Lewisville, N. B. Juniors Won

Lewisville Neptunes Captured Maritime Intermediate Title, Defeating Amherst Club 8 to 2 in Diamond Final of Maritime Season.

Amherst, N. S., Oct. 17—The Maritime baseball season was brought to a close here today when the Lewisville Neptunes clinched the Maritime Provinces intermediate baseball title by defeating the St. Stephen's Church team of Amherst, 8 to 2. For seven innings the two teams offered good baseball but with darkness settling on the field the Amherst aggregation put up a weird display as they endeavored to stall for time, in order to have the engagement called with the count to revert to even innings.

The count stood at 2 to 2 when Neptunes went into the first of the eighth. Clarke filled the bases, and the veteran Art Forbes was sent in as his relief. Forbes promptly gave the Moncton team a tally, and they other players came home. Five passes were issued in this inning along with two singles. Tommy Spence checked the visitors when he tagged Quinn as the Neptune base-runner stole home with Spence waiting, ball in hand.

Made Losers Finish

Umpire MacDonald promptly sent the St. Stephen's team to bat and, although the spectators could hardly see the ball, the locals finished their inning.

A force-out at second after Roach had singled was followed with a short toss to first base and a strike-out by Cormier to finish the game.

Until the eighth inning it was a good game of ball, with Davey Clark and Cormier engaged in a pitching duel. Clark allowed five hits and had 11 strike-outs while Cormier gave four hits and had three strike-outs.

The Neptunes scored two runs in the second inning when John MacKenzie letBoudreau's single get away from him in centre. Melanson went home on the blom an dBoudreau scored before the erring fielder could retrieve the ball.

Spence and Don Cameron registered for St. Stephen's in the fifth on Sherman Roach's hard drive, but with two men on the sacks Jim Cameron grounded out to Cormier.

As a result of the victory here today both junior and intermediate baseball titles rest in Moncton until the season of 1933. Hector MacDonald of Amherst and Belliveau of Moncton handled the game today.

COCHRANE AND WALBERG SLATED IN ANOTHER BIG MACK DEAL

New York, Oct. 17—More members of the Athletics are to be sold down the river. The announcement of the disposal of Al Simons, Mule Haas and Jimmy Dykes to the Chicago White Sox is only one of the baseball bambs Connie Mack is about to throw. The identity of the other men is not revealed, but it is said that George Earnshaw and Mickey Cochrane are slated to play on other teams. George Walberg, the big southpaw, who had a pretty good season, is another member of the Mack cast who is on the market, according to word from Philadelphia.

While the Athletics cleaned $200,000 red off their ledger by the deal with Chicago they pulled a masterstroke in building up interest in baseball. Chicago went sour on the Sox in 1920, when most of the mighty machine was sold out to gamblers in the world series of 1919 were eased out of baseball. More than $500,000 has been spent in vain by the Sox since that 1919 team went wrong.

President Lou Comiskey of the Chicago American League team showed great courage last season when he traded players right and left to get men he thought were better. They failed him on the season's record, but he insisted they needed other players to build the team.

With one swift move he made a proposition to Connie Mack for several of his stars, and the first announcement from the manager of the Athletics that he had sold tree of his men to Comiskey for a large sum of money is taken as an indication that the Chicago club owners are prepared to spend $500,000 more to get a winner in the Windy City.

It is known that Chicago is after another star outfielder, a winning right-handed pitcher and a top-notch southpaw. That report has stirred up the American League more than the deal of Simmons, Haas and Dykes. Some are inclined to think that the southpaw who will go to Chicago is Lefty Grove.

HORNSBY OUT OF CASH

Chicago, Oct., 17—Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, High Commissioner of Baseball, denied Rogers Hornsby a share in the world series cash yesterday.

The judge wrote Hornsby a letter at his home near St. Louis, Mo., in which he cited the baseball code which provides that only these players eligible to compete in the series are entitled to share in its profits.

Hornsby managed the Cubs for two thirds of last season. After he was replaced on August 4 by Charlie Grimm, the Cubs players voted against giving him a share of the proceeds. Hornsby protested formally to Landis, who explained he did not reply until yesterday because he had been ill.

LATE DEFOREST

Long Beach, Oct. 17—Jimmy DeForest, the old conditioner of ring champions, was buried yesterday, but only a few of pugilism's faithful were present to assist at the funeral of the once famous trainer.

Jack Dempsey was there to pay his last respects to the man who had groomed him for his spectacular riumph over Jes Williard under the boiling sun in Toledo 13 years ago. Te Manassa Mauler was the chief mourner from the pugilistic world and acted as pall bearer.

Burial was in the family plot in Woodbine Cemetery, West Long Beach.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 17—When the depression left B. H. Purdy without a job he didn't have to stand in the breadline nor live with relatives.

He trained two dogs to make a living for him. The dogs, of mostly German shepherd parentage, are trained as walking signboards. They attract attention toting theater advertisements. In Denver they were used in a charity drive.

