THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

ROLL OF HONOR

Several thousand officers and employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company enlisted for active military duty with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, and the majority of them are now in Europe, bravely battling for Canada and the Empire. As particulars of Army Reservists are not available, these lists of those who have given up their lives for their country or been wounded in action are necessarily incomplete, and do not therefore indicate fully the extent to which the Company's officers and employees have participated in the great struggle.

BILLY SUNDAY SORRY O POOR OLD DEVIL

Tells Ocean Grove Audience "You
Old Hypocrites" Make Him
Carry All the Blame

Ocean Grove, N. J., Sept. 6.—"The poor, old, sweating, overworked, be-deviled devil; my heart almost goes out to him in pity because of the load of blame for your sins that a lot of you old hypocrites shove over on his shoulders every day."

So spoke the ever-amazing Billy Sunday, waving a clenched fist in the faces of the most concisely virtuous people of two States.

The people in the front rows, subscribers to the best thousand seats in the auditorium, looked up at the evangelist and exchanged glances among themselves. Billy was talking of the Jekyll and Hyde which he said fight it out in every man. Then he turned upon the modern church, modern deacons and modern church-goers.

"The church is playing too much politics. It'll have to reform. It'll have to throw its strength in for social justice and behind the under dog if it wants to survive."

"You old sinners like to blame the devil when you do something downright mean and rotten. It isn't him that's to blame. It's you. You can't keep putting it over on the devil."

Slants Of Humor

NOT HER WEDDING

Up and down the village street walked old Tompkins, dressed all in his Sunday best, and with a clean collar on.

"Hello, old fellow!" a friend hailed him. "Aren't you working today?"

"No" replied the old man proudly "I'm celebrating my golden wedding."

"Really? then you've been married 50 years."

"Yes, I have."

"Then where's Mrs. Tompkins? Isn't she celebrating too?"

"The present Mrs. Thompson," the old man coldly rebuked the idle questioner "has nothing to do with it."

IMPETUOUS SWAIN

They had been engaged 15 years, and still he had not mustered courage enough to ask her to name the happy day. One evening he called in a peculiar frame of mind, and asked her to sing something tender and touching, something that would move him. She sat down at the piano and sang "Darling I Am Growing Old."

MISUNDERSTOOD

One very cold night last winter a small boy attending a church lecture was deeply impressed by that part of the lecture which referred to good boys going to heaven and bad boys going elsewhere. On his return home he surprised his mother by saying "Mother, I don't think the Washington chauffeurs want to go to the good place. When I was coming home from church I heard one automobile driver say to another: 'I know where I am going; I am going where I can keep this old motor hot.'"

PLAYING SAFE

"Jack proposed to me last night," said the girl in blue.
"Oh, you lucky girl!" exclaimed her companion. "Of course you accepted him?"
"Indeed, I did nothing of the sort!"
"Why, Grace! I thought you liked him."
"I do but I shall never marry him."
"Why not, dear?"
"Well, you know, Jack lives at home and his mother is the best cook for miles around? I'm sure he would never be able to eat anything I prepared. The man I marry must be one who lived in a boarding house long enough so that anything outside of prunes and hash will taste good to him."

If sympathy could only be converted into cash its doughnuts to fudge that there wouldn't be so much of it handed out.
It may be better to be happy than to be rich, but very few poor men ever derived any satisfaction from that belief.
