WHY WORRY?

An exchange publishes the following:—

Man comes into the world without his consent and goes out against his will. If he is poor, he is a bad manager; if he is rich he is dishonest. If he needs credit he can't get it; if he is prosperous everyone wants to do him a favor. If he is in politics, it is for gain; if he is out of politics, he is no use to his country. If he doesn't give to charity, he is a stingy cuss; if he does, it is for show. If he is actively religious, he is a hypocrite; if he takes no interest in religion, he is a hardened sinner. If he gives affection, he is a soft specimen; if he cares for no one, he is cold-blooded. If he dies young there was a great future before him; if he lives to an old age, he missed his calling. If you save money, you are a grinch; if you spend it, you are a grafter; if you can't get it, you are a bum.—SO WHAT'S THE USE OF WORRYING?

Sherbrooke Record:—It is the "bad example" which men establish when they sit in high places and act in direct contravention of well-established principles. When the smaller politicians saw the Senators working in the Senate to enrich themselves they made haste to follow, and reports from all over Canada showed departures from the spirit of probity established in public life. An alderman in Owen Sound confesses he had himself appointed foreman of public works in that city and that he held the job for six months whilst, as alderman he acted as supervisor of himself. "My action only conforms to what others have done," was his excuse.

Those who have read the newspaper reports of the great speech delivered by President Beatty at Toronto on Monday will no doubt agree with him that the railway problem is the most serious that Canada is facing at the present time. The remedy which he proposed will not meet with general approval, but all must admit that his views are entitled to very careful consideration. Mr. Beatty is undoubtedly sincere in what he says and there is no mistaking the fact that he is one of the foremost railway authorities on this continent.

A radio debate between co-eds of Syracuse University and male students of Union College Schenectady, N. Y. was staged last evening. Both sides agreed that the United States tariff should be reduced with a view of promoting world trade. The Union College students, however, favored reciprocal trade agreements with foreign countries, but the co-eds argued that such an arrangement would arouse jealousies and they argued in favor of a uniform tariff with all countries. Speakers on both sides presented their cases with ability and force.

According to President Beatty of the C. P. R. the Canadian National Railways are costing Canada $162 a minute. That is certainly going some. In the old days when the Intercolonial Railway was operated as a separate unit it piled up a deficit of $300,000 a year. In other words it was a mere piker compared to the present day National system.

President Beatty of the C. P. R. in a great speech at Toronto on Monday, advocated the consolidation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National systems. He undoubtedly made out a strong case, but did not appear to make it clear whether he favored government or private operation of the proposed consolidated railways.

Babe Ruth, the home run king yesterday turned down an offer of $50,000 from the New York Yankees for next season. Last year he was paid $75,000 and objects to taking a cut

The New Brunswick Guides' Association, an organization which has been in existence for over thirty years, is holding its annual meeting in this city today and tomorrow. The organization has done much to make better known the sporting attractions of the province, and its members have indirectly made substantial contributions to the provincial revenue from year to year. It is said that the ten point law, which is unpopular in some sections of the province, will be a subject for discussion. It might be a good plan for the guides, instead of recommending a modification in this law, to adopt a resolution urging the government to prohibit the shooting of moose altogether for a period of years. Sooner or later, perhaps sooner than later, this will have to be done if moose are to be saved from extermination.

The leader of the opposition in the Quebec Legislative Council is Hon. Thomas Chapais, who is also a member of the Canadian senate. He is a son of a Father of Confederation and has been a Legislative Councillor since 1892. He was summoned to the Senate in 1919. As the Liberals have been in power in Quebec since 1897, Conservatives are naturally very scarce in the Legislative Council. Leader Chapais apparently has to play a lone hand as government critic, although on the opening day of the present session two Liberal Councillors gave him some assistance.

It was reported this week that W. H. Blake, author of the popular ballad "The Sidewalks of New York," heard so frequently during the last two election campaigns in the United States, was down and out along with his sister and blind brother. Ex-Governor Al. Smith was notified and announced later that the trio had been taken care of. It seems hard to separate the happy warrior from the sidewalks of New York.

Senator Hugh Long of Kansas has been staging a filibuster in the U. S. Senate for several days, but let up sufficiently long yesterday to permit the Senate to pass the Philippines independence bill over the President's veto. The vote was 66 to 26 which gave more than the required two thirds majority. Forty-five Democrats and twenty-one Republicans voted with the majority.

In these days when everybody is urging economy and salaries are being slashed, it does not look like good business to bring men in from remote sections of York County at a cost of three dollars per day and mileage to serve on a grand jury. If they need the money it would be better to give them direct relief as two-thirds of it would then be chargeable to the federal and provincial governments.

President Hoover sent a message to Congress yesterday in which he urged that steps be taken to balance the budget. He wants a sales tax imposed on all manufactured good except footwear and the cheaper grades of clothing. The government of the United States is running behind a billion dollars a year.

The new governor of Georgia, who was brought up and lived on a farm does not like his surroundings in Atlanta. He has decided to build a barn in connection with the executive mansion so he can have the companionship of livestock, while discharging his official duties.

Kissing, says a medical man, stimulates the heart action. It would be nice, men think, if pretty nurses would administer a stimulant on the doctor's orders.

Be prepared to liberally pay your way; then it doesn't matter how old you get.

Woodstock will be doing some nodding during the commencing year.

Late Mrs. McKay

The funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph McKay, took place from the home-stead at Kingsclear this afternoon and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. Mrs. McKay had a large circle of acquaintances and will be greatly missed. She took a deep interest in agricultural exhibitions and frequently exhibited her farm products and handiwork with great success at Fredericton and Woodstock. For many years she acted as correspondent for Fredericton paper. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Corey.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

As usual, when a precedent is broken, it is proved that it shouldn't be.

A big city is lonely to a stranger; and he can make the loneliness permanent without half trying.

A sunny disposition is delightful if it is natural; but there is some doubt about an artificial one.

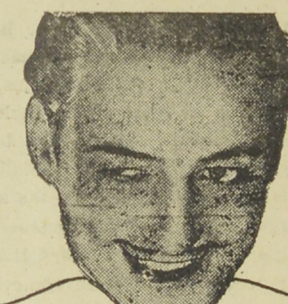

Liberty is something that men finally just take without any more arguing about it. The argument might last till doomsday.

If a man makes a better mouse trap, the world thinks him an authority on the tariff, money and morals.

Since the boys are trying to select the most beautiful words, we submit as our choice: "We'll renew it for six months."

The weather bureau says it is 85 per cent, accurate, which indicates that you can be accurate without being right.

They found the roads rather slippery in places and had to drive along with great caution. However, they made the journey without mishap. Mr. Griffin said that it reminded him of his experience in running Burnt Hill rapids in a canoe.
