NEW PREMIER PRAISED

The Montreal Daily Star, which is Canada's leading newspaper and independent in politics, has this to say concerning Hon. C. D. Richards the New Premier of New Brunswick:

"The Conservative party in New Brunswick is fortunate in being able to turn to so competent a man as the Hon. Charles D. Richards to succeed Premier Baxter, elevated to the Bench. Mr. Richards's political career has been one of exceptionally speedy progress. He was elected to the Provincial legislature in 1920 and within one year he had become leader of the Conservative Opposition upon the appointment of Mr. Baxter to the Federal Ministry of Customs. He had been an ardent campaigner before then, but Mr. Baxter was not long in discovering his administrative ability.

"When the latter returned to lead the Conservatives to victory in New Brunswick, Mr. Richards retired gracefully in favour of the older and more experienced man, who had given him his first taste of political power, thereby showing tact and good judgment. He became Premier Baxter's chief lieutenant as Minister of Lands and Mines, in which post he has accomplished much progressive and important work. Essentially a self-made man, and still in the prime of life—he was born in 1879—Mr. Richards worked his way through college, alternating study at the University of New Brunswick with labour on his uncle's farm. He set before him a definite goal, and pursued it successfully, and his brilliant progress in the legal profession stamped him as one of the outstanding figures in the Maritimes.

"Mr. Richards enters upon his high office with the good wishes of a host of friends and admirers, who have confidence that he will prove worthy of the trust imposed in him by his party and his province."

Ottawa, Journal (Cons.): Now comes word that the big British firm of Baldwin and Patons, woolen producers are launching a $750,000 factory near Toronto, with new employment provided for between 400 and 500 persons. Low tariffists may talk all the theories they please, but the fact remains that adequate tariffs do bring factories to this country, and who can argue against their benefits? Surely the reality of work and wages for hundreds and thousands of Canadians, with all that this means in the provision of purchasing power and a home market, is worth more than the fiscal theories of a lot of tariff doctrinaires.

A biographic sketch of Hon. C. D. Richards, the new premier, states that he voted for Judge Crockett when he contested York in 1911. It is recalled that Hon. Mr. Richards was also active in a provincial by election in York in 1914. The candidates were Percy A. Guthrie and James M. Scott, both supporters of the Flemming Government. The future Premier threw in his lot with Mr. Scott, and stood at Bright front in his behalf on polling day and secured a majority of the votes. The same Mr. Scott is now one of the colleagues of the Premier in the representation of York.

The announcement that a large English concern is about to establish a branch factory near Toronto which will employ between five and six hundred hands, is evidence that Central Canada reaps the greatest benefit from a protective tariff. In recent years hundreds of American concerns have established branch factories in Canada, but who ever heard of one of them coming to the Maritimes? Yet Ontario Manufacturers prefer to buy their coal in the United States.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., boasts of using more soap per capita than any other city in the province; and the other cities, raising their eyebrows, say they are glad they are not so dirty.

Another optimist is the boy friend who thinks that even if his sweetie never thinks of helping her mother with the dishes she always will be glad to help him with them after they are married.

The Boston Transcript, overheard it on the radio: "—and listening to this music one can almost see those gallant Puritans on the deck of the Mayflower as she steamed into the harbor."

NEW CAR FERRY WILL BE GREATLY APPRECIATED

Moncton, May 22—The new car ferry will go a long way toward meeting the needs of the people of Prince Edward Island in the way of connection with the mainland, declared S. A. McDonald of Charlottetown P. E. I., President of the Prince Edward Island Associated Board of Trade, who passed through Moncton today (Friday) from Lauzon, Que., where he was present at the launching. He was particularly impressed with the provisions that have been made for the handling of automobiles and stated that the new car ferry is a great improvement over the vessel at present in service with the new car ferry in operation and the magnificent hotel which has been erected by the Canadian National Railways in Charlottetown and the daily service to Prince Edward Island which is being put into effect by the Canadian National this season. Mr. McDonald was of the opinion that tourist travel this year to Prince Edward Island will show a considerably greater increase than over the previous season.

It is not absolutely necessary to act foolish to keep young, but it helps.
