U. S. Democrats to Force Their New Tax Program in House

Led by J. W. Garner, They Expect to Drive It Through Congress So Quickly That Opposition Will Be Dazed—Expect to Make Good Lost Sales Tax Revenue.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 29—Conservative Democrats, led by John N. Garner, speaking from the floor on behalf of a "balanced budget," planned to force their new tax program through the House so quickly today that opposition will be dazed and "lost prestige" would be restored.

The program was completed in a special four-hour session of the ragon sub-committee last night. It hinges, it is understood, on heavy auto, radio and luxury taxes, increased postage and stock transfer taxes, and a tax on power.

The Democrats' carefully devised and concealed program for making up $500,000,000 of lost sales taxes revenue was to be presented to the House before night.

Bend, Ore., March 29—"Bill" the Red Cross sheep for whom various purchasers paid $150,000, is still alive and well on the old George Russell ranch in Crook county at 16—one of the oldest sheep of the Northwest.

The Red Cross sold Bill so many times it lost count. Each time the purchasers gave the animal back to inspire another auction. The auction were held as far east as Denver, and the entire $150,000 went to the international relief during and after the world war.

On March 19, 1918, Bill was sold here for $5,000. He was a 2-year-old ram at that time.

Halifax, N. S., March 28—Steps are being taken to continue the feeding of the stranded wild geese around their winter home near Port Joli, on the south shore of Nova Scotia, according to information reaching the C. N. R. fish and game department.

A short time ago about 2,000 wild geese were fed from an airplane, when their feeding grounds became frozen over. Chief Migratory Bird Officer Robie W. BUTTERFLY CHASER DEAD

London, England, March 29—James John Joicey, son of a millionaire, who once testified that he spent his life and fortune chasing butterflies, died Friday night at the age of 61. In the course of bankruptcy proceedings, Joicey said he had been unable to live on an income of about $100,000 a year and that he had spent half of it on butterflies. He possessed the second largest private collection in the world. It includes 500,000 specimens.

"I am not extravagant," he once said. "My butterflies will be of great value to the nation."

It's up to every man to determine for himself whether it is better to try and bust, than to do nothing and rust.

The Ford Company of Canada Looks for a Revival of Business in Canada.

East Windsor, Ont., March 28—The new Ford V-8 will be presented to the Canadian public next Thursday Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, announced today.

One of the most important factors in the announcement, Mr. Campbell said, is the confidence shown by the entire Ford organization that a measure of business revival is possible at this time.

"For months we have laboured with that objective in view. Now we are ready to go ahead. As quickly as we find it possible production will be increased at our main factory and branches. Manufacturers which supply us with products also will increase their output.

Chief Objective
"The principal objective in our plans towards this end was the development of an 8-cylinder engine, with plenty of power, yet so simply designed that its simplicity would be as important a feature as its speed and power, and sold at a price which would fit the average present pocket book.

"In addition to our V-8 cylinder car of 65 horsepower, we are offering a 4-cylinder car of 50 horsepower.

WANT WIDER DISTRIBUTION OF ANTI-TOXIN

Committee Room, March 29, 1932
The Public Accounts Committee met this morning and passed part of the accounts in connection with the Public Health Department. There was some discussion as to the necessity for a wider distribution of the anti-toxin so that it might be immediately available in districts during the winter that were remote from large centres.

Most of the time was taken up in connection with the payments made for land damages occasioned by the construction on the Shikhehawk Bridge and Mr. McVey, Chief Bridge Engineer, was examined as to the methods of paying awards. He said awards were not paid by the department no matter who might recommend the amount until he had consulted with either the Minister or Deputy Minister and had made a study of the records in past years and payments made in similar cases.

The Chairman ruled that payments not yet made could not properly come before the Committee as its duties were to investigate all payments during the fiscal year, 1930-31.

Expenditures in connection with unemployment relief work on the Richbucto Road were inquired into by Mr. Michaud. It was found that but few payments had been made during the fiscal year under investigation.
