NO MEAT AVAILABLE FOR POOR OF GERMANY

London, June 1.—That the poorer classes of Germany are being turned into compulsory vegetarians, is the statement made in a report regarding economic conditions in the Central Empires by a Central News correspondent. The report shows strong evidence of a possible failure in the supply of oils and fats, also an increasing stringency of the restriction in the use of textiles, both in the raw materials and the finished goods.

The monthly ration of sugar is barely equal to half the normal consumption, while the present stocks will be exhausted in about a month.

The correspondent points out, however, that the cry about the starving women and children, raised in order to create prejudice among neutrals against the blockade, is not justified; in fact, despite the food riots, organized labor still supports the war, and only the imminence of starvation, or the prospect of military defeat, can change this attitude.

London, June 1.—A royal proclamation issued today extends the list of articles the importation of which is prohibited, except under special conditions. The new prohibitions will become effective June 8, and include carpets, sweepers, cash registers, lawnmowers, sewing machines, stoves and ranges, wringers and mangles, toilet articles containing glycerine, metal bath tubs, beer, hops, matches, aluminum goods and leather goods, except belting, boots, shoes and gloves.

The prohibition which has been imposed on the importation of starch, farina and potato flour has been removed.

Berlin, June 1 (via wireless to Sayville).—The Vossische Zeitung says that a special meeting of the Reichstag will be held in midsummer to vote the new war loan. The funds in hand are sufficient for several months.

American Ambassador Gerard had a half hour's conversation on Tuesday with Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg. The immediate occasion for the conference was the question of Polish relief, but the Chancellor and the Ambassador also discussed topics of general interest.

Ambassador Gerard would say nothing for publication.

Germans Admit A French Success

Berlin, June 1 (via London).—In an attack on German positions southeast of Dead Man Hill, on the Verdun front, the French obtained a foothold in the German first line trenches over an extent of 400 metres, the War Office announced today.

The French made repeated assaults on the German lines, but other than at the point mentioned were beaten off with extremely heavy losses.

After everyone agrees that something should be done about something, the problem is to get somebody to do it.

PLEA FOR CLEMENCY FOR IRISH REBEL

London, June 1.—Premier Asquith in the House of Commons today moved an adjournment of parliament until June 20, which gave the members an opportunity to discuss any subject they desired to take up.

John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, said there were matters connected with the recent rebellion in Ireland such as the continuance of martial law and the arrest of peaceful citizens, of which he would like to speak. However, he recognized it was impossible for anyone to enter upon these topics without engendering an amount of heat which might be extremely injurious to the interests of Ireland.

Mr. Dillon did not take a hopeful view of the efforts now being made by David Lloyd-George, Minister of Munitions, to reconcile the various Irish factions. He said, however, that no Irishman with the slightest sense of responsibility or regard for the future would say anything that would increase the difficulties of Mr. Lloyd George in the task he had so patriotically undertaken.

Mr. Dillon asked Premier Asquith to state frankly on what principle prisoners were going to be dealt with.

At the present time, he said, there appeared to be no guiding principle. Spies of a very objectionable character were being employed in Dublin, and the treatment of prisoners was "barbarous" and worse than the treatment accorded German prisoners of war.

He appealed for magnanimity and "decent treatment."

Premier Asquith reiterated that "so far as is consistent with the vindication of the law and the prevention of a recurrence of the outbreak, the Government will treat the insurgents with leniency and clemency."

He saw no reason to depart from that guiding principle of the Government's policy. The prisoners were being released as speedily as possible, he added, and only those concerned directly or indirectly with the rising, and those whose return to Ireland might prove a source of danger, were being held. Eight hundred had already been released, he said.

CANADIANS REWARDED FOR THEIR GALLANTRY

London, June 1.—The Military Cross was awarded to Lieut. Frederick M. Inchin of the Princess Patricia's, attached to the Royal Flying Corps, for conspicuous gallantry and skill on many occasions when leading a successful bombardment and machine gun raid on a force of the enemy which he located overnight. The next day he took part in two other raids. During the operations he flew for thirteen hours over the enemy.

The Military Cross was also awarded to Lieut. George Willis, infantry, for conspicuous gallantry when with a private, he went out in search for a wounded man in front of the trenches. Under heavy machine

KAISER ASKED WILSON TO ACT AS MEDIATOR

London, June 1.—A despatch to the Daily News from Rome says:

"Prince Camporeale, Prince Von Buelow's brother-in-law, has confided to friends that the Kaiser solicited President Wilson's mediation and offered to send Von Buelow to Washington to co-operate in a peace scheme based on important 'spontaneous' concessions, possibly including the evacuation of Belgium. The premature report of Von Buelow's projected journey to America was due to some indiscretion.

One reason men do not need a fashion column is that they wouldn't read it unless it were on the sporting page.

TALK OF GERMAN SUBMARINE MERCHANT FLEET

New York, June 1.—A cable to the Sun from London says:

The feasibility of a German submarine merchant fleet is not discounted in naval circles here. On the contrary, there is believed to be no reason why it should not be attempted.

