OUR FOREST PRODUCTS

Accordin gto a bulletin from the Department at Ottawa Canada's forest products give greater favorable balances of trade than any other class of products, due altogether, of course, to exports of pulp and paper which are admitted free into the United States because of the failing supply of the raw material across the border.

Nearly half of Canadas' exports to the United States during the five year period 1926-30 consisted of forest products. The average annual value was $231,631,180—49.2 per cent. of the total exports. The imports of forest products from the United States on the other hand, amounted to only $32,642,216. The difference, $198,989,034, was the chief factor in reducing the unfavorable trade balance. The pulp and paper industry is the most important manufacturing industry in Canada. During the five-year period 1926-30 the average contribution made by this industry to the wealth of the Dominion amounted to $221,000,000.

Investigation made by the Forest Service Department of the Interior, shows that although, owing to the ravages of fire and disease and to destructive exploitation, the supply of virgin timber throughout the Dominion has been seriously reduced, an area of about 200,000 square miles of mature timber remains that is accessible under present conditions and ready for exploitation by the lumber industry. There are also about 600,000 square miles of growing forest. These area, if properly protected from fire and disease and managed by proper forestry methods, are capable of yielding in perpetuity considerably more than the present annual consumption of timber; but if adequate measures are not taken the forest industries will be forced to curtail production.

Sir Gilbert Parker, eminent novelist and former member of the Imperial Parliament, passed away at his London home yesterday. He was a native of Canada, who had made a name for himself in the field of literature and as a statesman. For eighteen years he sat in Parliament as member for Gravesend, and was honored with knighthood in 1902, and later created a baronet and made a member of the Privy Council. Sir Gilbert's death will be deeply regretted by his fellow Canadians.

At the Council meeting last evening it was suggested by Ald. Dougherty that a little less energy on the part of the police in trailing citizens to see if they observe the stop signs and more activity in an effort to put a stop to petty burglaries might meet with the approval of the taxpayers. The alderman correctly voiced public sentiment, but he might have given the guardians of the peace some credit for their efforts in rounding up the culprits who allow dogs to go about the streets unleashed.

The city council last evening voted the sum of $8,000 for the construction of new concrete sidewalks. The sidewalks are needed, can be cheaply constructed and will provide employment for men who need it. Still His Worship the Mayor did well to sound a warning note against increased expenditure. In times like this it is necessary for all governing bodies to sail close to the wind.

Owing to business depression in the United States, both Republicans and Democrats are finding it very difficult to raise campaign funds. There is a big falling off compared with the campaign of four years ago and rigid economy has to be exercised.

Governor Roosevelt, Democratic candidate, plans to start on a speaking tour of the west on September 12th. His itinerary will take in twenty four states.

Burglaries are becoming altogether too numerous in this city of late and greater vigilance on the part of the police would seem to be in order. This is a time of great business depression and merchants cannot afford to be robbed.

The Canadian dollar moved up to 90 and 13-16 in New York yesterday. Another hopeful sign of the time is an increase of $15,000 in the gross earnings of C. P. R. for the last ten days of August over the corresponding period of last year.

The perfect city has fourteen points according to one authority, including the point where the taxpayers decide that they are not getting much for their money.

Complete data on the Piccard expedition into the upper either will not be available for a time. He is believed, however to have found new changes in the old place.

And now China is to have a Hitler or a Mussolini; and that may be exacly what China needs; although Italy and Germany may not.

A College president says that modern girls are far more clever than theirs mothers were. He's been listening to the girls, we fear.

They say Shakespeare never told the same story twice, but theres' nothing unusual in that. Plenty of court witnesses have the same record.

Commercial candor among the notices of auctions in a Norfolk, Va., paper: :"Bankrupt sale of thriving drug business etc."

A magazine prize contest puts the question. "How would you get rid of a million dollars?" Nothing could be further from what we had in mind.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. and Mrs. B. C. Foster motored to Perth yesterday and spent a very pleasant day at Ann's Tea Rooms and Cabins.

Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, is in the city. He is a guest of the Barker House.

With a New York breaking an outfielder's jaw in two places, the soul of Jawn McGraw, retired, may be said to be marching on.

GREAT SHOW AT GAIETY

The show at the Gaiety for Wednesday and Thursday is 70,000 witnesses and its' a swell show.

This new opus has everything to hold the spectator enthralled—mystery, comedy, romance suspense and thrills in large, lively doses.

Charlie Ruggles, as a tippling reporter who broadcasts a play-by-play account of the game and assists considerably in the solving of the mystery, does a neat little job of stealing the picture. He has a constant fire of gorgeous gags and is simply grand every second he's on the screen.

Delightful Tea

Mrs. J. H. Barry was hostess at a mose delightful tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Brunswick St., in honor of her daughter-in-law Mrs. Paul R. Barry, of New York. She was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Paul Barry. The house was profusily decorated with cut flowers.

Puzzled look on the face of the guest at dinner when the family joke is sprung doesn't indicate that he is happy.
