

NEW BRUNSWICK FISHERY LEASES TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION ON APRIL 7, NEXT

Upset prices totalling more than $83,000 have been established for the 57 stretches of salmon and trout streams which are to be sold at public auction by the Government of New Brunswick on April 7th next.

Complete data covering this sale of fishing leases is given today in a statement issued by Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Minister of Lands and Mines. Concurrent with the issuing of this statement the Minister of Lands and Mines has authorized the publication of a specially prepared pamphlet, which contain a sketch map of the province, showing the location of the 57 stretches being offered for sale; a detailed list of these stretches, together with a brief description of same; and the official terms and conditions of the new leases.

Announcement is also made by the Minister that the leases of these angling rights will be for a term of ten years from March 1st, 1932.

Start in Morning

The auction sale of the leases will be conducted at Fredericton, starting at 9 o'clock on the morning of April 7th and will be in charge of the Department of Lands and Mines. This sale has always attracted considerable attention and the bidders will doubtless include a most noted array of sportsmen of America, and perhaps of Europe. At any rate it is expected that representatives of several well known syndicates will be present when the auctioneer, an official of the Department of Lands and Mines, who was in charge of the former sale five years ago, opens with the time honored question "What am I offered for these exclusive angling rights on these world-famed streams?"

The sale this year embraced waters formerly under lease located in all parts of the province of New Brunswick.

There has been some re-alignment of the leases and on rivers where there was only one stretch available for leasing in previous sales, the government has decided to divide the stretch into two or more leases. Already the Minister has been advised by several present holders of the leases, being offered for sale, of their desire to renew these leases and applications for information and data respecting the sale, are daily being received at the Department of Lands and Mines.

Many Stretches

Whereas on the occasion of the last sale only 16 stretches were offered, this year 57 stretches will be submitted to prospective bidders. The present holders are largely American sportsmen, and, there has been established by them exclusive fishing clubs in New Brunswick on such streams as the Restigouche, Tobique, Kedgwick, and Miramichi. The Restigouche Salmon Club, of which Henry W. DeForest, of 30 Broad Street, New York, Chairman of the Southern Pacific Railway, is President, is one of the most noted organizations of its kind on the continent. This club has exclusive fishing privileges on 25 miles of the Restigouche River and the members have expended rather large sums of money in the development of fly fishing on that stream. They have borne a large share of the cost of a thorough system of protection of these waters, which has resulted in a steadily increasing number of Atlantic silver salmon in the Restigouche. The same methods have been carried out in a lesser degree by the members of the Nictau Salmon Club, and the Tobique Salmon Club, on the Tobique River. The Restigouche Salmon Club is an organization in which the memberships, like heirlooms, have been handed down from one generation to the next in the famous families listed on the club roll.

In his announcement today the Minister of Lands and Mines points out that the leases have been numbered from 1 to 57 and the numbers will be drawn for and offered for sale in the order drawn. He also points out that immediately after a lease is knocked down the successful bidder must give the name of the purchaser, and make payment of the amount bid, in cash or by certified check, immediately. The angling lease will then be issued to the purchaser named. Should any purchaser fail to comply with the condition regarding payment the lease will be put up for sale forthwith and sold to a new purchaser.

Here and There

In 1930 the Canadian Pacific Railway paid out in taxes in Canada $7,447,605 and for the year 1931 its taxes will run to over $7,500,000. This brings the company's total tax payments in Canada from its incorporation to date to more than $121,000,000.

Nova Scotia is coming into its own as a holiday province. In 1931 more than a quarter of a million tourists visited the province, the largest number of summer visitors in its history, according to records by Hon. P. C. Black, provincial Minister of Highways.

To have joined the Canadian Pacific Railway at the time of its organization in 1881 and in the last seven years to have examined more men for promotion to engineer rank, than any other employee of the company, is the outstanding record of Albion Maynes, of Toronto, who has just retired from the position of Rule Examiner for the Motive Power department at Montreal.

The Brockville Recorder in a recent editorial urges all Canadians who are figuring on holidaying outside the Dominion this winter to consider the advantages of British Columbia where the Canadian dollar stands at par and where the climate is the equal of any to be found in the United States. Great Britain, the editorial adds, has set the example for Britishers which Canadians should be patriotic enough to follow.

The high reputation of Canada for the pacific settlement of disputes with foreign powers is an example that exerts considerable influence in the councils of the League of Nations and indicates that the Dominion should play an important part in the coming disarmament conference at London, says Colonel David Carnegie, C. Beginning their first Canadian tour, the ski teams of the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge, arriving at Halifax by Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm, went on via Montreal to Lucerne in Quebec and from thence went to Ste. The teams were welcomed at the Windsor station, Montreal by Lord Duncannon, son of the Governor-General, himself an under-graduate of Cambridge University.

PHOTOS BAD ENOUGH BUT THE RACKET'S WORSE

(New York Sun)

To the list of rackets of the milder type which thrive in New York and which were exposed in a recent article in The Sun's Rays, there is one to be added which has as its center of operations the heart of the financial district. It has to do with the taking of photographs for passport purposes and collects its victims at the very doors of the United States Sub-Treasury, at Bond and Wall streets.

It is at the Sub-Treasury that the U. S. Passport Bureau is now situated and it is there that the prospective traveler abroad must go to file an application for the document which became indispensable during the war, but now seems to serve no other purpose than to create a source of revenue for this Government which issues it and the others which collect a goodly amount for visa.

Upon receiving the application blank, the applicant is told that two photographs of a specified size and type will be required. This seems a simple matter, inasmuch as the street outside is infested with men advertising "studios" where passport photographs are taken and delivered in five minutes at the price of 25 cents each.

Our traveler consequently adjourns to the so-called studio, usually in a tumble-down shack nearby, and the man in charge quickly reproduces a perfect rogues gallery alleged likeness of him. Nothing surprising in that; it is a well known fact that the world's worst photographs are those to be seen on passports.

"$1.50 please," says the man. "What do you mean, $1.50? Your sign said 25 cents apiece and you confirmed that price when I came in." "Just so; six photographs at 25 cents each." "But I told you it was for a passport and that I needed only two."

"So you did; but six is our minimum." And there you are; take it or leave it, but you'll take it if you know what is good for you, for if you don't a flowing stream of invectives and threats will be let loose against you.

THE WOMEN GAIN A POINT IN CONTROVERSY

(Kansas City Times)

Science has come to the aid of the women in a long standing controversy. It has been the view of the women that the men were vain, conceited and the victims of self-esteem, while the women—well, just leave it to the men to discover all their defects. Now a psychologist tests hundreds of men and women students in four eastern colleges and universities and proves the point of the women's argument all along. The men were able to find that they had only 10 unpleasant traits with 26 of the agreeable kind. They could see but a dozen good characteristics in women, but 29 of the opposite nature. The women found the men with 21 undesirable traits, as against 11 of the other kind, but they readily conceded that their own sex had 18 unpleasant traits and only 14 that could be listed as pleasant.

Here is a chance for the men to do the right and generous thing and help the women out in extending the list of fine points until it would completely overshadow the 18 confessed defects. But the men would never do it, which is just a point at issue. The men had their chance when the psychologist was making his test and, as usual, they displayed their selfishness by passing it up. They stand discredited and their opinions about themselves naturally are valueless. The mean things!

"If women ever dominate the world," says Gilbert K. Chesterton, "civilization must perish." Such a daring statement should inspire a vigorous resolution.

One of the marvelous tricks done by radio is that of lifting a man to the realm of the stars, through the medium of divine music, then dropping him into a can of soup.
