OVER A MILLION DOLLARS IS BEING EXPENDED IN PROVINCE UNDER UNEMPLOYMENT PLAN

More than a million dollars is being expended in New Brunswick under the unemployment relief plan, according to figures just given out at the conclusion of a meeting of the Cabinet here.

The Provincial Government has already distributed $461,500 of its total allocation of $600,000 from the Federal Government under the plan, the figures showed.

Cities And Towns

Under the plan the cities and towns must put up another $81,000 so that they bear half the total expenditure while Province and Dominion each bear 25 per cent. of the total, which is $162,000.

The Federal Government gave $75,000 directly to the Provincial Museum at Saint John, and $60,000 to the Provincial Government as compensation for loss of revenue incurred by a reduction of the stumpage rates in New Brunswick.

With an expenditure of $715,000 in the counties, $162,000 in the towns and cities, $75,000 on the Provincial Museum and $60,000 on the reduction of stumpage the total amount being expended under the unemployment relief plan is well over $1,000,000. The Provincial Government still has $38,500 of its original allocation of $600,000 from the Federal Government to distribute under the plan.

Other Business

The following appointments were made during the meeting of the cabinet, which started on Monday and was concluded Tuesday (P. M.): G. C. Teed, Saint John, notary public; John D. Wood, Glassville, Carleton County, provincial constable; Henry Blackmore, Woodstock, Justice of the Peace of the Ingham, Saint John, Peace; W. J. Ingham, Saint John, Justice of the Peace; Alfred H. Mallin, Sussex, Justice of the Peace; Joseph H. B. Sewell, Caraquet, Commissioner for the Second Parish Court of Caraquet; H. G. Palmer, Dorchester, coroner for Westmorland county; Chester Lindsay, West Bathurst, provincial constable.

The Clark's Corner Agricultural Society, No. 24, of Canning, Queens county, was incorporated.

Premier J. B. M. Baxter said the Cabinet would meet here again next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

FIRST MEETING SCIENCE CLUB LAST EVENING

for our use, had to be made from some other form of energy, usually water-power or steam. He explained that water-power did not necessarily ensure cheap current since the cost of distribution of the energy to current to the consumer was frequently ten times the cost of producing the power.

Brief Outline

After a brief outline of the evolution of the steam engine and turbine he said that, until very recently production of electricity by steam power had been confined to the use of "good coal" which would burn freely on iron grate bars without destroying them. Too much sulphur would corrode iron grate bars and too much ash would fuse into clinkers about the bars. This would entail difficult removal and damage to the bars. Mechanical stoking devices were similarly affected by this poor coal.

Within two or three years research in combustion methods has brought out a system of burning such coal by pulverizing it and burning it in a blast of pre-heated air, thus doing away with the need for grate bars or stoking devices as well as utilizing the sulphur as an additional fuel. This is the system which is to be used in a nearby development and satisfactory experimental uses of the system are being made in this province.

Dr. Stephens explained that current could only be sold cheaply if it were used constantly and suggested, in humorous vein, that we reorganize our habits so as to divide work over the 24 hours of the day in three eight hour shifts. Since a modern Joshua is not now available this plan lies dormant for the present.

Cobb, the novelist, "the most matter of fact." Cobb's letters, Mrs. McDonald said, were about "as dry as those of a colorless business man—there was not a bit of wit to them."
