Morton Downey, popular CBS tenor, continued to celebrate this week the recent arrival of his son and heir, Morton, Jr., by escorting his wife, Mrs. Barbara Bennett Downey, on a gay tour of Broadway and a score of night clubs. The proud parents received hearty congratulations from many old friends. Mrs. Downey wishes to announce that out of a noisy chorus of 24 youngsters in the maternity ward she always picked out Morton Downey, Jr., because he cried two tones higher than anyone else.

A good floor wax rubbed on window sills after they have been refinished will keep them in perfect condition.

The temptation to immediately retell appropriately a good story that is badly told in company should be resisted.

Tarkington Listens To Own Sketches

New York, N. Y., Jan. 17—When Booth Tarkington tunes in to his Maud and Cousin Bill sketches over an NBC-WJZ network each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:00 P. M., A. S. T., he is paying his radio writing a tribute he has never offered any of his novels or stories.

Booth Tarkington, Famous American Author and Creator of the Maud and Cousin Bill Sketches Heard over an NBC-WJZ Network Each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sponsored by A. & P.

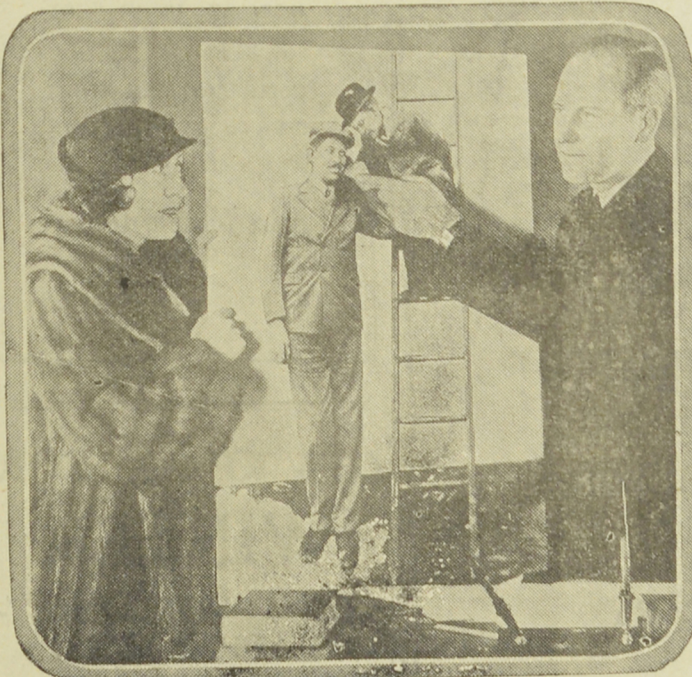

The famous author never reads his own books after he has returned the proof sheets. Even the popular "Penrod," and "The Magnificent Ambersons" and "Alice Adams," which won him the Pulitzer Prize in 1919 and 1922, have gone unopened by him.

"I cannot open a new book of mine without pain," he explains. "I am always sure there is something I should have said better than it appears."

Before Tarkington would permit Maud and Cousin Bill to go on the air as a regular feature, however, he listened to a series of test sketches to make sure that the microphone was an effective medium for his work. Now he listens in on the present series in order to keep himself informed how the different sketches sound on the air, and to make sure the actors are doing a good job.

Leonard Hayton, ardent devotee of jazz and youthful new conductor of Columbia's Chesterfield program, wants to write serious music. Just 24 years old, Hayton is an excellent concert pianist and he often works into his popular arrangements the latest harmonic devices of composers in more serious fields. His favorite composers are Debussy, Delius, Ravel and Stravinsky.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN:—A Mr. Allen

We present the first and only pictures of Miss Gracie (Google) Allen. She requested Mr. Sherman Burns of the W. J. Detective Agency to help her find her missing brother, who, as divulged a short time ago, on the Columbia network has been either mislaid or misappropriated. Gracie is shown describing her brother in characteristic Allen style as she points to a picture showing her brother (left) at the age of six months and (right) at the age of eighteen years, somewhat smaller due to the depression. Police believe that the Allen boy was accidentally stolen by a thief who mistook him for something valuable. A large reward ($9.50) has been offered by George Burns, Miss Allen's partner, for the prevention of her brother's return.

Ultra-Modernist, Soloist With Philharmonic

Serge Prokofieff, Russian composer-pianist, who is one of the outstanding leaders of the ultra-modern movement in music, will be heard in his own Piano Concerto No. 3, Opus 26, when he appears as guest artist with Bruno Walter and the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra in the broadcast Sunday, January 22, from 4:00 to 6:00 P. M., A. S. T., over WABC and a coast-to-coast Columbia network.

Prokofieff is well known to American audiences, for his performances in this country have included numerous appearances both as guest conductor of leading orchestras and as a pianist exponent of his own works in music centers from coast to coast. The winner of the Rubinstein prize, when he graduated from the Leningrad Conservatory, Prokofieff has studied with Taneiev, Liadov, and Rimsky-Korsakoff. His compositions are turbulent and daring, marked with a complete disregard for musical convention.

