(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

LONDON, Feb. 24—A bolt by Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of recalcitrant Laborites, and his wife, Lady Cynthia, a daughter of the late Lord Curzon, from the Labor party today was predicted by the political correspondent of The Daily Express.

Oliver Baldwin, son of Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative party leader, was among the Laborites reported planning to quit the party headed by Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald.

The Mosley group, which has been opposed to the MacDonald policies, met last night, the report said, and the leaders decided to resign from the party forthwith. Among others were W. J. Brown and John Strachey.

C. P. R. LINER IS A MODERN NOAH'S ARK

Saint John, N. B., Feb. 24—As she ploughed her way across the Western Ocean from Hamburg to Saint John, where she arrived this afternoon, the Canadian Pacific liner Beaverdale might have been carrying a shipload of choirs to a National Eisteddfod instead of bringing a general cargo to Canada, for in her afterhold were not one but six hundred yellow-clad minstrels.

The birds were German roller canaries, shipped by Canadian Pacific Express from Germany to points in Canada. A hundred of them are going to Halifax and the remainder to Toronto. They all arrived in good condition, showing no ill effects from their long ocean voyage, and were singing as lustily on their arrival as they were reported to have done during the voyage.

A large number of animals and birds arrived also on the Montcalm, which docked here Sunday. Among them were 250 Angora rabbits, thirty canaries and a dozen pigeons, bound for various points. The rabbits are being shipped by the Canadian Pacific Express to Japan while the pigeons are going to Georgia and the canaries to Detroit.

New York, Feb. 24—Sawdust concrete—a new lightweight building material—is ready for use.

The sawdust is substituted for rock-sand or other "aggregates" mixed with cement in concrete making. The possibilities were outlined at the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers today by H. Herbert Hughes, assistant mineral economist of the building materials section, U. S. bureau of mines.

HARRINGTON DEFENDS HIS GOVERNMENT

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 23—"We are derived from the best stock of the Mother countries; there is nothing for us but shame if we lie down in adversity."

From this text Premier Gordon S. Harrington spoke tonight as he concluded a defence of his Government from what he termed the "gloom in particular" of Opposition attacks, with a call for faith in the future of Nova Scotia.

Dealing with A. S. MacMillan's address of Friday, the Premier replied to the Liberal leader's questions and criticisms, with statements of his idea of a national fuel-steel policy, Government control, education and free school books, highways, finance, and the general condition of farming, fishing, mining and other major industries of the province.

(Special to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24—The U. S. Supreme court today upheld validity of the prohibition amendment.

It reversed the decision of Judge Clark of the United States District court of New Jersey in which Clark held that the 18th amendment was invalid because the method of its adoption was not in accordance with the constitution.

DON'T WED YOUR SECRETARY GOOD ADVICE

Evanston, Ill., Feb. 24—Don't marry your secretary.

If she's any good, keep her on the job and marry some one else for love and companionship.

Then keep your wife at home and away from the office.

This advice was given yesterday by Dr. Frederick B. Balmer, of the Northwestern University Medical School, to his professional friends in an address. He was speaking especially of lawyers and doctors in reply to the recent statement by his colleague, Dr. Edward L. Cornell, who said:

"Marry your secretary."

A secretary, said Dr. Balmer, may know how to chew gum noiselessly, may be diplomatic in telling how you're in conference, and may be able to tell a book agent a mile away; but these accomplishments are no assurance that she'll be tactful when a guest trumps her ace or that she knows anything about rearing children.

Political Future Of Big Bill to be Voted Upon Today

A Million Voters Going to the Polls Under the Protection of Seventy Thousand Guards—The Policemen Armed With Riot Guns and Pistols—Thompson's Fourth Primary.

CHICAGO, Ills., Feb. 24—Under protection of seventy thousand guards and official watchers, a million Chicagoians swarmed to the polls today to decide the political future of Mayor William Hale Thompson. Policemen with riot guns and pistols patrolled the streets and 45,000 private citizens, as watchers took up their posts in and about the polling places.

Today's municipal primary was the fourth in which Thompson had offered himself for the Republican nomination for mayor. In the first three he has been nominated and, later, elected.

A Strong Opponent

Never, however, had "Big Bill" met such opposition as in the campaign just ended. Judge John H. Lyle, regarded as the mayor's strongest opponent, matched all of Thompson's swash-buckling campaign tactics and then some.

Less stringent, but no less determined were the campaigns of two other Republican aspirants for Thompson's mantle, Arthur F. Albert, the "Gold Coast" alderman, and George K. Schmidt, who resigned from the mayor's cabinet to oppose him.

Extraordinary precautions were prompted by counter charges between Lyle and the Mayor that each was in league with gangdom to steal the election.

GOVERNOR OF P. E. I. HAS HOME DESTROYED

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Feb. 23—Fire discovered in Edgewater, the residence of Hon. Frank R. Heartz, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of P. E. I. land, shortly before 9 o'clock tonight totally destroyed the beautiful property with practically all the contents.

Dense clouds of smoke prevented firemen from making their entrance and water from eight lines of hose was directed through the windows. Hon. Mr. Heartz, who was visiting Chief Justice Matheson nearby, was notified and directed the firemen to the room of Mrs. Heartz, who is visiting relatives in Souris, where jewelry reposed in a locked cabinet. This was saved, together with a small quantity of silverware and some furniture.

A high wind from the northwest fanned the flames, but situated on the edge of the river, there was little danger from flying embers except to an apartment house about 10 feet away, which was drenched with water to save it.

Shortly after midnight only the walls of the dwellings were standing with the blaze under control.

The loss is estimated at between $25,000 and $35,000, fairly well covered by insurance.

Leaving New York every Saturday, the Canadian Pacific Liner, Duchess of York decked yesterday morning again, and brought a large list of passengers to Hamilton.

The Duchess of York whose original schedule was due to terminate at New York on April 12, will now continue in the service until May 7. It has been announced, a account of bookings for this popular transatlantic liner being so favorable.
