A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

The outlook for Canada is good in everything and in every way. The Bank of Montreal's crop report brought down to last week from its branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific is about the most favorable yet received. It says the crops of the Prairie Provinces generally continue to make satisfactory progress, and wheat cutting is expected to be general in Manitoba in the first week in August. Moisture is ample except in Southern Saskatchewan where early sown grain is affected by dry weather and hot winds. On the other hand, crops in Northern Saskatchewan and Northeastern and Western Alberta would be benefited by warm, dry weather. Damage from all sources is not serious and is confined to scattered localities. In its business summary also the Bank reports that—

"Various factors combined this month to produce a greater buoyancy in the general outlook than has been observed for a long time past. Outweighing all other considerations in this respect is the fact that the Imperial Economic Conference has just convened at Ottawa—the most important gathering of matters connected principally with the improvement of trade and commerce that has ever been held under Empire auspices. In Canada, as elsewhere, it is regarded as a high adventure fraught with possibilities of great advantage to the British Empire primarily and to world conditions.

"In the process of liquidation Canada already has proceeded far. Capital structures have been reorganized, inventories written down, losses absorbed, and stocks, both wholesale and retail, reduced practically to a hand-to-mouth supply, thus putting business in a position for a sharp recovery when the turn comes. Meanwhile, no change of moment in the general business situation can be recorded. The bane of business is still the low level of commodity prices. Taking prices of 502 commodities in 1926 as 100, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports the index at the end of June as 66.6, compared with 67.7 in May, 1932, and 71.9 in June, 1931."

Whatever the cause may be, stocks in both Canada and the United States have taken a decided upward turn during the past few days. Such issues as C. P. R., Nickel, Dominion Bridge, Smelters and Shawinigan, largely held throughout the country have scored substantial advances. Already the appreciation amounts to many millions of dollars. It is certainly a very healthy sign of the times.

At the opening of the Imperial Conference at Ottawa last week, Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, former premiers of Canada occupied adjoining seats in the gallery. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, the only other ex-premier is one of Canada's delegates to the Conference.

A New York banking house admits that it lent the late Ivar Kreuger 15,000,000 without security, because he was such an honest man. The amount feature is that the loan was repaid, and the firm made money on it. In other words, the bankers' judgment was absolutely correct—for six months in 1930.

One advantage the defeated candidate always has over his successful opponent. He doesn't need to explain why he is unable to keep his campaign promises.

An animal act in vaudeville offers a trained pig that rides a velocipede. We had wondered before now where the hogs at the wheels of motor cars received the schooling.

Some, says, Babson, have lost everything but their integrity. Meanwhile, the hard-boiled investor is looking about for something whose bond is as good as its word.

Ely Culbertson says the factor of luck at cards is the only one beyond the control of the expert, which an old steamboat gambler might consider a rather native remark.

The coxswain, in the roto picture of the great rowing finish, is the bright little nipper down at the stern, who hasn't his head in his lap.

Due to the competition of domestic bathing pictures, one sees almost none of these days of Gandhi, the chap with ribs like a xylophone's.

Perhaps the cow's face is just constructed thus, and that sad expression isn't due primarily to cowboy tenors.

Cold feet, says a medical investigator, may be the result of temperament, as well as of disquieting rumors.

Another advantage the newspaper has over the radio is you can't put a radio in your shoes when they need half soling.

Louis Maurer, artists, dead at 100, may approximately be described as an old master.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

If the mind is well-filled, the eyes do not look vacant.

Women who have worn furs all summer won't recognize winter when it does come.

It seems as if statistics are mainly made to startle and alarm people.

All vice is disappointing, but it possesses its victims like seven devils.

Isn't the man who loves his neighbor as himself really only a figure of speech?

When you are in bad company, you seldom know how terribly bad it can be on occasion.

Shining new automobiles, running here and there are making the general situation look brighter.

A bachelor apartment building must be a lonely place in the daytime, with no neighbor women to dash to and fro, exchanging news.

Little complaint is made against laws that hit only an occasional sinner. It is the law that scatters like a sawed-off shotgun that is unpopular.

Whenever the laws undertake to make the people over instead of protecting them in their rights, there is going to be trouble. Making the people over is what religion is for.

Everybody is in favor of taxes, as soon as an economical principle. Personal adherence is academic, like looking out the window when a parade goes by. We don't like to join the procession because it huts our feet to march.

Died in Devon

Josiah Wood, aged 63, passed away at the Victoria Public Hospital last evening after a long illness. He was a resident of South Devon for the past 13 years and had been a well known contractor. His death will be regretted by all who knew him. Surviving besides the widow, Catharine Eve, are four sons, Raymond of McAdam; George N. of Sussex; Robert E. of Edmonton; Lloyd of Harvey Station; four daughters, Mrs. Donald Bird of North Devon; Mrs. Doris M. of Devon and Miss Louise E. of South Devon. Funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon with prayer at the late home at 2:15 o'clock and at St. Mary's Parish Church at 2:30. Rev. C. LeRoi Mooers will conduct the service and interment will be made at Sunnybank Cemetery.

Quality Funerals Economical in Cost

Those whom we serve absolutely control the cost of the funeral they select, yet, the services and furnishings we provide are never permitted to fall below our well known high standard of quality. In addition many conveniences and unusual services are available without extra charge.

Each Casket in our showroom bears a price card showing the entire cost of the funeral when that type of casket is selected. Not infrequently a family prefers an inexpensive funeral, but that is no reason why they should not secure one of quality and refinement. Prices, of course, are in keeping with our modern policy and much lower than you would expect to find.

Complete Funerals at $75, $100, $125 and upwards.
