Because a man has an imagination is no reason why he should use it in inventing lies.

If more than three people are interested in the same hobby they will form a club.

Edna St. Vincent Millay, Noted Poet Who Reads Her Own Works in Four Broadcasts over NBC Networks

She only recently returned from a trip to Europe and plans to leave immediately after her radio for an extended tour of Africa.

Whenever Miss Millay reads in public, she receives hundreds of requests to read particular poems. Accordingly she will, in her closing broadcast, reads the poem requested by the greatest number.

On each of the first three broadcasts which will be heard at 11.00 P. M., A. S. T., over NBC-WJZ networks, on Sundays, December 25, January 1, and 8, listeners will be asked to write to the NBC naming their favorite Millay poem. On the fourth Sunday, Miss Millay will read the poem which received the greatest number of votes.

Junior League Head in "Art Appreciation" Radio Series, WLW

Miss Cherry Greve, society girl and president of the Cincinnati Junior League, is now being heard over station WLW in a new series of weekly broadcasts entitled "Art Appreciation." She will speak over the WLW microphones every Saturday morning 10.00 to 10.15 o'clock A. S. T.

CHERRY GREVE

A member of the Cincinnati Art Museum staff and art critic of the Cincinnati Times-Star, Miss Greve is well known not only as a thorough student of art but also as an artist of exceptional abilities. She has studied under such famous European masters as Desjols at the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Fontainebleau, France, and for three summers under Henry B. Snell in Belgium, Germany and Portugal. She is a graduate of Radcliffe College.

Miss Greve's broadcast series will include critical discussions of the more prominent works of art that may be found hanging in American galleries.

"I Do Hereby Solemnly Resolve—"

The New Year's resolutions of sundry New Yorkers will be uttered into WABC-Columbia microphones on Sunday, January 1, when Ted Husing talks to passers-by in Times Square. The rustling of new leaves turned over will serve as sound effects.

Husing, equipped with a lapel "mike" will conduct the interviews from 1:45 A. M., to 2:00 A. M., A. S. T. at a time when the tender young resolutions which have such a high mortality rate are still fresh and vibrant.

The "man in the street" broadcasts arranged recently by Columbia have drawn such crowds that police protection has been necessary. For Sunday's program it has been suggested that the squad arrive in a water wagon instead of a patrol wagon.

'CRASH COVER' VALUE TAKES A BAD FALL

(New York Sun)

Again the subject is philately or the gentle art of stamp collecting. Since the advent of the airplane as a successor to the pony express and iron horse, airmail items have grown in popularity with collectors. One of the thousand forms of this pastime is the collection of "crash covers," charred bits of envelope and stamps rescued from the wreckage of a mail pilot's plane. One such cover recently found its way into the hands of a local collector. The name of the Ohio town at which the crash occurred coincided exactly with the collector's surname. Of course this lent added value, but even without it the collector was convinced he had something of a rarity. The illusion was shattered by his visit to a stamp exhibition of airmail stamps showed a cover from the same wreck. The supposed value dropped quicker than the airplane had.

For the Women

DRYING HOSE OVERNIGHT

It is sometimes necessary in an emergency or on an overnight visit away from home, to wash out a pair of hose and make certain of their being dry early in the morning.

If they are hung from the garter band of the hose, the moisture naturally runs down from the whole stocking to the foot, which may still be damp by morning. On the other hand, if they hang from the toe the garter band may remain wet.

Hang the stocking from the band, but instead of leaving it to hang straight down, take up the toe also and attach that to the line, so that the stocking hangs in a V-shaped. The point of the V is, of course, the sheer silk part, where any moisture seeping down from the heavier parts will be at once absorbed and dried. This will insure overnight drying in almost any weather.

WAIST LINES

At last that fickle Paris, in the mid-season fashion shows, has settled upon the normal waistline with only a few dissenting voices. High evening dress waists may occasionally be noted. Agreement is also pretty general now on skirt lengths, ten inches off the ground being accepted for daytime frocks.

WOODEN FLOWERS

To add a bright spot to a dark corner in winter time, the London ladies are using hand-painted wooden flowers in pottery jugs. The flowers done in natural shapes and colors, add a formal but lively note. Another idea, for a sunny corner, is an aquarium, with or without fish but containing a china "rock garden" with china flowers and a collection of gay little china animals.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING

1 lb. seeded raisins
1 lb. English currants
1 lb. beef suet
1 lb. flour
1 small, grated nutmeg
1-2 lb. candied citron, chopped fine
4 eggs
1-2 pint milk
A dash of salt and pepper
Flour the fruit and grind the suet and mix; mix in the eggs and milk last. Pack the mixture tightly in little aluminum pans, about four or five inches wide, and tie over the tops cheesecloth, kept snugly in place with string. The pudding must be kept intact. Place it in boiling water and let boil for six hours.

Time goes on and on. What does our little portion of it amount to?

SAUCE

1 pint boiling water
1 cup sugar
Butter the size of an egg. Cook it up and after removing from the fire, add a bit of vinegar. This gives a nice flavor.

Another English pudding that must be "baldy" good is English "Baldy" pudding.

COTTAGE CHEESE AND CARROT SALAD

1-2 pound cottage cheese
1 teaspoon chives
1 1-2 cups raw carrots, grated
1-2 teaspoon salt
Mix chives which have been finely chopped, with the cottage cheese; season with salt, and serve on lettuce leaves. Make a border of the grated raw carrots around the cheese and garnish with tiny circles or strips cut from a green pepper.

SCANDINAVIANS PLAN LOANS TO HELP THE IDLE

Stockholm, Sweden, Dec. 29—Preparing a series of unemployment propositions in the Scandinavian countries, the city of Stockholm, and the Swedish government are laying plans for a number of huge loans.

Stockholm is planning to make a public issue of 50,000,000 crowns ($8,750,000 at current exchange) to cover the costs of local improvements.

The Swedish government in the near future is expected to float an issue for the conversion of the 1932 loan, of which 66,000,000 crowns $11,000,000 are outstanding.

Down in Denmark, Premier T. A. M. Stauning's Socialist government also is planning a large internal loan for unemployment relief, it is understood, while in Norway similar schemes may be expected following the anticipated downfall of the present Farmer government early in 1933.

Unemployment in Sweden number approximately 125,000. It promises to be a difficult winter, particularly in Northern Sweden and Norway for conditions there already are distressing. Many families in Northern Sweden will be forced to send their children south this winter to seek shelter in more prosperous homes.

"Women have less imagination than men?" What man could think up so many ways to mess up a salad?

But, alas, your grandchildren will think you a liar when you tell them how cheap you could have bought in 1932.
