Jesse James, for whom a monument was proposed, had his artistic side. Life for every child born in Britain to you will recall that he was straightened day is approximately twelve years long a picture on the parlor wall when longer than that of its grandfather. he was shot.

We read that "the expectation of life for every child born in Britain to you will recall that he was straightened day is approximately twelve years long a picture on the parlor wall when longer than that of its grandfather. he was shot."

Well, that seems reasonable.

VETS CLAIM THAT THE PENSION MACHINERY IS NOT BEING OPERATED AS IT SHOULD BE

Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept 1—Charges that pensions machinery was not being operated in the spirit of the Pensions Act and that widespread dissatisfactions existed with the operation of part of the Act were contained in resolutions adopted today by the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion.

The large number of appeals from the Pensions Tribunal to the Appeal Court were considered by the convention, and a resolution passed by the Legion declared there was considerable dissatisfaction with the operation of the Tribunal.

In its session today, the Canadian Legion considered numerous problems affecting war veterans, including pensions administration and hospital treatment.

Regarding Appeals

A resolution regarding the investigation into appeals from tribunal decisions read as follows:

"Be it resolved that the Dominion Executive Council be advised that there is widespread dissatisfaction with the operation of this particular part of the Act, and that in the opinion of this Convention the pensions machinery is not being operated in the spirit of the Act.

"And further, that the Dominion Council take the opinion of legal counsel and ascertain if the interpretation of the clause respecting 'benefit of the doubt' as applied by the Appeal Court, is in accordance with the intention of Parliament as evidenced by the discussion when the legislation was introduced, and, if not, that steps be taken to have this provision clarified to conform with the intention of Parliament."

Free Hospitalization

The question of free hospitalization of non-pensioners, at present not available under the regulations, was made the subject of a resolution, which was passed.

Another resolution urged that following the death of a pensioner receiving over 80 per cent pension, the 10 year limitation on pension to widows be removed, in cases where the family is without other resources.

Another resolution asked that Departmental relief, such as is now granted to pensioners, be extended so as to include those whose cases are favorably considered by the Pension Tribunal, pending appeal which might be made by Commission counsel. Still another proposal, which carried, recommends that pensioners confined to hospital for one month or longer, shall, on discharge, be entitled to one month's pay and allowances to enable them to complete convalescence.

General Resolutions

General resolutions which were passed by the convention had reference to prosecution of those wrongfully claiming the right to wear the V. C. and other decorations, the burial of war veterans who die in indigent circumstances and the placing of headstones on the graves of soldiers whose relatives are unable to provide them.

The recent ruling of the Pensions Appeal Court on the question of appeals against pension assessment, by which it was declared the Tribunals had no power to adjudicate on questions of assessment, came in for discussion. A resolution was endorsed asking the Dominion Executive Council to examine the nature of the provisions covering this question in other countries, and from the information so obtained, "make such recommendations as may seem necessary to secure provision for the hearing of assessment appeals."

The convention also suggested provision be made for Pension Advocates to assist former members of the Canadian Forces at points in the United States where there is a considerable concentration of Canadian war veterans.

President Heard

Urging the members of the Legion to deal with matters of pensions legislation in a sane and serious manner, befitting the dignity of the organization, Major J. S. Roper, Dominion president, delivered his presidential message at this forenoon's session.

The two burning questions before the convention, those of unity and sweepstakes, were fully discussed by President Roper. After reviewing the circumstances leading up to the negotiations for unity with the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Major Roper said:

"I am a strong supporter of the complete unity of all ex-Service men and women in Canada, and whilst supporting the proposals made for unity, I take this opportunity of saying that, as far as the Legion is concerned, the door is still open and I express the earnest hope that during our two present conventions, further steps might be taken which will make the accomplishment of true unity not only a possibility but a reality."

