

Her Heart Was So Bad Couldn't Do Housework

Mrs. S. Dragoman, R.R. 2, Midland, Ont., writes:—"I had been troubled with heart trouble for many years. My heart would beat so fast I could hardly breathe, and I had headaches, and dizzy and fainting spells. I couldn't get my housework done I was so weak. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and felt much better, and now I would not be without them in the house."

BEAVER TRAPPED BY FALLING TREE

Lansing, Mich., June 1—Woodsmen are not the only ones occasionally caught by falling trees. Wesley Miller came upon a live beaver that had been caught by a tree that had been completely severed at the base. The beaver was released.

HOLLAND STORING MILLIONS OF EGGS

Amsterdam, June 1—To halt the drop in egg prices the government has provided cold storage for 100,000,000 eggs and has guaranteed the price at $1.39 per hundred.

Probably before Noah took to the ark he had spent everything he had laid aside for a rainy day.

VON PAPEN, FORMER WAR-TIME ATTACHE IN UNITED STATES, ASKED TO FORM A GOVERNMENT

Berlin, Germany, May 31—President Paul von Hindenburg today called upon a war-time military associate—and incidentally a man who was indicted in New York in 1916 in connection with an alleged conspiracy to blow up the Welland Canal in Ontario—to form a temporary Government for Germany.

He is Franz von Papen, German military attache in the United States early in the war until Washington demanded his withdrawal, and later a general staff officer of the Kaiser's Imperial Army.

Von Papen was said also to have been involved in attempts to destroy munitions factories in the United States which were making war material for the Allied forces and to have attempted to frustrate work in others.

At the time of his recall Count Dumba and the late Karl Boy-ed, other attaches of the German Embassy at Washington, went home with him.

Both were accused at the time of being implicated in espionage and sabotage activities in the United States and Canada.

The President commissioned Von Papen to form a "National Concentration Cabinet" to carry on until fall.

Refuse Support

Adolf Hitler's National Socialist (Fascist) Party announced through its headquarters it would withhold support from a Cabinet formed by Herr Von Papen. It was expected however, that the Hitlerites would be given a chance to make good their claim that they could control the Reichstag if given the chance in a general election.

(The present Reichstag was elected in 1930 and has more Social Democrats (Socialists) than any other group. In state elections this year, however, the Fascists wiped out Socialist control in Prussia and elsewhere. Normally general elections would not be held until 1934, but could be called at any time by the President.)

The man chosen to succeed Dr. Heinrich Brüning, as Chancellor is, like his predecessor, a Conservative Centrist (Catholic), but hails from the Army group of that party.

One of the reasons why the President dispensed with Dr. Brüning was because he felt the Army would not be behind him in the case of disorders.

Von Papen is 50 years old and has been in political life for a decade, having been elected to the Prussian Diet in 1921.

As soon as he received his instructions, Von Papen began to list his choice of Ministers, but declined to give any hint of his choices.

The President's selection came late in a most tiring of receiving the leaders of various parties interspersed with a few instances of disorders.

The Nazis of Hitler put on demonstrations in front of the Presidential Palace while political conferences were going on inside, several times massing in front and shouting, "Hail, Hitler!"

Fire On Crowd

In Unter, Den Linden, Joseph Goebbels, Herr Hitler's chief lieutenant, tried to address a crowd, but was moved on by the police. In fashionable Bendler Strasse, crowds stoned the police, who responded with their pistols, wounding a woman. Three policemen were injured and six persons were arrested.

There was a deal of political speculation on Von Papen's designation because of his Catholic affiliations and the nature of his career.

Von Papen is a principal stockholder in the Catholic organ "Germania" but he was expected to withdraw from the Centrist Party because he was commissioned to pick a concentration cabinet.

Thus he will be forced to issue invitations to those who would be strong enough and receptive enough to join such a government.

The consensus appeared to be that a Von Papen Cabinet would be almost extremely Rightist and Conservative in its strategic positions.

Likely Choices

There were indications that Baron

Wilhelm Von Gayl, organizer of the anti-Bolshevik forces of East Prussia in 1919, would be the choice for the interior. Thus this representative of the East Prussian junker Landowners would have charge of the huge police forces of the nation.

