile Goose de Hole Year Round"—A Typical Habitant Appeal Of the Olden Days.

Many readers of the Mail have no doubt heard of the famous Caraqueet Shore oration. Many versions of it have been afloat, but as far as can be learned only one of them has ever appeared in print. Its author is supposed to have been one Euston Hache, of Caraqueet, Gloucester county, who was a candidate against the late Mr. Kennedy F. Burns, M.P., at the Federal election in 1887, but retired from the field before nomination day. The oration, which has since won him fame, is supposed to have been reported verbatim by the late Mr. Frank H. Risteen of this city. It is as follows:

Shentlemen Electair of the Caraket Shore,—Here I am today behind you, shentlemen, to tole you that I am your future repre-sen-tah-teeve for de House of Common of Ottawah. Everybody and other peep as well down de Caraket Shore talk about Mr. Born. But I want to know, shentleman, what Mr. Born done for de countree? De first ting, last of all, Mr. Born done for de countree, shentleman, was to bil de walksides from de station houses to de village at Bathurst. Was dat good for de countree, I say No.

Speel de Milk

De next ting dat Mr. Born done for de countree was to bil de Caraket rode-rail away down up to Shippegang. Dat was a good for some peep but a dam bad ting for some peep more. De first ting you see, shentleman, was tree men walk up and down de poor man's feel with a beaver hat on de head and a tree-corner stick with a spy glass on

"WORKS BOTH WAYS"

The getting of two distinct values when purchasing one article applies pretty generally in the field of merchandise these times, extending even unto liniments. While most articles of this nature are intended for external use only, a notable exception is the famous Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. Powerful enough for every requirement of outside application when needed for sprains, strains, muscular rheumatism, all aches, pains and soreness, it is, in addition, a wonderfully effective preparation for internal use in the cases of colds, coughs, sore throat, cramps, chills, etc., when necessary that its remarkable soothing and healing qualities go direct to the seat of an inward trouble. Thus, in Johnson's Anodyne Liniment you get two in one—internal and external use—the double value liniment as it is known. Over 100 years of splendid service to humanity has made Dr. Abner Johnson's prescription a household word, and present day users speak of it as "an angel in disguise."

top, and troo dat poor man's feel dey walk and dare say he Caraket roderail she will pass in spite of all. Bimeby, after dat de bulgine hes come along an blow de weesil on de smokestack an scare all de cows, and de cows dey leef deir tail and run for de fence dat was bil along de track and bus deir bags and speel deir milk al ovare de poor man's feel! You call dat good for de countree? I say no; it was no good.

Shentlemen Electair of the Caaket Shoot All de Wile Goose.

Shentleman electair of de Caraket Shore,—I tole you one ting, and dat's not all—eef you go lect Mr. Born as your repre-sen-tah-teeve for he House of Common of Ottawah—sure, sure dat will be nothing lef for you but de grace of God and de crow! But, shentleman, electair of de Caraket Shore, eef you go lect me as your repre-sen-tah-teeve for de House of Common of Ottawah, I promise you, and may I be dam eef I don't forget, dat I will spick and I will vote and I will pass de bill to shoot de wile goose on de Caraket Shore de whole year round.

Shentleman, electair of de Caraket Shore,—I am goin' to legislat for you. De bill I will bring in will make de rich man poor; de poor man he be poor too; an' what I say to you today shentleman, I say twice more, dat I am in favaire to oppose de government dat put de stumpage on de moose's tail!

Shentleman, as I tole you behind once more when you come to count de ballack-box you will fine dat Mr. Born he was turn down his toes an' de peep vote for myself me.

A Fine Breed.

Shentleman, you all know my record. De Honerbel Robert Young, president of the ex-kuteeve's counsel, which I see not here, can tell you what I am, likewise his brudder, Jack. I was a magistrate, peelah (pilot), judge of de dead (coroner) and trustee of tree schools. My fader's name was a Hache, my modder's name he was a Cormier, and don' you forget dis, min' you, shentleman of de Caraket Shore, hat dose two familiee mix up togedder like was me make a dam fine breed, I tole you.

BUSY KING EDWARD EXAMPLE OF DEVOTION

Monarch Who Found Work Interesting and Stuck to Duty Until the Last

The serious devotion of King Edward to his work is shown by a story which Lord Redesdale tells in his "Reminiscences." "One night," says his lordship, "I was dining at the club, after King Edward had come to the throne. He knew that I was in London for two or three days alone, so he sent over to ask whether I was at the club, and if so to bid me go across to him. I found him in his private sitting room, and we sat smoking and talking over old times for a couple of hours.

Work at Midnight
Towards midnight he got up and said: 'Now I must bid you good night, for I must set to work'—pointing to a huge pile of familiar red boxes. 'Surely,' I said, 'Your Majesty is not going to tackle all that work to-night.' His answer was: 'Yes, I must. Besides, it is all so interesting'; and then he gave me one of his happy smiles and I left him. So interesting. That was the frame of mind in which he faced his work—he, the man who we are expected to believe could not be brought to attend to business."

Killed With Work
It might almost be said that King Edward killed himself with work. During the closing days of his life, ill as he was, he worked with his accustomed energy at Buckingham Palace, and "on the Wednesday," to quote Lord Redesdale, "when one of the permanent heads of the Civil Service was with him, he was seized with one of those terrible choking fits of coughing. When he got better his visitor ventured to remonstrate with him, and begged him to rest, and ever to go to bed, but he ridiculed the idea and said: 'I shall not give in; I shall work to the end. Of what use is it to me if one cannot work. That was how he fulfilled his declaration to the War Council on his last day. He kept long hours, and he would work to the end of his life.'"

NEUTRALS WILL NOT BE DUPED

Geneva, via Paris, Dec. 14.—The south German press attaches great importance to the flying visit of the Emperor to Munich yesterday, where he held a council with the King and the Bavarian ministers. Both peace and military matters were discussed. The Emperor remarked on the absence of the young soldiers in the streets and visited the Princess Arnulf, whose son, a nephew of the King, was killed in Roumania. The Emperor carefully read long telegrams concerning the opinion of the Allies on the peace proposals.

The Journal de Geneve says: "Germany will make the Germans believe that the Entente Allies will be morally responsible for the continuation of the war. Perhaps the Germans will believe this, but neutrals will not be duped, anyhow not the Swiss."
