Rebel Movement In Spain Quelled By the Government

The New Republic Had No Difficulty in Demonstrating Its Strength—Leaders of the Old Royalist Regime Raised the Standard of Revolt, But Were Easily Overcome

MADRID, Aug. 11—The Spanish republic, little more than a year old today, had conclusively demonstrated its strength by stamping out a sudden dramatic monarchist revolutionary outbreak launched by military leaders of the old Royalist regime.

The rebel movement was quelled in Madrid a few hours after it started although it took nearly 24 hours for the government to regain control of Seville, where General Jose Sanjurjo, one-time member of the Primo Rivera dictatorship, made a desperate bid to establish a new dictatorship.

At dawn today General Sanjurjo, who earlier had proclaimed himself captain-general of Seville, fled before the approach of Federal troops and bombing planes.

The liner, which arrived here the day before yesterday brought many British and American visitors on the first cruise the three funnelled Empress has ever made to a Danish port.

Her advent was the signal for a celebration, in which all Copenhagen took part, even to the Crown Prince of Denmark, who incognito, paid a visit to the ship. Speaking to her commander, Captain E. Griffith, R. N. R., his royal highness said it was "a pleasure to have British, Canadian and American visitors to Denmark". The ship, which he termed a great white Canadian giant, was the largest ever to visit Denmark, he pointed out.

RECTOR WAS NOT ALLOWED A SUN BATH

Harrogate, England, Aug. 11—Dr. Harold Davidson, white-haired rector of Stiffkey who was recently convicted by a Consistory Court on moral charges, was unceremoniously ejected from the grounds of the Harrogate Sun Bathing Society yesterday because he was not accompanied by his wife.

The 60-year-old rector was escorted from the grounds by an official of the Sun Bathing Society which had refused him membership in the organization.

"I wanted to inspect the circumstances of the movement," the rector explained later, "because I am considering establishing a similar movement for my parishioners."

"Apparently it is necessary to satisfy the Harrogate society that my wife approves of sun bathing. I could not possibly get my wife here."

Newcastle, N. B., August 10—His skull fractured, Hugh Moar, 21-year-old son of John A. Moar, Chatham, died in the Miramichi Hospital here at midnight, the result of a motor accident at Nordin, three miles from here on the Newcastle-Bathurst highway tonight.

Moar was one of seven people, four Chatham young men and three Newcastle girls, in a light truck which was in collision with a heavy truck from Fredericton on the steep hill at Nordin.

The heavy truck, a fruit delivery vehicle, belonging to Mrs. Louise Hawkins, Fredericton, and driven by Floyd Jewett, Lower Hainesville, accompanied by George Harris, also of Fredericton, was approaching Newcastle from Bathurst shortly after 9 P. M. It attempted to pass a car, owned by R. O. Johnson, Loggieville, driven by E. W. Percy, Loggieville, and collided with the lighter truck containing the seven young people, going from Newcastle.

It was said by Percy that he was attempting to pass a car parked on the right hand side of the road. Jewett said he thought Percy's car was going to stop and that he pulled out to pass, then colliding with the approaching truck after sideswiping the car.

The Fredericton truck, badly damaged, careened off the lighter truck into the ditch, but did not upset. The Chatham truck had its side ripped off, but held to the road. The car driven by Percy was slightly damaged.

Joseph Parrah, driver of the Chatham truck, escaped injury, as did those who were with him, with the exception of Moar, Herman Petrie and Arthur Olsen, both of Chatham, and the three Newcastle young women, whose names are not known. The young people, with the exception of the driver were on improvised seats in the rear of the truck. Neither Percy, nor the two in the Fredericton truck, were injured.

Moar was rushed to the hospital where he was attended by Dr. J. A. M. Bell, Newcastle and Dr. A. J. Losier, Chatham.

(Special to the Daily Mail)

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 11—Stripped of her flags and bunting but still the world's greatest grain carrier and holder of all fresh water records, the Canada Steamship Liner freighter, Lemoyne, is on her way back to the head of the lakes after her historic first voyage through the new Welland Ship Canal and her triumphal welcome to the lower lakes and the port of Kingston. She discharged her cargo of 575,000 bushels of grain here.

Never in her short but glorious history, on the lakes has the Lemoyne been the centre of so much attention and showered with so much praise as during the past few days. Early Saturday morning the giant freighter nosed into the canal and stood ready until His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, Governor General of Canada, released the lever opening the canal gates and allowing the Lemoyne to pass along the waterway. Thousand of people lined the canal banks as the freighter crept by and cheered as she severed the white ribbon stretched across the canal officially opening it to the commerce of the nation.

Saturday night as the Lemoyne emerged from the canal and entered Lake Ontario for the first time she was again given a great and noisy welcome.

Here at Kingston on the Lemoyne's arrival was the signal for an elaborate civic reception. A fleet of small ships escorted the giant freighter to her berth at the Kingston grain elevator; an airplane hovered over head dropping showers of streamers to the ship's deck's and crowds of Kingston citizens and visitors from nearby towns and cities lined the shores of Cataraqui Bay.
