140TH BATTALION DETACHMENT LEFT LAST NIGHT FOR ST. JOHN

In Spite of Rain Large Crowd Saw Soldiers Leave-- Mayor Mitchell Delivered Address on Part of Citizens--Major Good Replied.

C Company, 140th Battalion, left at 6.30 last evening for St. John by special train. In spite of the heavy rain, hundreds of people were at the C.P.R. station to see the soldier boys away. The fair sex was much in evidence and many tears were shed.

The company fell in at five o'clock at the Exhibition Grounds. His Worship Mayor Mitchell, on behalf of the citizens of Fredericton, delivered an address which was replied to by Major F. A. Good, officer commanding the company. Headed by the 140th files and drums, the company then marched to the C.P.R. station, via Saunders and York streets. There was a long wait at the station until the regular train left and the troop train was loaded, but the friends and admirers of the 140th remained in the rain until the train pulled out.

Mayor's Address.

The address by Mayor Mitchell was as follows:

Major Good, Officers and Men of C Company, 140th Battalion:

It again becomes my privilege, representing the citizens of Fredericton, to say a word of good-bye to another company of loyal Canadian men, who have volunteered for overseas service.

You are going forth to fight under the grand old Union Jack, that flag that for a thousand years has braved the battle and the breeze, the flag that has always stood for Justice, Liberty and Freedom. Knowing you as we do, we feel confident that every man of you will do his duty and that your company will uphold the highest traditions of the British army, and add fresh laurels to the already memorable achievements of Canadians on the firing line.

The citizens of this fair City of Fredericton where you have made your home for some months, and where you have made many friends and admirers, are loath to say good-bye.

We realize, however, that you have undertaken a great task, which calls you to the other side of the ocean.

In no place in Canada will your progress be followed with more anxiety and more fervent prayers than in this old elm shaded city, where many of you have resided since the day of your birth and childhood.

You are among those who have responded to the call to Canadians to do their part in upholding the honor and integrity of the empire.

You are fully justified in giving your support and sympathy to the armies of Britain and her Allies, who are fighting the world's battle in a righteous cause.

This is the greatest war the world has ever known, and the situation is necessarily serious. We must be prepared to meet with reverses, which no doubt, at times will come, but these reverses, we trust, will only be of a local character. Success will surely come to us if we put our full trust in Him who ruleth all things.

History very plainly tell us the fate of the rulers of nations in the past, who have tried to rule the world with the iron heel of militarism, and we are fully confident that the rulers of the nations who have brought this cruel and destructive war upon the world will meet with a similar fate, and we will still continue to rally around the old flag, upon whose colors the sun never sets.

You have spent some months in training in our city. We feel satisfied that you have done your best to improve the time in order that you may be ready for active service at the earliest possible date.

Major Good, I wish to compliment you upon the soldierly appearance of your men. The splendid condition of your company speaks well for the efficient work of you and your officers, during the short time you have been in training.

Now, you are about to leave Fredericton to finish your training in other parts, we are justly proud of you and we know that in whatever field of action you may be placed, that you will reflect great credit upon your home and country.

We who remain behind will watch your record with interest and you may rest assured that we are keeping the home fires burning and thinking of you, working for you and praying for your safe return.

MOSES MITCHELL,

Mayor.

Ottawa, June 13.—Any doubt that the three million rounds of defective small arms ammunition sold by the Militia Department was resold to the Admiralty at a profit, was removed this morning when the Davidson inquiry resumed.

Auditor General Fraser produced a cable from the Colonial Secretary stating that the price paid by the Admiralty for the ammunition was $25 per thousand f.o.b. Canada, plus freight and insurance.

Portrait of Chief Justice WAS UNVEILED

A magnificent life-sized portrait of Chief Justice Ezekiel McLeod was unveiled this morning in the Supreme Court Chamber on the occasion of the sitting of the Appeal Division of the Supreme Court.

His Honor the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice White, and Mr. Justice Grimmer, were on the bench. The members of the bar present were: A. R. Slipp, K.C., M.P.P., Dr. T. C. Allen, K.C., P. J. Hughes, E. A. McKay, J. J. F. Winslow, H. G. Fenety, Havelock Coy, J. T. Sharkey and C. D. Richards.

The portrait was placed upon an easel in the eastern end of the chamber. The unveiling was done by Mr. Winslow at the close of an address by Mr. Slipp.

The latter in the course of his remarks, referred to the length of service of His Honor and to the high regard in which he was held by all members of the bar of New Brunswick.

The Chief Justice in reply said that he had completed twenty years of service as a Judge of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, having first sat on the Supreme Court Bench on June 2, 1896. In those twenty years he had been absent from only one session of the court. He appreciated deeply the kindly regard of the bar, and could say that he always had endeavored to do his duty. He felt he had been treated fairly and well by members of the bar. He could not say how long he would remain Chief Justice. That depended upon his health, but he had no desire to remain in the position after the time the bar might think he had been there too long. He thanked them from the bottom of his heart.

The portrait will be hung upon the walls of the chamber. It is the work of Mr. Robert Harris, R.C.A., of Montreal. It is a most lifelike presentation of the Chief Justice, the painter having caught one of his most characteristic expressions.
