MARYSVILLE NOTES

The Bible Class of Main Street Baptist Church Shows Progress.

The A. D. S. Bible class of the Main Street Baptist Sunday School Marysville, held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Allen Thursday evening. This class was organized in May, 1915, and is composed of young men between the ages of 15 and 25. Mr. Malcolm L. Dennison is the teacher, and is very popular among the members of his class. Regular monthly meetings are held at the homes of different members of the class, which are well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

An election of officers was held recently and the following is the list for the present period of six months:

President, Emmet Lyons; vice-president, Horace R. Pettigrove; secretary, Emory S. Pettigrove; treasurer, Miles White; teacher and chairman of the visiting committee, Malcolm Dennison; chairman of membership committee, Harry Allen; chairman of social committee, John Peterson.

Women have a lot to say about model husbands—but they want the latest models.

What He Wanted to Know

Millionaire (to his daughter): "Tell me, child—that young man who wants to marry you this Christmas, has he got any money?"

Miss Innocence: "Money, father? Why, he has just given me a cluster diamond ring studded with pearls."

Millionaire: "Yes, I know. Has he any money left?"

Useless Presents

Aunt: "Yes, Johnny, Santa Claus brought you a baby brother."

Johnny: "Great Scott! Another present that ain't any use!"

Christmas Beauty

Think lovely thoughts in keeping with the spirit of the time.

The young Armenians, on Christmas day, pay "hand-kissing" visits to their elders.

Probably more young people would embark on the tempestuous sea of matrimony if parents would lift the blockade.

Cook's Cotton Root Compound.

A safe, reliable regulating medicine. Sold in three degrees of strength—No. 1, $1; No. 2, $3; No. 3, $5 per box. Sold by all druggists, or sent prepaid on receipt of price. Free pamphlet. Address: THE COOK MEDICINE CO., TORONTO, ONT. (Formerly Windsor.)

FIRST ANAESTHETIC USED

Chloroform Was Discovered in 1840—Whose Honor?

Sir James Simpson, Professor of Midwifery in the Chair of Edinburgh University, is not actually the discoverer of chloroform, was, at any rate, the first to introduce its employment as an anaesthetic into surgical practice. This was in 1848. Previously all operations were performed without anaesthetics, the patient being drugged with whisky and held down by strong men while the operation was performed. No medical discovery ever did more to alleviate human suffering.

Sir James is generally given credit for the actual discovery of chloroform, but it is stated in some works that it was discovered some years previous to his first experiments by an American doctor named Guthrie and by a French physician named Souberian. In any case, it was Dr. Simpson who proved its great value as an anaesthetic, and the room in which he made his first experiment still exists in Edinburgh. The story goes that he tried the chloroform on himself and two medical friends. They proved its efficacy by simultaneously falling beneath the table. Sir James had considerable prejudices to overcome before chloroform was adopted generally by the medical profession. It being denounced at one time as dangerous to health, morals, and religion.

Tricks of the Green Man

Those who have seen films in which a player taking two parts appears in those parts at one and the same time. In the same scene, will wonder how it is done. The player, of course, does not play both parts at once. He, or she, plays one part, and while doing so the camera operator, by one of his many tricks, keeps blank that portion of the film on which the player is photographed taking his other part. When that part in which he has played is finished the operator winds back the film to the beginning, and the unexposed blank portion is exposed for the first time, while the other part is covered. Then the player takes the other part.

Filling the Radiator

It not infrequently happens with the motorist that when an empty radiator is filled up and the car runs a short distance, the water level will be found to have fallen considerably, though no overheating has occurred and no leak exists. The reason for this is that the water requires some little time to percolate through the various restricted passages in the cooling system, and a little shaking down results in a falling of the level.