Purdy travels from city to city hiring out his dogs.

FAVORS BIG LOOP

Providence, R.I., Oct. 17—Judge James E. Dooley, President of the Canadian-American Hockey League, yesterday stated that no definite plan to increase his circuit by the addition of clubs from the Eastern Canada Hockey Association such s have been suggested in Montreal news reports have been submitted to him.

Judge Dooley said he would favor the addition of two more teams, provided they could assure satisfactory conditions and obtained permision to play in territory controlled by the National Hockey League.

SWEEPSTAKES

(Reprinted from the Mail and Empire, Toronto, Sept. 29)

A recent survey made throughout the Dominion to determine the sentiment regardin gsweepstakes operated to benefit worthy charities has disclosed interesting reactions, according to a statement issued by a committee of liberal minded Canadians, who undertook the inquiry.

According to the report of this committee, sixty-eight perecent of the Canadians interviewed would welcome the opportunity of subscribing to legally conducted charity sweepstakes, provided the Government, religious groups, veterans relief organizations, hospitals or some other worthy causes benefit thereby.

The questionnaire was distributed to more than 10,000 Canadians, residing in every province in the Dominion. In many instances, those interviewed praised the Canadian Army and Navy Veteran's sweepstakes activities, which to date has given more than $1,500,000 to veterans' relief, from funds derived from such sweeps. Others explained that they were regular subscribers to the Irish Hospitals sweeps because they felt it was a cause worthy of support.

HOCKEY GLIMMERS

Calgary, Oct. 17—Two hockey stars, Fred Hergert and Sweeney Schriner, of the Southern Alberta Amateur League have accepted contracts to play with the Chicago Black Hawkes in the National Hockey League, major professional circuit. Both will leave Calgary shortly for Chicago to prepare for this winter's campaign.

Hergert and Schriner were stars of the Calgary Broncs who entered the Allan Cup playdowns last winter, losing out in the Western Canadian final to Fort William's crack sextet.

MAY DISBAND

Drumheller, Alta., Oct. 17 — Quick on the heels of the announcement Fred Hergert and Sweeney Schrimr would join the Black Hawkes in the National Hockey League, the Drumheller Miners announced last night they would withdraw from the Southern Alberta Amateur Hockey League.

Hergert, who played with Calgary Bronks last year, was to have played with the Miners this year and his loss together with that of several othei players, necessitated withdrawal from the league, said Lee Drumheller, president of the club.

A week ago the High River Fliers found they would be unable to participate in the Southern Alberta League this year and withdrew. With Miners also out, only the two Calgary teams, Bronks and Maroons, are left.

It is considered likely the league may disband but definite decision will not be made until the annual meeting at the end of this month.

U. S. TOURISTS ARE OUT FOR THE PREMIUM

Toronto, Oct. 17—Many complaints by visitors who are being refused the exchange premium on Travelers' Cheques of the American Bankers Association, are coming to the Toronto Convention and Tourist Association offices, says E. R. Powell, director. The action of some Toronto merchants may seriously injure Canada's tourist business, he fears.

"When we advertise that $100 American is worth $108 to $110 in Canadian money, depending upon daily fluctuations, and offer this as an inducement to United States citizens to spend their vacation here, resentment is high when the visitors do not receive the premium that is rightly their due," Powell said.

Seats are selling rapidly for the big boxing bouts on Thursday night at the Armory. The event should go over well here, for the principals are first-class and the proceeds go to a worthy cause.

After watching Benny Leonard and Mickey Walker take lacings in come-back attempts, maybe Jack Dempsey will not be eager to try that precipitous trail. Of course, if Jack is out of money, he could quite easily collect a good share of dough, even if he did fail to show anything of his old-time genius. Almost anybody would be glad to raise some money these days, and Leonard, it is known, gathered in a fairly substantial amount in his stop-short journey back to the welterweight peak. Whether the original Manassa Mauler is apt to do this is a question, but it would be no surprise to us to see Dempsey back into the ring in a few months. Since his split with wife Estelle, Jack is known to have lost a considerable sum of cash and is nowhere near the rich man he once was.

Though the Green and White hasn't yet turned the tables on their old rivals, Saturday's 0-0 deadlock tells an interesting little story. It is quite a sure thing that the University of New Brunswick, condition and all, is not the team it once was. Granted City has some brand new stars—several of them from U. N. B.—nevertheless, the Red and Black of other years were a couple of tries better than a City team. Obviously City has the makings of a fine rugby team, and their glory is all the more deserved since their practice periods have been short, and not under the most favorable conditions. The general opinion on Saturday's game is that City should have won by at least one try.

This sharp reversal has been part reward for the Green and White's valiant efforts in recent years in keeping the game going here, and of instituting the use of glarelights for night practices, when it was impossible to practice otherwise. That the City has one of its best teams in late years is due in major part, however, to the consistent effort of the executives, who have spared no hardship or difficulty in keeping a Green and White team in uniform. And the obstacles in the way have been no trifles.
