ROOSEVELT WINS OUT

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor of the state of New York, was nominated as the Democratic candidate for president of the United States at Chicago yesterday on the fourth ballot by more than a four fifths vote of the delegates. A number of favorite son candidates, who had been put up for publicity purposes, with a view of keeping them in line for cabinet berths should the Democrats win the election, retired in his favor, but former governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, described by some of his admirers as "that great American statesman," hung out until the end. Smith received 190 1/2 votes, the bulk of which came from the large Eastern States, while the Western and Southern states swung almost solidly in line behind Roosevelt. Significant as it may seem Roosevelt was nominated without the support of Tammany Hall, and in spite of that great political organization. In this respect he has a precedent in the case of Woodrow Wilson in 1912, and another in the case of Grover Cleveland in 1884 and again in 1892.

The credit for swinging the convention in favor of Roosevelt after three ballots had been taken without a decision, is given to W. G. McAdoo of California, who was a member of the cabinet of President Wilson. The California delegation supported Speaker Garner of Texas, who also had behind him a solid delegation from his own state. The delegates from both states swung over to Roosevelt on the fourth ballot, and other western and southern states followed suit and victory for New York's popular governor was assured.

A message of thanks read from Governor Roosevelt after the vote had been taken announced that he would arrive in Chicago this afternoon. The choice of a candidate for vice-president is yet to be made but the convention will be likely to follow the advice of Roosevelt in making a selection. The names of McAdoo of California, Garner of Texas and Governor Ritchie of Maryland are mentioned and one of these three is likely to be chosen.

In selecting Franklin D. Roosevelt the convention chose the strongest man available and at this distance it looks as if he would be the next president of the great republic. Just what stand Al. Smith will take in the campaign is one of the problems confronting the Democratic party. Smith is feeling sore and has it in his power to do the party a lot of harm should he sulk in his tent.

The nomination of Governor Roosevelt should be very pleasing to New Brunswickers as for years he has maintained a summer home at Campobello Island in this province. Only last year three of his sons visited Fredericton on a fishing expedition at the Hartt's Island salmon pool. The governor has a genial personality, has a splendid political record and should make a good president.

Sherbrooke Record, (Ind.): Hon. George B. Jones, of Apohaqui, N. B., did the decent thing as soon as it was brought to his attention that indirectly his firm had sold a few groceries to a government institution. He resigned. The Hon. Mackenzie King went down to New Brunswick and helped to elect him. There had not been the uproar in the Senate had the erring Senators shown the same high principles. Mr. Jones was forgiven at once by his constituents, who endorsed him once again. His was a technical error on the part of a partner, and it had been the sporting thing to accord him an acclamation. It was a tactical blunder to oppose the New Brunswick member, and emphasizes the need of the Liberals for a wise leader.

HOLIDAY ATTRACTIONS OUTSIDE THE CITY DREW MANY OUT

The July 1st holiday, the last of the summer holidays, was observed here yesterday rather quietly, with the chief attractions being special shows at the motion pictures, softball and baseball games. A very large number went by motor car to Oromocto where splendid water sports and the Odd-fellows' picnic were held, and to other parts of the province, where similar programs were held. Many went to St. Andrews to witness the mock war demonstrations.

The I. O. O. F. picnic and dance at Oromocto was held under the auspices of the Oddfellows and Rebekahs. Supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. John's Church, Oromocto, and a large throng of people attended. In the evening the dance was held and the hall was packed.

The tennis tournament between the Martellos-Fredericton baseball game for spectators. The tennis match was held in the lower courts, with some splendid and competitive matches. Rain stopped the match before its conclusion, with the Fredericton club leading by a comfortable margin.

Mrs. A. W. Egecombe, who spent the winter in Vancouver, B. C., has arrived home to open up her house for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Crocket are the receiving congratulation on the arrival of a son, which took place this week.
