

Palpitation of the Heart Could Hardly Get Around

Mrs. Charles Storms, R.R. 5, Picton, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with palpitation of the heart; couldn't sleep, day or night, and was so weak I could hardly get around."

After taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was greatly relieved of these attacks.

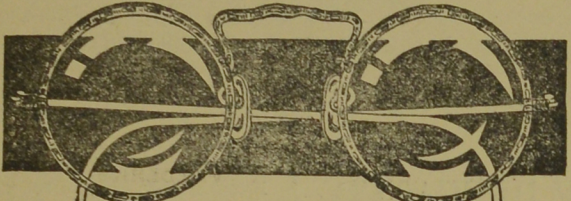

My mother also has great faith in them and finds no other medicine can help her so much for heart trouble.

I can assure you that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a wonderful builder."

MR. GORDON ADMITS THAT HE WAS MISLED IN MAKING CHARGES AGAINST PREMIER

Ottawa, March 4—He had been misled by information which came to him from a source he had considered reliable, G. N. Gordon, K.C., Peterboro, told a parliamentary committee today when apologizing for statements he had made at a political meeting in Hamilton on Jan. 6, last.

Mr. Gordon's statements at that time, as reported in The Toronto Globe, had charged that Major W. D. Herridge brother-in-law of Prime Minister Bennett, had been in the pay of the Canadian Government as legal adviser, and was appealing a case for the Canadian Government before the Privy Council, during the time he was abroad on his honeymoon.

These facts had been presented by The Globe in such a form, it was claimed, as to indicate that the Prime Minister had financed the wedding trip of the Canadian Minister to Washington, and Mr. Bennett's sister, out of the public funds. On a resolution adopted by the House of Commons a committee was appointed to investigate the charges.

His Testimony

Mr. Gordon testified today his statements had been misconstrued by The Globe and that further he had discovered his facts to be misleading, and made a public retraction and apology at Cobourg on Jan. 15.

The Committee concluded the taking of evidence this afternoon and will probably meet to present a report late next week.

Gordon Testifies

Mr. Gordon was the only witness called today. He made no reference in his direct evidence to the charges, also quoted in The Toronto Globe as having been made at Hamilton, that the Prime Minister had spent $125,000 of the public funds for a new private railway car when he assumed office.

At the conclusion of his evidence today Mr. Gordon was questioned on this aspect of his charges by Mr. Speakman, who referred to it as "the minor charge."

Worthy of Inquiry

Mr. Gordon said he had been given to understand by Senator George P. Graham that the new car would cost about $125,000. He had heard the explanation made by Mr. Bennett yesterday and presumed it was correct. But as for it being a "minor charge," Mr. Gordon said he thought that "if Sir Henry Thornton is throwing around $125,000 private cars it is at least worthy of inquiry."

Mr. Bennett and Major Herridge gave evidence at the hearing yesterday, both giving emphatic denials to the charges as reported in The Toronto Globe. They were both present today but were not called and neither cross-examined Mr. Gordon.

The Gleaner Mentioned

Reference to reports in The Fredericton Gleaner of the speeches was made during Mr. Gordon's testimony.

"Do you swear the despatch in The Gleaner from the Toronto Star Newspaper Service is true or not true," asked Colonel Geary, witness said it was not true. Replying to further questions he admitted The Star Newspaper Service had telephoned him but he had said he would neither confirm nor deny.

"Do you say it is substantially true?" Chairman Geary asked. "It is not substantially true," replied witness.

The Gleaner was brought into the hearing yesterday by Prime Minister Bennett, who referred to a story of the Hamilton incident published by that paper. Mr. Gordon said he had nothing to do with the publication of the story in The Gleaner and the story had not been confirmed by telephone through him, or in any other way. The Gleaner story, as mentioned by Mr. Bennett at the hearing yesterday, stated that the paper's correspondent had confirmed the report of Mr. Gordon's Hamilton utterances in conversation with the latter by telephone at his home in Peterboro.

Onesime Gagnon (Cons., Dorchester), asked the witness if at any time he had been called by the telephone by any journalist living in Fredericton.

"Never in my life," was the reply. The article in The Gleaner had no foundation if it said that The Gleaner had telephoned him, Mr. Gordon added.

Source Traced

Col. Geary said he had a committee clerk get into touch with The Gleaner and the clerk had received a telegraphic reply that the January despatch in The Gleaner had come from the Toronto Star Newspaper Service.

"You said you did not have any telephone conversation with The Gleaner, did you have any telephone conversation with The Star newspaper?" asked Col. Geary.

Several Toronto newspapermen had telephoned him, said Mr. Gordon, asking him to confirm his Hamilton speech; and he had said that he would be speaking at Lindsay and would make an explanation there.

"Do you swear the despatch in The Gleaner from The Star Newspaper Service is true or not true," asked Col. Geary. Witness said it was not true.

