THE CENSUS RETURNS

Complete census returns for the Maritime Provinces, recently given out at Ottawa, show a total population for these provinces of 1,008,322, against 1,000,328 in 1921, an increase of only 8,294. The population of Nova Scotia declined by 11,810, that of Prince Edward Island by 575, while New Brunswick had an increase of 20,379. The increase in this province while something like ten thousand less than in the previous decade, is very gratifying considering the showing made by the two other Maritime Provinces. The total population of New Brunswick is now 408,255, against 387,876 as shown by the 1921 census. This is a little better than five per cent which shows that the province did not hold its natural increase.

As pointed out in these columns on Saturday the increase in New Brunswick is practically confined to the northern section of the province. The returns have been compiled, not by counties, but by Federal electoral districts, and the figures show that Restigouche-Madawaska led the ten constituencies with an increase of 11,480 souls. Westmorland was second with an increase of 3,942, and Gloucester third with 3,246. Other constituencies to show an increase were Carleton-Victoria, 1805; York-Sunbury 1037, and Northumberland 158. The constituencies to show declines were Royal 630, Saint John-Albert 436, Kent 413, and Charlotte 71. It will be seen from these figures that there was an increase in six constituencies and a decline in four, including the double constituency of Saint John-Albert.

While the Maritime Provinces practically stood still during the past decade it is noticed by further returns issued at Ottawa that Ontario added 492,826, to its population, which is almost equal to the combined population of the Provinces of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. Until the Quebec returns are compiled the unit of representation in the next Parliament will not be known, but it looks as if Ontario will have a stronger representation while that from the Maritime Provinces will be reduced.

The indications are that the National Service Loan, which is being offered to the public, will be oversubscribed. The amount called for is $150,000,000 and the bonds, which will be repayable in five or ten years, will bear interest at the rate of five per cent. Government bonds are a high class investment and the rate of interest is attractive. "Let your Dollars Serve Canada," is the slogan for the new loan and it is a most apt one. Applications for bonds made through the Bank of Montreal here will receive prompt attention.

The recount for the Gloucester by-election, which was engineered by the ex-Postmaster General, seems to have been a case of the mountain laboring and bringing forth a mouse. Dr. Coffyn, the government candidate had a majority of 93, at the polls, but Judge McLatchey, who conducted the recount, increased it to 94.

HALIFAX WOMAN FINDS RELIEF

Now Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Halifax, N. S.—"I am passing through the critical period of my life and there is nothing to equal Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all the ills that come at this time. I was dragging around the house, no energy, every nerve in my body on edge at the least confusion, so that at times I almost wished I was dead. My appetite was no good, I was dull and listless, in fact, I thought I had some dreadful disease. I took three bottles of the Vegetable Compound and it is truly wonderful. That terrible drowsiness and hot flashes have disappeared. I can do my work now without that good-for-nothing feeling. Mothers who have raised families should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I am sure they will be loud in their praise of it."—MRS. MARY JOHNSTON, 927 Barrington St., Halifax, Nova Scotia.