The foreign post is likely to fall to Ambassador Von Neurath, who at present is at the Court of St. James.

General Kurt Von Schleicher, generally credited with participation in the Nationalist camarilla, which forced Dr. Brüning's resignation, may get the Ministry of Defence, carrying the command of Germany's armed forces.

Dr. Karl Goerdeler, "police dictator" under Dr. Brüning, is slated for the Labor portfolio.

Others have not been definitely selected, although several names have been mentioned for them. But it was regarded as probable that a Cabinet of Rightists would be selected by tomorrow or Thursday at the latest for presentation to the President.

ing for salmon with a fly there in those days," he went on, "and it would have been scarcely worth while as the pool was swept with drift-nets every night. Of late years the pool has been protected and the result has been marvellous."

Caught Big One

George Freeman of Worcester, Mass., who has been fishing at the Hart's Island Pool this week with Roland Wheeler as Guide, hooked and landed a seventeen pound salmon yesterday. Two years ago, Mr. Freeman, who is an annual visitor caught a twenty-four pounder at this pool.

Having Good Sport

Three other Americans, in addition to George Freeman of Worcester, have been fishing at the Hart's Island pool this week with Roland Wheeler, Walter Wheeler and Raymond Currie as guides. They are Dr. Masten of Thompson, Conn., James Sinclair of Providence, R. I., and Richard Ellick of Boston. Dr. Masten caught a seventeen pounder, Mr. Sinclair landed three, the smallest a ten pounder and Mr. Ellick, two, the smallest a twelve pounder. It is needless to say all are greatly delighted with their success.

Messrs. Sinclair and Ellick are returning home this evening but the others will remain another week.

Mr. Freeman is the only one of the quartette who has had previous experience at salmon angling.

MAY THIS YEAR A LITTLE WARMER THAN LAST YEAR

The month of May this year was slightly warmer, on the average than last year. The mean temperature this year was 53.2 degrees while last year it was 52 degrees. While the general temperature was higher, the weather was more disagreeable with spells of hot and cold. There was also more rain fall this year and more hours of sunshine.

Following are the statistics for May 1931 and 1932; maximum temperature 1932, 89 degrees, 1931, 87 degrees; mean temperature, 1932, 53.12 degrees and 1931, 52 degrees; low temperature, 1932, 29 degrees and 1931, 25 degrees; rainfall 1932, 3.16 inches and 1931, 2.81 inches; hours of sunshine, 1932, 235 hours and 1931, 201 hours.

CONFERS WITH PREMIER

Ottawa, Ont., May 31—As a guest of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, Lord Beaverbrook paid a flying visit to Ottawa today. The British peer was in Ottawa for only a few hours and nearly all that time was spent with the Prime Minister. Lord Beaverbrook left Ottawa early this evening.

MR. DAWSON REVIEWS THE COTTON TRADE

Montreal, May 31—If there were any assurance that 1932 would mark the end of the industrial depression and the company's mills would soon operate at capacity, there would be every reason for resumption of common dividend payments. A. O. Dawson, president of Canadian Cottons, told shareholders at the annual meeting, but until such a prospect appears, the policy of withholding disbursements would be followed, according to The Financial Post. Dividends on the preferred stock are presently maintained but no common dividends have been paid since April 1930.

Problems encountered in the past few years were reviewed. For four years, President Dawson said, due to a continued decline in raw cotton, the company had been forced to value its inventories at the close of each year at a lower level than the purchase price. Had raw materials not depreciated during the past year as they did, he said the company would have been able to avoid the deficit of $94,280 which was reported after all charges in the year ended March 31, 1932.

Dumping difficulties were also mentioned. One particular case was referred to, where a material was laid down in Canada for 6½ cents a yard. To produce this same material it cost Canadian Cottons nine cents a yard. Wages have not been cut, as it was felt that reduction of the employee's time to three or four days a week was a sufficient hardship.

Reports were adopted unanimously and directors were re-elected without change.

