EHMKE TO TRY TO PITCH AGAIN

Philadelphia, Feb. 13—Howard Ehmke, veteran right hander of the Athletics until last year, bay upset the popular theory that "they never come back." Ehmke announced his retirement last May and as a free agent he is eligible to sign with any club desiring his services.

Ehmke, hero of the opening world series game between the Athletics and Chicago in 1929, said today his arm felt "pretty good" and that he would go to Athletics' Florida camp under his own auspices, which means that he will "pay the freight".

"I have an agreement with Mack that if I return to the game it will be with the A's," Ehmke said. "My arm feels strong and say, I can make that new ball sing a song. Those raised seams will make it easy for any pitcher."

PRESIDENT BEATTY OF THE C. P. R. DELIVERS IMPORTANT SPEECH; FARM LOAN SUGGESTIONS

Winnipeg, Feb. 16—Proposals in connection with the organization and operation of the Dominion Government's $5,000,000 revolving loan fund to aid Western Canada farmers, were outlined here tonight by E. W. Beatty, K. C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Beatty was the first such a type as to make one of the facilities of the company with advantage. I believe the plan to be found in principle and well warranted in fact. It is not intended or expected to work miracles but it is designed to improve conditions under which farm operations are carried on in those districts where its credits can be properly used. I know it will carry with it the best wishes of not only you gentlemen of the Winnipeg Board of Trade, but of all others who are concerned for and have confidence in the future of the prairies. If time permitted I would like to have spoken for a few moments of the part the Canadian Pacific has placed in colonization and settlement in Western Canada and in particular, of the more recent work of its subsidiary, the Canadian Colonization Company and of the Colonization Finance Corporation.

It will be sufficient perhaps if I told you that since the Canada Colonization Co. came under the control of the railway Company, it has settled 4,107 families on 936,934 acres of land, the purchase price of which was $35,115,202. You will be glad to know that of these settlers 88 per cent have succeeded or are in the process of succeeding with greater or less supervision still required.

E. W. BEATTY, K.C.
President of the C. P. R.

proponent of the idea definitely announced by Premier R. B. Bennett at Regina, December 30.

The railway head offered two major suggestions for officials names to handle the fund which has been placed in the hands of the newly-chartered Dominion Agricultural Credit Corporation. No burden of handling charges should be imposed on the farmers, he thought, and the safety of the investment must be assured.

Earning Stability

"The policy must be operated in such a way," he said, "so as not to impose a burden on the farmer in the matter of handling charges, interest, etc., but rather to provide him with a great stability in earning power at the very minimum of cost. It must also insure the safety of the investment so that the capital of the loan corporation is not impaired."

He reiterated his belief, first declared at London Ont., last October, that the plan would "improve conditions under which farm operations are carried on in those districts where its credits can be properly used."

"Minnesota Plan"

In some particulars, Mr. Beatty thought, the credit body should function similarly to administrators of the "Minnesota Plan." He thought it "might be advisable" to adopt the United States minimum and maximum loan clause. This would set loans at $200 and $1,000. "However," he added, "I would not favor the granting of the maximum amount except under special circumstances."

Length of time for which the loans are made also might be adopted from the "Minnesota Plan," the C. P. R. president said. Under this three-year repayment plan, the farmer would pay back 30 per cent of his loan after the first year, 30 per cent after the second and the balance after the third year.

Plan Outlined

In the course of his remarks Mr. Beatty said: With all this theory and principle in the background; we have caused to be incorporated the Dominion Agricultural Credit Corporation. Its capital is five million dollars, and it will be subscribed by the railways, banks, trust, mortgage and loan companies and large corporations which have extensive business interests in Western Canada. Its board of directors will be thoroughly representative business and agricultural leaders and its operations will be conducted in the west through directors and officers located here. The work of formation of the company can now proceed, as soon as the requisite subscriptions are received, as the charter has been issued within the past few days. I am very confident that in the hands of able and experienced men it will be operated without loss to its owners, and with great benefit to those farmers who are so situated and themselves of

TRIBUTE PAID TO THE LATE JOSEPH WALKER

I drink it anew with you in my father's kingdom." A mixed male quartet sang beautifully. Members of the Kirk session to which the deceased belonged, formed the pall bearers. The service was under the auspices of Hiram Lodge, F. & A. M. and during the service the Masons deposited their scroll.

The pall bearers were as follows: William Burns, J. V. Harshaw, H. S. Campbell, R. A. McMillan, Prof. A. F. Baird, Bedford Green. The mourners were: H. J. Walker, William Walker, W. B. Hicks, Laurie Walker, William Redpath, Karl Walker, George Walker, Herbert Gorman, Osgoode Worthen, Jack Cuming, Leonard Gregg, and Mayor Clark and members of the Civic Corporation.

Rev. Mr. Telford referred to the late Mr. Walker as having come to the city many years ago, and built up a successful business, becoming one of the city's most esteemed citizens. He paid tribute of respect to the deceased as "a father, a citizen and church man." The service was at 2:30 this afternoon and interment was made in the Rural Cemetery.

DEFENDS READING WHILE IN BED

Chicago, Illinois, Feb. 17—Like to read in bed?

If you do, there's no harm in it, all reports to the contrary. Providing of course, your mattress posture is correct.

You can take all that on the word of Dr. Charles Sheard of the Mayo Foundation for medical education and research at Rochester, Minn.

Dr. Sheard was here as the chief speaker for the twenty-third annual convention of the Illinois Society of Optometrists.

"Sometimes I take a good mystery novel to bed as early as 7 o'clock," he said, "and keep on reading until 1 o'clock in the morning. It provides great relaxation for both the mind and the body. There's no need to give it up if you like it."

What is the correct posture?

Dr. Sheard describes it as having a comfortable pillow to raise the head with the light coming over the left shoulder.

Attended The Show

Conductor Robert Henry, of the C. N. R., has returned from a brief holiday trip to Boston. While there he attended the Sportsmen's Show and was greatly taken by the magnitude of the New Brunswick exhibit. He said that the show has given the recreational attractions of the province a lot of most desirable publicity.

The postponed January thaw arrived on Saturday.

Obsession—a haunting idea that sticks in the mind like a burr to a wool shirt.

LOCAL HOCKEY FANS ON WAY TO BATHURST

Play-By-Play

The game tonight will be broadcast through Station CFNB, according to present plans, and the hundreds of fans here who couldn't make the trip, will hear the play-by-play account of their team's progress in the opening game against the Papermakers. It is expected that Dr. Dakin will do the announcing, the reception coming from long distance telephone and thrown on the radio apparatus here with tenfold volume.

The team tonight will be in charge of Coach Archie Williams, and the three regular forward players, McArthur, Beaton and Gammon are in fine fettle for the game. Steen, Cole, and Chalmers, will form the second line offensive. Ev Chalmers, a student at McGill University, will make the journey from Quebec and be ready to tonight's game. Captain Harry Bartlett, and Walter Ferguson will be ready for defense, and "Skeet" Kuhn will be between the posts. "Si" Keenan accompanied the team, but it was thought unlikely that the fast local boy will be used in the opening battle. Total points in the two games, decides the winner.

The full dinner pail has become less important in many quarters than the full gasoline tank.
