TRIBUTES TO N. B. MEN

Mr. E. C. St-Pere, Liberal member for Hochelaga, Quebec in the course of a speech on the Address in Parliament last week, paid a graceful tribute to 2 New Brunswickers, Hon. George Black, Speaker of the House and Max Cormier, M. P., for Madawaska, the mover of the address. Hansard reports him as saying:

"Mr. Speaker, the member for Hochelaga, is glad of this opportunity to join his voice to the chorus of congratulations which have greeted your elevation to the honourable and honoured position of Speaker of the House of Commons.

"I choose to pay my respects to you in my mother tongue, despite my ready knowledge of both languages, this choice of mine was induced by my noticing not only that you gave proof of broadmindedness and intelligence in taking up the study of French, but also that the interested attention with which you follow every speech delivered in French shows that you appreciate more and more the beauties of our tongue."

"You have given to the entire country a magnificent lesson in bonne entente. You have, moreover, made it clear that the language that is dear to you will work side by side with our own mother tongue, in Canada as in the League of Nations for peace, harmony and fraternity among the different races who go to make up this Canadian nation."

"I followed with every great interest also the speech of the honorable member for Restigouche-Madawaska (Mr. Cormier). His exposition of conservative policy was more than a profession of faith in a political doctrine: he showed the whole country that Memramcook College, an institution which numbers him among her most brilliant graduates, endows her students, as do all our French colleges in Canada, with a bilingual education. His presence here in this House is proof, moreover, of the survival of the French group who since the great disturbance, have never ceased, from the plains of Acadia to the most remote bayous of Louisiana to grow in numbers and in influence."

HONORED SHAKESPEARE

"The greatest literary genius of the English speaking race" was the tribute paid to William Shakespeare, poet and dramatist, in a radio broadcast sponsored by the American Radiator Company over a coast to coast hookup by the National Broadcasting Company last evening. W. S. Rennie, a distinguished actor impersonated Mr. Shakespeare in front of the microphone and answered questions regarding his life and work. During the program a message was read from Thomas Shakespeare, a Canadian, who stated that a son born to him on April 23rd, has been given the name of William. The program concluded with a vocal solo entitled "The Lover and His Lass" from, "As You Like It."

As a forecasted in the Mail, the Provincial Government has appointed H. A. Carr, barrister of Campbellton to the vacant post of chairman of the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities. The appointment is one that will give general satisfaction. Mr. Carr is one of the most prominent barristers on the North Shore and has had a wide experience which will stand him in good stead in his new position. Since the retirement of the late chairman of the Board, J. M. Trueman, Tyler C. Burpee, of this city, has filled the position of acting chairman in a highly satisfactory manner.

Then again the cares and worries of the busy are never so great as those of the idle.

The announcement that the value of the estate of Arnold Bennett is estimated at $500,000, leads the London Herald to rate it as the largest fortune made by a British writer. Dickens left about $400,000, says the Herald, and Trollope about $350,000. Yes, but the $400,000 that Dickens left just sixty years ago was worth a lot more than Bennett's half million now.

"A French clairvoyant predicts the end of the world before January 1." This always annoys newspaper men who have to get down early the next day to write it up.

"The trouble with people today," says Mrs. Thomas Edison, "is that people demand too much luxury." Yes, and another trouble is we don't get it.

Fire Last Night

The barn owned by Mrs. James Delong, situated in King Street, between Northumberland and Westmorland streets was badly damaged by a fire which broke out at about nine o'clock last evening. The cause of the fire is unknown. The barn is rented by the Brown Brothers, who use it for storing skins. Several valuable bearskins were lost in the fire. The damage to the barn, which suffered the loss of the fire, would be close to $200, it is believed. Other barns nearby were scorched by the blaze, but no serious damage resulted. The alarm was rung in from box 17. The cause of the fire is to be investigated. Ex Chief Tremblay, of the Montreal fire department, a visitor to the city was a spectator at the fire and warmly congratulated Chief Smith on the efficient way in which it was handled.