It is even suggested that Prince Von Buelow, if he desires to go on a mission to the United States, as rumored recently, may cross the Atlantic in a submarine, which would achieve a spectacular effect.

There is a report that a trans-Atlantic submarine has been built at Stettin and that it will shortly proceed on a sea voyage from Hamburg. The report is not discredited here. The estimated length of the boat is 450 feet and the craft is said to be able to remain at sea for 20 days without touching port.

Naval authorities regard this as possible, as a British submarine has gone 48 days without touching port, moving all the time.

The question as to what status such a submarine merchant fleet would have is speculative, but it is thought here that there is no reason why such boats could not be registered as merchantmen and enjoy the same privileges.

Speculation about the matter does not revolve about the probability of a submarine trans-Atlantic service, but about the question why Germany has not attempted it before.

IRISH OFFICER BEING COURTMARTIALED

Dublin, June 1.—The court martial of Bowen Calthorpe, the officer who ordered the execution of F. Sheehey Skeffington, following the Sinn Féin revolt, was opened here Tuesday. Representatives of the press are admitted to the trial.

The accused officer is an Irishman who has been at the front. F. Sheehey Skeffington was editor of the "Irish Citizen," a Nationalist paper published in Dublin, and his execution caused a strong protest on the part of his friends, who asserted that he had no connection with the Sinn Féiners, and was arrested and shot without any trial or justification.

The matter was brought before the House of Commons and Premier Asquith stated that the editor had been put to death without the knowledge of the military authorities, and that the officer concerned would be court-martialed.

chine gun and rifle fire the wounded man was found and brought in.

The Distinguished Conduct Medal was awarded to 501,281, Corporal Johnston of the Engineers, for conspicuous gallantry. He was entombed with others in a sap by the enemy's bombardment. The whole party was in imminent danger of drowning owing to the rising water. Corporal Johnston dived through thirty feet of water to another sap, reached the pump and by pumping out the water saved the whole party after being eighteen hours entombed.

INTERESTING REVIEW WORK OF DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE

Let me conclude with the stirring words of one of our own New Brunswick poets, Charles G. D. Roberts:

Awake, my country, the hour of dreams is done;

Doubt not, nor dread the greatness of thy fate.

Thou' faint souls fear the keen confronting sun.

And faint would bid the worn of splendor wait;

Thou' dreamers, wrapt in starry visions, cry,

"Lo, oyn thy future, yon thy faith, thy fame!"

And stretch vain hands to stars, thy fame is nigh,

Here in Canadian hearth, and home, and name—

This name which yet shall grow Till all the nations know

Us for a patriot people, heart and hand,

Loyal to our native earth, our own Canadian land!

AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE FOR CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent remedy for childhood ailments.

They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish colds and simple fevers and cure all minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. H. N. Eisam, Owls Head, N.S., writes:

"I always use Baby's Own Tablets for my little ones and find them an excellent medicine for childhood ailments."

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE RIGHT INSTRUMENT.

An amusing story is told about a reply that the celebrated inventor of wireless telegraphy, Signor Marconi, once made to a lady who mistook him for his equally famous compatriot, Mascagni, the composer.

"Oh," she said gushingly, "I'd love to hear you play your beautiful 'Intermezzo.'"

"Madam," replied Marconi gravely

"I'll do it with pleasure if you've got a wireless piano."

The Printing and Publicity Specialist Talks To His Son

"Say, John, I feel quite sick today," said Mr. Blank. "Please visit the different doctors in town, and find out who will cure me for the least money. Get your quotations tabulated and then let me see them. Of course we will engage the doctor who charges the least."

"Why, I never heard of such a thing," said John. "The idea of getting quotations from a doctor; it's the asylum for you."

"Well now, why not? I am a specialist in printing and publicity. I study my business just as carefully as any doctor can do. If I do say it that shouldn't, I have just as much brains as the average doctor. I strive to give my customers the benefit of my knowledge, my artistic skill and judgement and my ideas on publicity. I give service as the term is understood in the Twentieth Century."

"When some people around here have a little printing to be done, they visit all the printing offices, get quotations from each one, and then give the work to the man who gives the lowest figures."

"The ordinary user of printing knows his own business, but he is no more a judge of the work of printing than he is a judge of what sort of medicine a doctor should give him for the cure of his ailment. If people ask me for quotations and pass me by if my price happens to be a little more than the other fellow, why shouldn't I apply the same method to the doctor, lawyer, dentist and painter? Why not? It's a mighty poor rule that won't work more than one way."

You Can't Resist
Taking Them!

Talk about love laughing at locksmiths!—Why, no matter where you hide or lock away "Maple Buds" in the house, the youngsters find a way to get them. This great desire children and grown-ups have for these dainty solid chocolate pieces, is a very sincere form of flattery to us. However, we believe that we deserve it, for no expense or time is spared to make them the finest chocolate confection in the world—it is—
