WILL CARRY ON

That Hon. G. S. Harrington, Premier of Nova Scotia has no intention of retiring from public life if his government is returned to power in the forthcoming provincial election was indicated by a declaration made last Saturday by the head of the Nova Scotia administration who spoke at a convention at Jeddore which nominated Hon. J. F. Fraser, as Conservative candidate for the constituency at Halifax East.

"I am ready to carry on," Premier Harrington told the large audience.

"The opposition have placed me on almost every bench in the Dominion but contrary to their wishes I am going to lead my party to victory at the polls in spite of all the fictitious jobs they have created for me. If the people say in the forthcoming elections they want me and my ministers to carry on through these difficult times, they will have me," he vigorously asserted.

TEDIOUS COMPARISONS

Jack Johnson, one-time heavyweight champion of the world, opines that Jack Dempsey could not have beaten Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries or Johnson himself in his prime. Dempsey's luck, a dearth of really clever boxers and the astuteness of his manager kept him at the peak much longer than he deserved, Johnson thinks.

Just what started the old colored battler reminiscing at this late day isn't clear, but Dempsey readily answers him. "Those men were all good fighters in their day," the Manassa Mauler says, "and I was champion in another day. Whether they could have beaten me or I could have beaten them is something that you or I will never be able to dope out. Every one has a right to his opinion."

Modestly said, and something to remember when meditating on the "good old days" of the ring.

A speech by Premier Bennett delivered in Washington last evening and broadcast throughout Canada and the United States, was listened to with great interest. He spoke on the relations between Canada and the United States and was able to show that for some years the balance of trade on a large volume of business had been decidedly with our American neighbors. He pointed out that in one year every Canadian bought goods from Uncle Sam to the value of $87, while American purchases in Canada per capita amounted to only $4. This is manifestly a jug-handled arrangement, and the object of the Premier's visit to Washington is to secure, if possible, a new deal. Canadians of all shades of poitical thought hope that his mission will be successful.

John H. Noble, a Justice of Peace for a York county parish, was convicted of a grave irregularity in connection with his official duties at the city police court this morning and was fined $50. It seems that he was found to have signed sworn affidavits which had not been so sworn. It was stated in police court on Friday that the custom had become quite common throughout the province and it was described as an "infortunate custom." No doubt that is correct and some means should be found to put a stop to it Possibly it might be necessary to pass a law making jackasses ineligible for the office of justice of the peace.

The annual harvest of fish is now being gathered from the Saint John River. Gaspereaux have already arrived and are being sold at a low price. Shad will come next and will be followed by the salmon, the grettest of game fish. There is no reason why, especially at a time like this, that people should not eat more fish.

The Moncton Times reproduces the following from the files of April 28, 1913:— Amherst—Never in the life of Sir Charles Tupper has he been given such a reception as that accorded him by his native town today. Liberals vied with Conservatives to do honor to Cumberland's greatest son and Canada's great statesman. It is estimated that 12,000 People from all parts of the province were in town and 2,000 school children carrying banners, paraded the streets.

Premier Bennett was introduced to the radio audience last night by William Hard, a noted commentator and newspaper correspondent. He gave a brief account of the Premier's career, showed that his anuecstors came from the United States, and that the Premier himself, while a native of New Brunswick had spent most of his life in Western Canada, so he was both an easterner and a westerner. He paid a glowing tribute to the worth of the Premier.

Ex-Premier Herriot of France, delivered a farewell address at a banquet at the Waldorf Hotel in Washington last evening. He spoke in French but his speech was interpreted for the benefit of the radio audience. He thanked President Roosevelt and others for the great kindness extended to him during his visit to America. The ex-Premier's speech was witty and eloquent and he made a fine impression.

Why should not Fredericton get in line with other important eastern cities and adopt daylight saving. The reason seems to be that the City Council, Board of Trade, the Service clubs and other organizations, which should take the matter up, have fallen asleep at the switch.

Spring has its drawbacks in Ohio, as elsewhere says Morgan Cook in the Philadelphia Inquirier, clinching his point by quoting a statement by Jack Warwick in the Toledo Blade that rhubarb is coming up in his back yard.

THE NUMBER OF TRUSTEES TO STAY AT FIVE

Ottawa, April 28—The chairman of the board of trustees to manage the Canadian National Railways will hold office for five years. In the House of Commons today the government accepted an opposition amendment to the railway bill reducing the term from seven to five years.

At the same time, it was stipulated the other two members of the board sould be appointed for three and four year terms, the stagger system being adopted to maintain continuity. Liberal members from the Maritimes sought to increase the board from three to five members, to give the East and far West, representation, but were ruled out of order.

The railway bill was discussed today for the fifteenth time this season an hour or more being devoted to passing a sub-clauses. Once again there was a flood of amendments from the Liberals. on. J. C. Elliott, former minister of public works, had one voted down requiring trustee to be full-time men an dto hold no outside company directorates. A government amendment was placed in its stead, to give the cabinet power to designate how much of his time a trustee should devote to the National Rialways. It has been intimated for the first two or three years the government will demand full-time service from all the trustees and from the chairman, of course, for the whole of his term.

JOBLESS STRIKE

Madison, Wis., April 29—Thirty of 90 jobless working on relief project struck today, demanding a five-hour day and five-day week, saying they get no different city relief than those who do not work.

Somehow times must have changed. Imagine! In Chicago school children by the thousands struck to force the city to pay the teachers' salaries, now in the arrears to last June. All an old time pupil would do for a teacher was to give her an apple now and then.