A SHINING EXAMPLE OF GOOD BUSINESS

(New York Sun)

A highly optimistic note came as a surprising and welcome change to the traveling men in the smoking car, who for miles and miles had been listening to depression stories of business setbacks and failures.

"Well, sirs," said the cheerful one, "my story is different. My business has been improving steadily during the past two years; our sales have suffered no setbacks whatsoever; as a matter of fact, we reached the high peak of fourteen years this month."

Inquiry brought out the fact that the business which had been prospering while so many others were on the downward path was that of a shoe polish manufacturing firm. It seems that at no time since the world war has the shoe polish business been so prosperous and thriving. Whether this is due to the increasing number of bootblacks thronging the parks and streets, or to the fact that depression and hard times cause people to keep their old shoes polished instead of buying new ones, is a problem for students in psychology to solve.

LABORITES WILL SUPPORT DE VALERA

(Special to the DAILY MAIL by the British United Press)

Dublin, Ireland, March 5—The Labor party which holds the balance of power in the New Free State Dail, will support Eamon De Valera's Fianna Fail party in efforts to abolish the oath of allegiance to King George, it was announced officially yesterday at party headquarters.

AFRICAN PHONE WIRES STRANGLE BIG GIRAFFES

Kenya Colony, Africa, March 6 — Giraffes have compelled the constructors of telephone lines in Kenya Colony to use higher telephone posts. This fact was revealed on the occasion of the recent opening of the first big telephone trunk line in East Africa.

It was declared that existing lines were broken by the necks of giant giraffes, which were out infrequently strangled to death in their efforts to release themselves from the wires.

The new service will link Nairobi with Mombasa and Dar-es-Salaam, the capital of Tanganyika, a distance of about 600 miles.

ITALY POPULATION GROWING RAPIDLY

Rome, Italy, March 6—Italy's population is increasing by approximately 32,000 a month, according to census officials who expect the total to be near 42,000,000 by the end of this year.

STOCK MARKET IN A BUOYANT MOOD TODAY

New York, March 5—The market continues to meet a lot of stock around the top levels of the latest rally but continues to gain new recruits to the constructive side. It certainly has all the ear marks of a market which wants to advance and advantage should still be taken of reactions to pick up stocks. Efforts to get the market started downward on the announcement of the reduction in the General Electric dividend met with little success. Those who were selling on "GL" on the dividend and earnings report forget that the prices of the stock had about discounted everything even the possible passing of the dividend.

Stocks of companies which do what is termed a "cash business" such as Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Montgomery-Ward, Safeway, Kroger etc. are the immediate favorites of the traders. Montgomery-Ward in particular is very well liked and all during the Friday trading was extremely well bought.

Many Anglers Visited Province During 1931

Restigouche Leads

On going over the returns we notice that the County of Restigouche, which boasts the greatest salmon angling stream in the world, sold 202 salmon licenses, 8 trout licenses and 3 three day licenses, which yielded the sum of $5,145, leading the province. York County, which has practically no leased water, sold the largest number of licenses, 86 for salmon, 144 for trout, and 165 three day licenses, yielding $4,650. The County of Northumberland came next with 122 salmon licenses, 8 trout licenses and 165 three day licenses. Victoria was fourth with 137 salmon licenses, 109 trout licenses and 120 three day licenses, which yielded $3,745. The County of Carleton with 8 salmon licenses, 40 trout licenses and 110 three day licenses, yielding $1,200, was next in order. Madawaska and Charlotte were the only other counties which made much of a showing, but only trout and three day licenses were sold.

The total number of non-residents who took out fishing licenses in York County was 405 and in Northumberland County 305, making a grand total of 710. Beyond a doubt the great majority of these visitors passed through Fredericton and did their outfitting here.

A Surprising Increase

Statistic made public in the report of the department of Lands and Mines, show a surprising growth in the number of non-resident anglers since 1925. In that year there were only 215 salmon angling licenses sold, against 597 in 1931; the number of trout licenses was 310, against 413 in 1930 and 403 last year, and the number of three day licenses increased from 32 in 1925 to 680 last year. The great majority of the latter fished the open waters in the central part of the province and made Fredericton their headquarters. The Restigouche open water made the best showing last year since this plan was inaugurated in 1927. There were sold 26 rod licenses to non-residence and 12 to residents, which yielded the sum of $3,125. From the open water on the Upsalquitch the revenue was $690. The sum paid the Riparian Association for protecting the open water of the Restigouche was $900, so the government derived a profit of $2,221, probably the greatest ever made in Canada on a publicly owned sporting proposition handled in this way.

Good Lumber Cut

There has been a good lumber cut around Millville this winter, according to reports from that vicinity. The Mill owned by the Hartland Lumber Co. is expected to operate about three months this summer and will give needy employment to many residents of that section of the country.