Orchestral compositions to be directed by Walter will include Pfitzner's Overture to "Katchen von Hellbron", the opera based on the play of Kleist; and the Symphony No. 1 in C minor of Johannes Brahms. The latter work, one of the most perfectly conceived and executed of symphonies in the classic style, has grown steadily in popularity in recent years. It was selected as the favorite of the Philadelphia music public and played over the air in the annual request program of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Olin Downes, music critic of the New York Times, will be heard during the concert intermission in explanatory comment on the selections rendered.

FAN FARE

An old Kentucky feud has broken out between the beetle-browed Stoopnagle and Announcer Louis Dean. For the second time in two weeks the Colonel refused to buy an opera hat and brisly borrowed Dean's London topper at a Waldorf-Astoria broadcast. Columbia's Colonel departed early and after the show Dean conducted a frantic search for the missing headpiece. A porter finally found it, crushed flat and thrown casually under the Colonel's "mighty Gas Pipe Organ". Announcer Dean has gone after a shot-gun while the Colonel is in hiding.

James Dickey, 17 year old bassoonist and the youngest member of Edward d'Anna's band heard over Columbia in the Carbondundum programs, has been awarded a scholarship at the Juilliard School of Music.

For a word that is used so much "ethics" is hard to define.

Headaches and Dizzy Spells Nerves In Bad Condition

Mr. Neil Crawford, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"My nerves were in such bad condition I found it almost impossible to get a good night's sleep. I was also bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. I tried many different remedies, but they did not seem to give me much relief, but after I had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I could hardly believe the change they had made in my condition."

For the Women

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By buying a week's supply of meat at one time quite a sum can be saved. Use a mixture of salad oil and vinegar, adding salt, pepper, a few crumbled bay leaves and onion juice to the mixture as a maralade. This makes the cheaper cuts of meat more tender, improves their flavor and helps to "keep" the meat. Coat the meat thoroughly and place in an enamel dish, cover with waxed paper and store in refrigerator.

Dip the tip of a feather in oil and rub around the stopper close to the mouth of the bottle. Put the bottle near the fire. The heat will cause the oil to run down between the stopper and the bottle. When warm, strike the bottle gently on both sides with a bit of wood; the stopper will loosen; if not, repeat process. Will work positively.

To clean the baby's bottle grate a piece of raw potato, put in the bottle and shake well. Save potato peelings for larger bottles because this gives a brilliant sparkle to all glassware.

When making icebox cookies pack the dough in empty pound butter cartons. When cold, the dough can be easily sliced and the cookies are well shaped.

Use a small brush to get the collars and cuffs of shirts clean. It saves time and hands and really gets the soil out.

Keep a stick of vanilla in powder sugar sifter and sugar will be flavored with it when used.

NEW SALAD RECIPE

1 cup cooked prunes, cut in pieces
1-2 cup diced celery
1-2 cup cut green sweet pepper
1 cup diced tart apple
1-4 teaspoon salt
Mayonnaise or whipped cream dressing
Puffed wheat
Blend together the prunes, celery, pepper, apple, salt and mayonnaise or whipped cream dressing. Mix lightly Arrange on a lettuce leaf. Just before serving, sprinkle with puffed wheat, which has been crisped in the oven. And here's a new way to serve cereal to the child who refuses to eat his oatmeal at breakfast time. Don't fuss if he doesn't eat the morning bowlful because here's another way to serve it to him that same day.

CEREAL PUDDING

1 1-2 cups cooked rolled oats (cold)
2 cups cooked prunes, cut in small pieces
4 tablespoons sugar
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1-2 pint whipped cream
To the rolled oats add the prunes, sugar and cinnamon. Blend thoroughly. Add this mixture, bit by bit, to the whipped cream. Spoon the mixture into a pudding mold and place it in the refrigerator so that it chills thoroughly. Or pile it into dessert glasses and top each serving with half a prune. You'll find this a delicious, easily-made luncheon dish—nutritious and inexpensive. And, best of all, you'll know your child has had his cereal for that day.

BLACK-EYED SUSANS

Eight halves of peaches
Eight dates (stoned)
Eight toasted almonds
Salad dressing
Lettuce or cress
Cut the peaches into narrow lengthwise strips. Chop the dates and almonds finely and blend them with enough salad dressing to moisten. Form into small balls. Arrange these in the center of individual plates with the peach strips around to form the petals of the flower. Garnish with lettuce or cress and serve.

EGG SALAD

Twelve hard cooked eggs, put through grinder with one onion.
1 green pepper
2 pimentos
Add one half cup melted butter
Salt and pepper
Place in oiled pan. Let stand in cold place over night and serve with whipped cream mayonnaise. Will serve twelve.