GOLD FIELD GETS CAR AND PIANO BY AIRPLANE

Rabaul, New Guinea, June 1—Airplanes have brought the first motor car and a player piano to the Bulolo gold field. A big fleet of three-engined Junkers and many smaller machines now regularly defy the almost impenetrable jungles, savages, the rushing torrents and the cloud-encircled mountains which bar the way to Bulolo. Everything that goes to the field is transported by freight planes. The planes fly to and from the New Guinea coast, a distance by air line of only seventy miles, with terrifying ranges rising on both sides and jungles and cataracts below.

SON OF LATE CAPT. DOLLAR DIES IN WEST

Vancouver, May 30—A. Melville Dollar, 52, noted shipping magnate of the Pacific Coast, prominent business man of Vancouver, and a past president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, was found dead in his garage at his Shaughnessy Heights home early tonight, apparently the victim of a heart attack. He had been under treatment for heart trouble for two years.

He was the son of the late Captain Robert Dollar, ship owner, who died in San Rafael, Cal., May 16th.

A Real Booster

Walter A. London, a Fredericton boy, who holds an important position with Jordan-Marsh & Co., Ltd., of Boston, is proving a great booster for the Hart's Island salmon pool. Mr. London is a close friend of Lionel Hitchman, defence player of the Boston Bruins, who is now spending the summer at Springhill, and it was on Mr. London's recommendation that he came to Fredericton to try for salmon. Mr. Hitchman is one of the high line salmon anglers at the pool this season and has to his credit the largest fish, a 27-pounder. Photos of Mr. Hitchman and his catch were sent to Boston newspapers by the Provincial Information Bureau, and as a result four Boston and Worcester anglers are now at the pool and are meeting with success. Mr. London is a cousin of Messrs. Roland and Walter Wheeler, who own camps at the pool and make a business of guiding fishing parties.

MURDERER IS BELIEVED TO BE INSANE

Nova Scotia Man is On Trial Charged With the Murder of His Uncle— Witnesses Examined.

Lunenburg, N. S., May 31—"I think that when I examined him on Dec. 15 he was insane," said Dr. S. P. Young, giving evidence today in Supreme Court here at Naaman Smith's trial for the murder of his uncle, Lem Smith, at Nineveh last Dec. 14.

Dr. Young was the physician called to view Lem Smith's crumpled body where it had fallen with a bullet in the head in a Nineveh woodlot. On the following day he had examined Naaman when the youth was captured by police in a Pleasant River farmhouse, after an all night hunt through surrounding woods.

In answer to W. G. Ernst, Crown prosecutor, Dr. Young said he used the term "insane" in the medical sense. The legal usage was much narrower, the prosecuting barrister observed.

Sign Checked

Naaman had told him that "he killed Lem because the sign had been checked against him" (Lam), the doctor said. He had asked the accused if the "sign were checked" against himself, the doctor, would Naaman feel obliged to kill him, and the youth had replied regretfully that he would. The prisoner had told him of an "electric chair" in New Germany and how Lem Smith and others had "killed people in it."

The "electric chair" was mentioned in tow notes found in the pocket of a black raincoat near Lem Smith's body, which were read into the inquest evidence last December. Today Gates Smith, father of Naaman, identified the raincoat as his own.

Other witnesses examined today included Laurie and Don Smith, Lem's sons, and Milford Veniot, all of whom were nearby when Smith was killed. They had heard the shot, and Laurie had seen a man running through the woods, whom he did not recognize. They said Naaman and Lem had been on good terms.

The trial continues tomorrow.

Buried This Afternoon

The funeral of the late Frederick Wisely was held this afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. R. A. McFadden, St. John street at 2.30 o'clock. A large number of friends of the deceased were present to pay their last respects. The Devon Quartette sang two hymns. The pall bearers were Newton McEwen, Fred Titus, Charles Weddall, Steve Hanson, Harry Harrison and Arthur Ported. The mourners were Jack Wisely, William Thompson, Ralph McFadden, Arthur McEweney, Bertram Wisely, Jack Miles, Maurice Macklin, Robert Macklin and R. A. McFadden. Rev. J. W. Bartlett conducted the services and interment was made in the rural cemetery.
