THE NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL
PLEDGES SERVICE TO CANADA IN
ADDRESS AT HALIFAX, N. S.Health, Proposed by Premier Bennett—Hopes
Health, Proposed by Premier Bennett—Hopes
Period of Economic Stress Will Soon Go.

Halifax, N. S., April 5—"If my experience in business is of any use to any Canadian, let me tell you that I am at your service." This was the practical pledge voiced Saturday afternoon by Vere Brabazon Ponsonby, Earl of Bessborough and Governor-General of Canada, at the first state event he attended as the representative of the sovereignty in this Dominion.

Coming just after he had been sworn in and had taken the oaths of allegiance and office, it rounded out the program of service that lies before the fourteenth noble to assume the vice-regal title in Canada. The Governor-General was speaking in response to a toast proposed to himself by the Prime Minister the Right Honorable R. B. Bennett, who had dealt on the British tradition of unquestionable service in the outposts of the Empire, at the formal luncheon which preceded the departure of the entourage at 4 o'clock.

The Landing

At 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Earl and Countess of Bessborough, with their children landed on Canadian soil. An hour later after a reception at the pier and a procession through the history-colored streets of this city, the Earl was sworn in.

The ceremony took place in the Council Chamber of Province House, birthplace of responsible government of British America, and was attended by all the military and civil pageantry that marks the signpost of British tradition.

The proclamation was read by the Hon. E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Administrator, and the oaths were repeated for the Earl's acceptance by Mr. Justice T. Rinfret, acting as senior puisne judge of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Earl Bessborough landed on a grey day. A curtain of rain was falling over Halifax as he came ashore from the Duchess of Bedford and rode up South and Barrington streets to the Province House. Crowds lined the streets of this city as the procession, escorted by the brass-helmeted stalwarts of the Royal Dragoons, passed northward to the proclamation.

Maritime Touch

It was a day to be recorded in the annals of Maritime Canada in more ways than one. Not only was the landing made at a Nova Scotia port, but the three men who went on board the ship to pay the respects of the Canadian Dominion were all natives of the Eastern Provinces, nurtured on the soil washed by the North Atlantic. Premier Bennett was born at Hope-well Cape, New Brunswick, Hon. Mr. Justice Newcombe is a native of Cornwallis, N. S. Hon. C. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, comes from Hebron, Yarmouth County.

"Circumstances have made it possible for me to propose to you here the health of the Earl of Bessborough," said Premier Bennett speaking at a luncheon that followed the installation proceedings, a moment before the assembly had drunk the health of the Sovereign represented in this country by the Earl. Members of the Federal and Provincial Parliaments, of the City Administration, the Judiciary and the Church were present.

Well Qualified

"It is a great pleasure and happiness for us to honor him," the Prime Minister continued, "Let me make reference to particular qualifications possessed by the Earl of Bessborough. He has been trained in many walks of life. He was for some years a member of the House of Commons, and knows what elections mean. He has been 10 years in the House of Lords, that other branch of the Mother of Parliaments and has know what it is to legislate without responsibility."

The Earl joined in the laughter that greeted this sally.

"He has been trained in business in the greatest of commercial centres, London, the Prime Minister continued, "and in South Africa through his experience with Canadians he knows that we accept nothing less than one hundred cents on the dollar."

"And he has been in service for Britain and the Empire in many fields of military endeavor," said Mr. Bennett. "We rightly regard ourselves as fortunate in having installed a Governor-General with this multitude of qualifications. And the Earl of Bessborough has an augmented claim on our hearts and emotions by reason of her Excellency's race."

"Britain has sent servants to all parts of the world. They have gone not for any personal gain, but in answer to the urge that commends them to better the Empire. That is a distinguished characteristic of the Motherland. Go down to Victoria station in London: See a mother sending her son off to India, or the Cape, or Australia, or Canada, and you will understand."

"So when the call came, the Bessboroughs, gladly accepted, not because of honor, but because of that ancient tradition. In this new land they will meet a welcome that is real and earnest. With them we will join in making a greater Canada and perpetuating the coming Empire."

The Luncheon was marked by a distinctly festive air, and the approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Bennett to Major W. D. Herridge, Minister-designate to Washington, came in for considerable recognition.

At one point in the luncheon the band played "Here comes the Bride," his Excellency the Gov. General remarked regretfully in responding to the toast that when he had heard of the engagement of Miss Bennett in mid-Atlantic he had deplored the fact that he would be without he distinguished services of Miss Bennett in making contacts for Canada. During the luncheon however, she had assured him that she would remain in Ottawa several months after the event.

"I need hardly tell you how I have been moved by the reception to myself and my wife," said the Governor-General. "You will not expect me to give full expression to the emotions the last few hours have aroused. The ceremony of installation itself was overwhelming. That has been enriched by natural feelings of gratitude for the friendliness received on every hand. I understand that Governor-Generals are accorded many opportunities of being heard in the course of the year, and so it is quite probable that you will hear my voice raised on several future occasions. I hope, sincerely, that it will not interfere with the more personal contact of conversation. On this occasion, I wish, with your permission, to make just two purely personal observations:

"First I hope the present period of economic depression may soon end, particularly insofar as Canada is concerned. If my experience in business to which the Prime Minister referred in flattering terms, is of any use to any Canadian, let me tell you I am at your service."

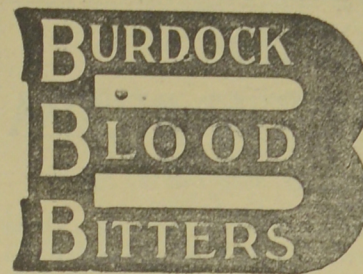

Next, I want to congratulate the Hon. Mr. Bennett on the interesting event which is about to take place in his family. Here the Governor-General referred to Miss Bennett's approaching marriage. "I see in this a bright omen for our success; brighter, than that augured by the North Atlantic weather we encountered this morning."

Immediately after the luncheon the Vice-Regal party boarded their special train, after taking a last Royal salute from the Royal Canadian Regiment. The band of the 22nd, Regiment played "God Save the King," and the people of Halifax, raised a mighty cheer as the train pulled out for Ottawa.

Weather Man Kind

Easter Sunday in this city was marked by beautiful weather and many people took advantage of the opportunity to take some exercise. There was also a good turnout of autoists, some of whom made short trips into the country. The display of Easter finery was as elaborate as in former seasons.

Humiliated Her

Miss Frances Lodge, R. R. No. 8, Dunnville, Ont., writes:—"I used to feel very humiliated whenever I would go to town, on account of the breaking out of pimples on my face, caused from impure blood. Now all that has vanished and I have not been bothered since I took part of a bottle of your wonderful medicine Burdock Blood Bitters."

RIVER AT ITS
LOWEST FRESHET
LEVEL IN YEARS

expected here today or tomorrow with its first cargo this year. The ship is expected to make its regular triweekly trips from now out.

The opening of the river this year is the earliest since 1925, when it ran out on April 1st. This year the rate was April 3rd. The general average is about three weeks later this.

The river height during the freshet this year is about four feet lower than the average. On Saturday the river reached its highest, measuring 12 feet, 2 inches. It has fallen a foot and a half since that time, and is still falling rapidly. The jam at Oromocto caused the rise in the water.

The jam which was holding the ice up at Long's Creek yesterday, broke early yesterday and emitted large cakes of ice down the river. The jam did not cause any damage.
