STAR WITH 19 POINTS CAUGHT

Ocean Park, Washington, Jan. 18—L. Wiegandt, who is something of a connoisseur of starfish, found one recently which had 19 points, although the regular style for starfish is five points.

"When I was a youngster," said Wiegandt, who grows oysters, "I saw large numbers of starfish come out of the Willapa River channel and like an army march silently across my father's oyster beds in the north part of the bay, killing all oysters as they swept along.

"They were so plentiful that large boats were needed to gather them. They were dumped on shore and later used for garden fertilizer."

A short answer is the kind you find in the dictionary.

Genius, of course, wants money, but it is satisfied with a little.

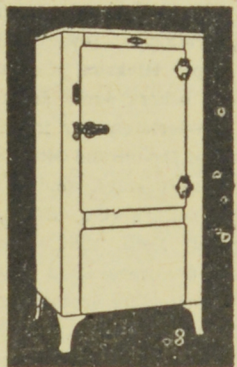

AFTER all, it's the taste that tells. No matter how fine the food you buy, proper preservation is necessary in order to retain all of its natural flavor. Only with adequate refrigeration can this be assured. When you have an electric refrigerator you can be assured of adequate refrigeration at all times. For it maintains a constant temperature always under fifty degrees.

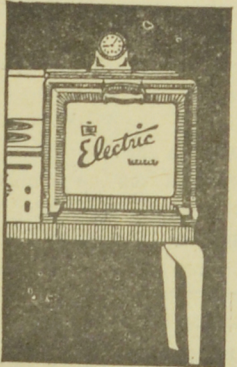

Proper preparation is as necessary as proper preservation. Cooked in an air tight electric oven, foods retain their full flavor and natural juices . . . none can escape.

RELIEF ADMINISTRATION BEING STUDIED BY CONFERENCE AT THE DOMINION CAPITAL

Ottawa, Jan. 17—Relief administration dominated discussions at the Dominion-provincial conference today. Towards the close of the afternoon sitting Prime Minister R. B. Bennett introduced the subject of unemployment and social insurance as a prelude to its consideration tomorrow morning.

Discussion on relief brought forth a sweeping survey of the situation in each province. On many phases of the problem suggestions were advanced:

- (1) Closer checking of eligibility for relief.
- (2) Encouragement of farm settlement.
- (3) Uniformity of the standard of relief in all the provinces.
- (4) Development of existing schemes to provide work in camps for the single unemployed.
- (5) Public works where conditions necessitate.

These matters will go under advisement. Out of the general discussion, it was agreed by all delegates that administration of relief since the conference in April last had been carried out with reasonable efficiency.

Question of Jurisdiction
Relative jurisdiction of the Dominion and the provinces surrounds the subject of unemployment and social insurance. Sketched lightly by Prime Minister Bennett this evening, the matter will occupy the whole of tomorrow morning's sitting at least.

The Dominion view is pretty well known. The plan—and a contributory one only—must be "acturally sound" with the provinces transferring their present power over such matters to the Dominion. Only then would the Dominion be in a position to carry out a national scheme and collect the percentages of contributions from employers and workers.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are understood to be prepared to give authority over to the Dominion.

Some Opposed
Of the remaining three provinces, Ontario and Quebec are said to be adverse. Some degree of support may be given by British Columbia to the Central Provinces.

With Prime Minister R. B. Bennett presiding, the parley opened at 10.30 o'clock this morning in the Railway Committee Room of the Parliament Buildings. All nine provinces were represented. Morning and afternoon sittings were marked by a desire to co-operate towards a common understanding.

Tonight, the delegates are attending a dinner tendered by the Governor-General at Rideau Hall. With a luncheon given by Mr. Bennett today, these probably will be the only functions. A night sitting tomorrow is in the offing.

Favor Public Works
Several provincial delegates, apparently, want more public works in the scheme of relief. Highway building and improvement with construction of some public buildings are understood to have been suggested. The delegates are said to have distinctly favored a return to the relief works program which was carried out a year ago as opposed to developing to a greater extent a direct relief system.

Coal is very much in the minds of some of the Maritime delegates, especially those from Nova Scotia. Assistance to the industry is sought. The Prairie Provinces through their delegates intend to take up the wheat situation.

Unemployment and social insurance probably will bring forth much discussion. Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec is said to have views which conflict with representatives of the Western Provinces on amending Section 92 of the British North America Act so as to transfer to the Dominion authority in such matters. As the constitution stands, the provinces have control over unemployment and social insurance and such matters. The West is said to favor a transfer of power to the Dominion with Mr. Taschereau somewhat reluctant.

Voice Sympathy

Two resolutions of sympathy marked the initial proceedings. A resolution of condolence was passed on the death of Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, wife of the British Columbia Premier. The second resolution hoped for the early recovery of Premier Gordon S. Harrington of Nova Scotia.

R. K. Finlayson, formerly of Winnipeg, was the unanimous choice as secretary of the conference.

Eye Witnesses and Defendant Heard

Chief Game Warden H. H. Ritchie also will be present, as well as D. W. Griffiths, secretary of the Guides' Association.

