RELIEF MEASURES COME UNDER FIRE OF LIBERALS, WHO OPPOSE THE BLANK CHECK

Ottawa, July 29—With prorogation looming up in the near future, Government and Opposition came to grips in the House of Commons today on the proposals for unemployment and farm relief. The resolution to confer upon the Government powers to deal with these problems, to maintain "peace, order and good government in all parts of Canada," and to pay from the revenues of Canada such sums as may be necessary for unemployment and farm relief, commanded the attention of the House. It is one of the two big items remaining on the sessional program. The other is the report of the Beuharnois committee.

After several hours of warm debate, the resolution was still before the House when adjournment time arrived. It will be dealt with further tomorrow.

As expected the claim that the Government was asking for a "blank check" formed the storm centre of Opposition. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, who moved the resolution, dealt with his charge before it was made.

"We believe that it is in the interest of Canada, of the Canadian taxpayer, of the provinces, and of the people concerned, that we should not endeavor to place a limitation upon the amount that may be expended, either with respect to direct relief or otherwise," Mr. Bennett declared. Once a specific amount was stated, a contest would arise between the provinces to obtain all they believed to be their share. The claim would be advanced that the total amount should be apportioned on a basis of population, whereas the Government wished necessity to dictate where the money would go. Also the provision of a stipulated amount would develop the idea in the minds of the shiftless that a fund had been established upon which they might draw without work.

The other side of the argument was presented by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Opposition Leader. Parliament was, and must remain the body which dealt with money votes. Parliament was the board of directors sent by the people to administer their business. It was the duty of the Government to determine what sum it required for unemployment relief, in the first instance, and for farm relief, in the second, and submit them to Parliament.

There was no disposition on the part of the Opposition to refuse the amounts which the Government required. What the Government said was necessary it would get. But, declared Mr. King, a limit should be set. And, he reminded Mr. Bennett, the Government could always summon Parliament if it found that more money was required.

The situation was abnormal and serious, Premier Bennett informed the House gravely. Many Canadians were now in want and, unless extraordinary measures were taken, would suffer hardship and privation during the coming winter. No need existed for apprehension as to Canada's ability to meet the situation. Canada was solvent. The Government proposed to proceed with a program of public undertakings designed to furnish employment. But, leaving these aside, there still remained the problem of assisting the provinces, and through them the municipalities, in their problem.

The Maritime Provinces had prepared a program to meet winter conditions, he said. In Prince Edward Island the conditions in respect to employment were good, as compared with the other provinces.

Mr. Bennett issued a warning to persons capable of work who refused it. For such there would be no benefits, he said.

X-RAY LOCATED LOST COIN IN BOY'S COAT

Erie, Pennsylvania, July 30—J. Kenneth Winter, X-Ray operator of the Erie Tuberculosis Association, tells of one X-ray picture which brought unexpected joy to a youthful patient. When he X-rayed the boy's lungs, Winter saw a dark disk near the bottom of the X-ray plate. Investigation proved the disk was a half-dollar which had slipped from the boy's pocket into the lining of his clothing.

SCREEN STARS GET PAY CUT

Hollywood, California, July 30—Salary cuts varying from five to twenty five per cent., have gone into effect in all departments at Warner Brothers-First National motion picture studios. The reduction are similar to those effected at the company's eastern offices six weeks ago.

An executive who would not be quoted by name said "some of the contract players have volunteered to accept a cut in view of their idleness, during the lull in production."

Hollywood takes this to mean that those players whose contracts are up for renewal accepted reductions.

Increase Of Population

While no official returns of the decennial census taken in June, have yet been given out the impression seems to prevail that New Brunswick is going to show quite a substantial increase of population. Ten years ago this province had a population of 387,876, which was an increase of 36,000 over the total of 1911. Of that rate of increase has been maintained the present population should be 423,876. Fredericton in 1921 had a population of 8,114. There is reason to believe that it is now in excess of 9,000.
