CANADA'S BIRTHDAY

The Dominion of Canada will be sixty-four years old tomorrow and in many cities, towns and villages, honor will be paid to the Fathers of Confederation by whose foresight and through whose courage this Canada of our came into being. Confederation found Canada a conglomeration of disunited Provinces. Jealous of each other, distraught by internal discord and hampered by pessimism and lack of vision. Like a magic wand, the instrument of Confederation transmuted the provinces into a Commonwealth of vast extent with a potentiality of natural resources, which, even today, we are unable to measure. Dominion Day therefore is a double day festival; a day of proud recollection and a holiday whose joys are increased by our hopes for the future.

Canada has passed through many dark days and has weathered many terrifying storms since Confederation. She has had difficulties never suspected sixty years ago to confront and master, and problems that would have daunted a less sturdy people. The Dominion has stood the test well. She has emerged from the fires of her testing with increased moral strength and by a resilience which has been a great asset.

Canada along with other nations is now suffering from a period of depression but things are not so bad they might be a great deal worse. Canada has experienced hard times before but it recovered from them and it will do so on this occasion. Courage and confidence in the future are what is needed. There is no doubt that when prosperity returns Canada with its great resources and sturdy people will be the first to recover.

THE ST. JOHN VERDICT

The recently organized provincial government was given a hearty endorsement yesterday by the electors of Saint John County, when they returned Coun. Robert McAllister to the vacant seat in the Legislature, caused by the election of Hon. J. B. M. Baxter to the bench, by an overwhelming majority. It was not expected by friends of the government that Coun. McAllister would take as large a majority as was rolled up for Messrs Baxter and Smith a year ago, but he came mighty near doing so, notwithstanding the fact that he had a very formidable opponent. Mr. McAllister actually polled 3018 votes against 1602 for his opponent, a majority of 1416. Even though the opposition can take the comfort that goes with a moral victory Mr. McAllister's majority is quite large enough for all practical purposes.

The vote in Saint John county may be taken as a mandate to Premier Richards and his colleagues to carry on along the lines as did the Baxter administration and if they live up to its splendid record they will have nothing to fear from the great body of the electorate when next they seek a renewal of public confidence.

SCHOOL'S OVER

The school year ends.

Vacation time starts.

Without wishing to be old killjoys, we want to say a word to young boys and girls just starting in to have a glorious summer. Don't take too many chances.

During the school year, you are in the schoolroom much of the day. During the summer you are usually free to roam and play—and get into all sorts of trouble, not because you are troublesome, but because troubles thrust themselves upon us.

Think of all the children who have been happy one minute and killed by an automobile the next, or, what is worse, crippled for life. Think of all the children who, while having a fine time, have fallen into ponds and rivers and the ocean and were mind. Perhaps the earth is a soup-drowned. Think of all the boys and girls who, while playing, have injured themselves seriously. Think of all those who have scratched or bruised themselves and by neglecting to tell mother immediately have had blood poisoning.

We feel very mean talking about such things at a happy time like this but we would feel much meaner, if we had neglected to do so and one of our many young friends suffered because of our neglect.

Let the children roam and romp and play and swim, but let them use their brains as well as their arms and legs.

Seville, Spain, June 30—The wine drinkers of Seville have walked out of the wine shops on strike. They declared an indefinite moratorium on the grounds that the wine offered in cafes is not of good quality, costs too much and that the wineries do not commence to fill the glasses.

Someone has invented a mechanical dishwasher which is said to be 98 per cent. perfect, and is advertised as a great boon to the housewife. A young man recently married, is usually about 99 per cent. perfect, but he depreciates rapidly and soon gets out of order.

Oxford University which is troubled by the problems of co-education, asks the question, "Can men study with girls around?" At any rate they can and do study the girls. And, as the poet might have said, "The greatest study of mankind is girls."

It is to be hoped that the Mayor of Los Angeles, who walked out on his French hosts, when they proposed a toast because he couldn't stand "such law-breaking," will not be too much shocked when he sees how the California traffic laws are flouted in Paris.

A psychologist at Ann Arbor, analyzing automobile accidents, found that the dangerous age for street crossing begins at 45. The danger is considerably lessened if automobile brakes, as some happen to be, are younger than that.

New York who played golf continuously for twenty one and a quarter hours says he quit because of foot trouble after walking seventy miles. His voice was presumably still in good condition.

Happy is the bride that the sun shines on.

Its the little things that count a cigarette stick is said to have caused the ten million dollar fire at St John.

We wonder if the luck of those fellows who are attempting to fly around the world in nine days will hold out.

What seems to be a minor temptations may have a forty-horsepower drag.

It is no easy matter to take a broadminded view of the other fellow's narrow opinion.

Anyway nobody is going to tell the farmer he will have to take a ten per cent cut in wages.

Trotsky sees the failure of Stalin's five year plan. Exile never made an optimist of any man.

Longevity without activity is of no value except to those who find happiness in watching the parade go by.

Finances attitude toward Texas Guinan's consignment of pulchritude was to return the package unopened.

Noting one of Sam Hill's animadversions on the subject, you can't learn much about love by referring to the dictionary.

So the earth is "a huge disc with an upturned edge," as observed by the Alpine balloonists. Another vagrant thought crowds itself into the mind. Perhaps the earth is a soup-dish, with all of us in it.

BANDITS DRIVE RESIDENTS FROM THEIR HOMES

Peiping, June 30—Thousands of Mongol refugees are pouring from outer Mongolia into inner Mongolia, leaving most of their flocks and herds behind them, according to a traveller just returned from that region.

The outer Mongolian government is rapidly breaking down, the traveller stated, and Mongols are suffering the same fate as Chinese farmers and business men, who are fleeing for their lives. Mongol bandits are robbing both Mongol and Chinese residents, and the government seems unable to protect them.

SHOCKPROOF ACTRESS NAMED AS CENSOR

Chicago, June 29—Chicago's Board of Motion Picture Censors has a new red-haired member who believes she will be hard to shock." Mayor Cermak appointed her to the board of seven and she is the only member who has had stage experience.

She is Frances James, former actress. Though she considers herself a "funny" person for a censor, she added today, "Really, I think I'll be awfully good for the board—I don't believe many things would shock me, if any, but my intelligence might be insulted."

She is opposed to "adult only" picture permits. She thinks the manner of a movie kiss and its length should be the measuring stick.
