BENNETT AND MOTHERWELL EXCHANGE HEATED CUTS OVER TARIFF QUESTION

Ottawa, July 7—Heated exchanges between Premier R. B. Bennett, and Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Minister of Agriculture, featured continued debate in Committee on the Government bill, creating a Tariff Board, tonight.

The storm blew up following an earlier exchange, just before 6 o'clock adjournment, when the Prime Minister demanded to know of a single thing which Mr. Motherwell had ever done to protect the consumer in Canada. When he heard the former Minister of Agriculture indulging in his "coarse jokes," said Mr. Bennett, he felt that this was a question which required an answer. He demanded what legislation the Liberal Party had ever offered the people of Canada which attempted to do what the present Tariff Board was seeking to accomplish.

Incidentally, as a striking side issue, the name of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, was introduced into the discussion when Mr. Motherwell referred to him as "the wine-bibbing joker who was sent to Canada House in London."

With the reference to London was coupled one in respect to the appointment of a Canadian Minister to Washington.

It had been rumored, said Mr. Motherwell, that Sanford Evans was to be chairman of the new Tariff Board. The leader of the Government cared nothing for public sentiment.

"Has he not done something just as outrageous as he did in the case of the Washington appointment?" pursued the former Minister of Agriculture, warmly. "Did he regard public sentiment then?"

Causes Storm

The reference to the High Commissioner brought a storm of objection from Conservative benches. Amid cries of "withdraw," the Prime Minister rose.

"I rather think that the honorable gentleman is transcending the rules of decency in debate," he asserted sharply.

The former Minister of Agriculture went on, however, although a voice from the Government supporters called upon him to "be a man and take it back."

He declared that the country "has no more use for this Tariff Board than a dog has for two tails."

"It is a big sham from top to bottom. It is hypocrisy personified with humbug on top," he added.

Mr. Bennett pursued the reference to Mr. Ferguson, asserting that the former Minister of Agriculture had said that he (Mr. Bennett) had referred to the High Commissioner as a joker. He asked what warrant Mr. Motherwell had for the statement. It was not correct.

Mr. Motherwell retorted that the Prime Minister had attempted to explain a recent speech of Mr. Ferguson's in London by saying that it was supposed to be jocular.

"The Hon. Gentleman referred to the High Commissioner as a wine-bibbing joker," reminded Mr. Bennett. "I did," agreed Mr. Motherwell.

"I submit that that is not a correct reference to be made to an official who is not in this House," asserted the Premier.

"It may not be Parliamentary, but it is absolutely true," was the response of Mr. Motherwell.

Again members called for a withdrawal. The Chairman of the Committee, Hon. Armand Lavergne, intervened, requesting that the offending remark be withdrawn.

YORK MUNICIPAL COUNCIL IS URGED TO CONTRIBUTE TO COST OF THE NURSES' HOME

assured that the government would support his family in case he got into jail he might go into the bootlegging business himself.

Hon. Mr. Richards reiterated his statement that when a man was imprisoned under a federal or provincial act, his family if it needed help, must obtain upon the municipality. This had always been the case. With respect to the Intoxicating Liquor Act a special concession in favor of the Municipality had been made by province paying sixty cents per day for the support of those imprisoned after conviction.

Hospital Delegation

John A. Reid, president of the Board of Trustees of the Victoria Hospital, who headed a delegation, was invited to address the council. He said that the proposed nurses' home to be added to the hospital, would cost in the vicinity of $50,000. The trustees would provide $20,000; The city of Fredericton, a like amount, and the County of York, he suggested, should subscribe the sum of $10,000. He suggested that bonds be issued extended over a period of five years. Under this plan the county would be called upon to pay annually the sum of $709.52.

Is Much Needed

Mr. Reid went on to say that the necessity for a nurses' home at the hospital was very great. At present eleven girls from the county were in training at the home and six from the city. It was important that they should be well looked after. The value of the hospital property was now estimated at $340,000, a good proportion of which had been donated by the Municipalities. He had included in the estimate the donation of a power plant by the city at a cost of $40,000. The hospital was carried on in a business-like way, and patients were charged nothing over the cost price of their care and maintenance.

In closing he said he thought the councillors would appreciate the good work being carried on at the hospital. The trustees and medical staff gave their services free and the standard of the institution was high. He hoped that the council would favorably consider the application.

Mayor Clark

His Worship Mayor Clark followed Mr. Reid, strongly urging the claims of the hospital upon the council. The old nurses' home, he said, was to be utilized as an isolation hospital and a new home had become a necessity. Additional accommodation for contagious cases would be provided in the new home. He thought it an appropriate time to go on with the erection of a new building in view of the unemployment that existed. Many nurses who were trained at the hospital came from the county and it was only fair that the county should contribute one fifth of the cost of the new building.

Alderman Mitchell

Ald. Mitchell, who was the next speaker, dwelt upon the necessity of providing a nurses' home at the hospital this year. There was considerable unemployment, and the problem presented by such contagious diseases as diphtheria, measles and scarlet fever had to be considered. The Board of Health was certain that the time had come when there should be more accommodation provided for contagious diseases. More accommodation was also needed for the nurses employed at the institution. He was satisfied that the business of the hospital was carried on in a most efficient manner.

Ald. Mitchell replying to Councillor Seymour, said that the proposed site for the home was the vacant lot in government lane, above the hospital and belonging to the federal government.

Mr. Reid read a letter from R. B. Hanson, M. P., stating that there was a good chance of obtaining a site free of charge, or on a long-term lease at a nominal rate. Mr. Reid extended an invitation to members of the Council to pay a visit to the hospital during the session.

Dr. VanWart

Dr. A. F. VanWart, who spoke briefly, strongly supported the purpose to establish a new nurses home. He quoted statistics showing the number of cases of scarlet fever in the city since 1927, and pointed out that a large percentage of the patients had been students from outside points. More accommodation at the hospital for the treatment of contagious diseases was in his opinion an absolute necessity.

Another Application

Ald. Goodspeed applied for the use of a room in the Court House building for the Social Service Council and Victorian Order of Nurses. The two bodies to which he had referred were doing good work and he hoped the Council would assist them by tendering the use of two vacant rooms at the rear of the building formerly occupied by the Clerk of the Peace. In conclusion he made reference to the excellent manner in which the County Municipal Home is being conducted.

The Warden promised that the matters presented by the various delegations would have careful consideration. The Council separated until 2 o'clock p. m.

'JOAN OF ARC' IS STRICKEN

Paris, France, July 8—The Rouen girl, who took the part of Joan of Arc in a recent pageant is in Paris hospital suffering from nervous breakdown induced by being "burned at the stake." Doctors were reticent about her chances of recovery.

The newspaper Petit Parisien says that when the stage "fire" was lighted around the post to which she was bound in Rouen square the girl clutched her crucifix frantically and then fainted.

APOSTLE AND EPISTLE

The Miramichi Rising

Reports from the Miramichi district that the rain fell in torrents there last night and that the river is rising steadily. A large number of American salmon anglers are now on the streams and with the set nets up for a fortnight they are looking forward to some high class sport.

Short on Postage

Although the change in postal rates went into effect on July 1st, quite a number of people have not got the idea into their heads that it now costs three cents to mail a letter. From force of habit they use a two cent stamp, which means that the letter is forwarded to its destination and two cents collected from the party to whom it is addressed.