A matter which is said to be of chief concern before the sessions, is the problem of moose conservation. Public bodies, including the N. B. Fish and Game Protective Association, have urged that some measure be adopted to protect this game animal, considered to be depleting rapidly in this province.

A Closed Season?

Recommendations have been made for a closed season or two on moose, and in some quarters restoration of the old "six-point" law is asked. The present law in vague permits the shooting of moose up to ten points. In this important problems there is variance of opinion, and thorough discussion will likely be held at the present meeting of the guides.

Other resolutions are expected to be drawn up, all pertinent to the game situation at the present time, and these will in all probability be submitted to the provincial government at its coming session, for legislation.

Special invitation was given to Hon. C. D. Richards, premier of the province, also Hon. L. P. D. Tilley and others, but these are at present in Ottawa and will be able to attend any of the sessions.

William T. Griffin, president of the N. B. Guides Association, is expected to occupy the chair at the opening session this afternoon.

MODERNIZING THE BIBLE CAN BE VERY EFFECTIVE

London, England, Jan. 18—Modernizing Shakespeare isn't half the novelty that modernizing the Bible is, when it's done realistically on the stage.

Modernizing Jonah sitting, deep in meditation inside the whale's belly. A highly promising dramatist, James Bridie has done the story and performs it with great sincerity at the Westminster Theatre.

A sophisticated first-night audience was enthusiastic over the wit, irony and fantasy of this play. Birdie sticks closely to the Bible—story—whale, gourd and all—and gives a serious character study of Jonah, tackling a job which he believes too big for him. He shows the poor little man torn, as the destruction of Nineveh draws near, between his human sympathy for the doomed city and his natural professional ambition to see his powers as a prophet successful demonstrated.

Leghorns Going Strong

A pen of white Leghorn hens, owned by Arthur Pringle of Stanley led the New Brunswick egg laying contest at the Fredericton Experimental Station last week, with 61 eggs, which made the surprisingly high score of 70.6 points. This is said to be a record score for the local station. A Barred Rock pen owned by the Experimental station leads the contest with 407 eggs and 438.2 points. Mr. Pringle has thirteen birds in the contest and the lowest individual production was five eggs and the total was 75, which is a little less than an average of six to the bird.

Guides and Officials Here For Meeting

that he was on the corner of King and Westmorland as the car turned the corner. Mr. Yerxa on his bicycle, was riding out Westmorland and went in front of the car and was pushed six or eight feet before the car was stopped. The bicycle, the witness said, remained upright in front of the car while it was being pushed and did not fall to the ground until the car stopped.

The evidence of Mr. Malloy differed in several important points. In the first place, according to the evidence of Mr. Malloy, the McLaughlin car turned the corner and was keeping to the left and when it struck Mr. Yerxa it was on the wrong side of the street. His bit of evidence was born out by the fact that a line was made on the street by the dragging of the bicycle and the line extended about 30 feet from the place of impact to the place where the car stopped and the victim fell. Officer Barker had made note of this kind in his diagram which was in evidence before the court.

The Defendant
Before the defendant went on the stand, Mr. Hughes spoke a few words to the jury outlining the course that the defence would pursue. The defendant said that he had had trouble with his brakes that very day when returning from Southampton. The brake bands had jammed and he tore them off. When he was turning the corner to go up King Street he was going slow and in second gear. He saw a man about a foot in from him and he was not able to stop until he had pushed him some seven or eight feet. After stopping he backed the car up and the injured man was put into the car and driven to the Hospital, where a doctor informed him that he had better report to the police, which he did.

Petit Jury
Members of the petit jury who are acting in the case are: Rueben Morgan, R. S. Gray, Gordon Rossborough, Archie Pond, Howard Dunphy, Arthur Mowatt, Warren Morgan F. L. Young, Benson Bennett, W. B. Dayton, Elwood Haines, Walter Inch.

The case is continuing this afternoon with the cross-examination of the defendant.

Late Mrs. Rowena Butcher

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rowena Ellen Butcher, wife of Walter Butcher who died on Monday at the age of 65 years, took place this afternoon with prayers at the late home, 123 Regent Street at 1:30 o'clock. Many attended as the deceased was held in the highest esteem by many. Rev. W. J. Bate conducted the services at the house and at the Christ Church Cathedral. Interment was made at the Rural Cemetery extension. Deceased was a prominent member of the L. O. B. A. No. 33, and the funeral was under its auspices.

Devon Board Unchanged

The close of the period for filing nomination papers for the Devon town council was yesterday at six o'clock, and at that time, no new candidates appearing, the present mayor and eight aldermen were declared elected for another term. The board, which was unopposed, will be sworn to office on Saturday. Nominations were filed with the town clerk and treasurer, Whitman Haines. Devon hasn't experienced a civic election for almost as long a period as its big brother, Fredericton.

WETS AND DRY FORGOT STATUTES FOR A MOMENT

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 18—A perfect accord between wets and dries in the new state legislature appears to have been reached.

Spectators gasped audibly when members of the state House of Representatives marched to the speakers' stand to take the oath of office as the session opened.

For Rep. A. L. McCawley, of Carthage, author of Missouri bone-dry law, and Rep. E. R. McCormick, of Plate County, who used to distill a well known brand of whisky in pre-prohibition days were marching arm and arm in the most friendly fashion.
