BRITISH BEATEN

Scioto Country Club, Columbus, Ohio, June 28—Walter Hagen's squad of professional golf sharpshooters defeated the gallant British forces yesterday and restored the Ryder Cup to United States custody for the next two years.

Under a scorching sun whose rays only partially were offset by a fresh breeze, the United States team blazed the way to victory in six of the eight singles matches and captured the series by the final score of 9 to 3.

Pa Stribling has bought $25,000 worth of tickets for his offspring's fight with Mr. Schmeling, expecting to resell them. Showing what an optimist Pa Stribling is.

A REPORTER WAS THE GUEST OF GANGSTERS

New York, June 28—A young newspaper man had an experience recently which, though it happened in one of the most staid and respectable hotels in the city was none the less thrilling. He was going along a corridor looking for a room in which were a number of friends and hearing voices, he knocked on a door. "Come in," said a voice and he entered. In the room were half a dozen well dressed young men, drinking beer. Along the walls were six sawed off shot-guns and on the dresser, what looked like an arsenal of lighter artillery, such as 45 automatics.

Naturally, the young man would have backed out hurriedly but the one who had invited him in would have none of that. He wasn't intruding at all, he was informed, in fact he was quite welcome. "Have a bottle of beer," said the host affably. "We brought plenty with us—don't dare drink the stuff sold here." The invitation was accepted and in the course of time, it developed that the company consisted of Chicago gangsters who had come here to adjust some sort of a dispute between rival gangs. They had accomplished that without any undue happenings and were celebrating while waiting the return trip. The intruder, gathering his wits together, thanked his hosts for the beer and retired more or less gracefully. But it took him quite a while to get his finger on the elevator button.

BUYS RING AND HURRIES BACK TO HIS WORK

(New York Sun)

Lovers do not require a secluded country lane any more. Fifth avenue will do.

The other day The Sun's Rays reporter, seated on top of a bus near the Plaza, saw a young couple emerge from a jewelry store. The girl was gazing smilingly at a solitaire on the right finger of her left hand. As they reached the sidewalk the youth, his face beaming, threw his arms around her, gave her a hug and several kisses, and then both walked off in opposite directions.

O. Henry could have written a masterful story about that little episode. The reporter figured out that the youth probably spent his entire luncheon hour selecting the ring and had to hurry back to the office without collecting his full quota of embraces for such an event.

$100,000 GOES TO TRAIN TEXTILE RESEARCH MEN

Washington, D. C., June 29—Several bright young men and women will get college credits for knowing their percales, gingham, plaids, tweeds and serges.

The Textiles Foundation decided to give $100,000 to establish college fellowships for training students in textile research. The money will cover a two-year period.

ZOOLOGICAL TRADE BY TWO MENAGERIES

Pueblo, Colorado, June 29—A zoological exchange netted the Pueblo Mineral Palace Menagerie a family of five monkeys. The parks and highway commissioner "swapped" two deer for the monkeys from a Philadelphia zoological firm.

Another thing that makes the mountains appealing is the knowledge that you look like thunder in a bathing suit.

Grade VI—Winnifred Clark 1st; Austin Gregory, Ardeth Robertson 2nd.

Grade V—June Sansom, Marion Tapley 1st; Edith Currie 2nd.

TOWN WILL BURY GERMAN GUN RELIC

Shirebrook, England, June 29—The Shirebrook council has solved the problem of what to do with the German gun presented to the town after the war. Nobody would take it, even as a gift, and the council, to get rid of it, voted to bury the rusted war piece.

FLIER'S SON AT 10 RATED GOOD IN THE AIR

St. Louis, June 29—Jimmy Doolittle Jr., flier's son, 10 years old, rates solo, in the opinion of his dad, meaning that he can take a plane up all alone. He has flown with dad at the dual controls but doing little or nothing.

It's queer about a boy being willing to spent a week and risk his neck stringing an 80 foot aerial over a roof, and then being too tired to put up 15 feet of clothes-line in a backyard.

Boston dentist lost and recovered a wallet containing $81,000. And here we had supposed that nobody but newspaper men habitually carried so much loose change.

Empire State Building, 1250 feet high and 85 stories to the base of the airship mast, represents an investment of fifty-five million dollars, the world's record in office-building construction.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

THERE'S no question about the superiority of the record-makers. Whether it be the height of an office building towering to the clouds, or the popularity of a mild and fragrant cigarette like Turret, the record speaks for itself.

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the quality is "inbred".