The Sweepstakes

Major Roper's statement on the question of sweepstakes also revealed negotiations which had been carried on between the Legion and the Army and Navy Veterans' Association, as a result of which a check for $57,000 had been received by the Legion from the sister body. This money, however, had been placed in security in the bank of Ottawa and has not been touched nor could it be touched except by the decision of the convention.

Pointing out that sweepstakes could not be legally operated, and that a decision in favor of them meant an effort to secure legislation to legalize them, the President asked for the most careful thought of the convention on this important question.

CITY COUNCIL APPROVE PLANS FOR RELIEF WORK

started right away, according to the engineer's report, and carried on for a few months at least. On motion of Ald. Moses Mitchell, seconded by Ald. David McCaughey the report of the engineer was adopted.

The report, considerably more detailed will be presented within the next few days to the provincial government in accordance with the request that such a program be handed into the government by the city.

Pleased With Roads

John Sheehan and Henry Stevens of Greenfield, Mass., are among the visitors to the city. Mr. Stevens is staying at the Barker House and Mr. Sheehan is the guest of his friend, Sheriff Hawthorne. Yesterday afternoon they accompanied the sheriff on a motor drive to Doaktown, which they greatly enjoyed. The highway from covered Bridge northward attracted their attention and they pronounced it one of the best dirt roads they had ever seen.

School Reopening

The public schools of the city will reopen next week and in the meantime the office of Secretary Hanson in the High School building promises to be a busy place as already applicants for permits are pouring in. The influx of pupils is expected to be large and the trustee board is providing extra accommodation for them. The Provincial Normal School also reopens next week in the splendid new building and there will be the full quota of students.

Rock Fell On Head

Clarence Marks, 16, employed on the construction of the new nurses' Home at the head of the city, was badly cut this morning, when a piece of rock fell on his head, inflicting quite a gash. Several stitches were necessary to close the wound. This afternoon young Marks is resting as well as can be expected.

Broken Arm

Ralph Brown, aged 15, son of Ald. George Brown, suffered a broken arm yesterday when he fell while playing ball with some other youths. Young Brown was taken to the Victoria Public Hospital where an X-ray was taken, and the injured member set. He was then taken to his home. Today he is resting much easier.

The appeal division of the Supreme Court opens in the city on Tuesday of next week.

LIGHTS TO HASTEN STAR'S RECOVERY

New York, Aug. 31—The flood lights under which Eva Le Gallienne earned national fame as an actress are to be used to hasten her recovery from the severe burns she suffered in an explosion at her summer home in Norwalk, Conn.

This form of treatment for burns is of recent development. Its advantages are relative painlessness and a marked reduction in the disfigurement due to scar formation.

The injured skin reacts favorably to the stimulating effect of the light. Where, as in the case of Miss Le Gallienne, the burn is not too deep, exposure of the affected area to light causes fairly rapid growth of new skin. This obviates the need for the difficult, painful and trying operation of skin grafting, in which minute bits of skin are shaved from other portions of the body, the thigh for example, and are implanted on the burned area.

The actinic treatment of burns is relatively new and is a by-product of the recently developed science of heliotherapy, the use of light from natural and artificial sources in the treatment of disease. Properly administered, it is, in the opinion of experts, "the very best treatment for any kind of burn."

Gyro Convention

Many Gyros from this city attended the opening of the annual District Six Gyro Convention held in the Admiral Beatty Hotel in Saint John last evening. A feature of the evening was the novel welcome given by Alder R. Clark, son of Mayor and Mrs. W. R. Clark, son of Mayor and Mrs. W. G. Sherman Dearborn, who burst through large gilded boxes at either end of the head table, surprising and welcoming the 200 guests. Included in those from this city were: C. R. Hawkins and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hedley G. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blair, Mr. and Mrs. G. Leslie Mavor, Leo Cain, Kenneth Staples, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Mavor, Donald Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Terry, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Walker, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Wright, Stanley Douglass, Jr., and Thomas Boyd.
