The Struggle to Capture the Five Million Liberal Votes Polled in 1929 is Causing Great Confusion—The Old Party is Hopelessly Split Up.

LONDON, Oct. 10—The fight to capture the 5,000,000 Liberal votes in the last election is causing the greatest confusion and bewilderment throughout the country because the Liberal party is split hopelessly in two, one part supporting the National Government with an organization, but no money and the other part which is under Lloyd George's thumb, opposing it with no organization and some money.

A Striking Cartoon

The caption on a cartoon by Low in today's Evening Standard provides the best revelation of the situation. Under the title, "Exclusive from our war artist," it says, "Field Marshal Flimsy today read his call to the nation, which was enthusiastically received. The troops are magnificent. Apart from an occasional mutiny, internecine warfare and absent-minded shooting of officers, their loyalty is rampant."

"Flimsy" is represented by Ramsay MacDonald, with J. H. Thomas applauding, whilst Stanley Baldwin is concealed in a gun entitled "free-tion," and Lord Beaverbrook sits in a tree blowing a bugle.

KENMORE CAMPS HAVE CLOSED A GOOD SEASON

Sixty-five Non-Resident Anglers Were Handled—Extension of Netting Season Interfered With the Sport.

Willis Norrad, manager of the Kenmore Sporting Camps on the Miramichi River, a few miles above Boiestown, was a visitor to the city today. He says that although the fishing was not what it might have been, the past season, so far as business was concerned, was the best he ever experienced. He handled at his camps sixty-five lady and gentleman anglers, all non-residents, and he has reason to believe that they all returned home well satisfied. Had it not been for the action of the Federal authorities in extending the netting season into September, he said that he would have handled more parties and they would have had better sport. "The extension of the netting season," he said, "simply ruined the fishing in September."

Successful Hunters

Mr. Norrad, who is an expert woodsman, has just returned from a successful hunting trip up the Miramichi River, where he guided Harry Stoddard, and Howard Booth, of Worcester, Mass. They secured a moose and two buck deer. He has arranged to take another hunting party out next week.

Mr. Norrad was one of the guides who accompanied the Grantland Rice party on their recent trip up the Miramichi, where they took talking pictures. His daughter was also a member of the party. On their way down stream, all were guests to an excellent dinner at Kenmore Camps.

Changed Conditions

While some big game hunters have passed through the city en route to the Miramichi woods, there has been a marked falling off as compared with fifteen and twenty years ago. A veteran guide in discussion the matter says that a lot of old timers who used to come here have passed to the happy hunting grounds and there is nobody to take their places. He thinks that the advent of the automobile has brought about a change, as many sportsmen look upon it as a waste of time to make a long trip into the woods.

30-CENT WAGE IS ACCEPTED AT NEWCASTLE

Newcastle, Oct. 9—With 35 cents an hour, the fair wage set by the Federal Government for men doing unemployment relief work, and only 25 cents offered by the company awarded the contract for extensive paving and other street work, a 30-cent wage was agreed on today after a second heated "indignation meeting" of the unemployed men here last night and work was started this morning.

Yesterday the main streets of the town were scenes of heated argument by bands of jobless as to what course would be followed. Today the streets were scenes of activity along the lines of actual work.

About 200 unemployed were at the offices of the Warren Bituminous Paving Company, Toronto, who have been awarded the contract, yesterday morning prepared to start work. They were offered 25 cents an hour. Some accepted, but as they were about to leave for the scene of the street work their tools and materials were taken from them by other jobless, who refused to work for less than 35 cents.

A second mass meeting was held and an agreement reached.
