WANT CLEANER POLITICS.

"I believe that we have arrived at a time when the people of Canada want cleaner politics. I have never believed it necessary to be dishonest in public life, while being honest in private life. I believe the people of Canada are looking for better things, and are expecting service from the public men, men who occupy positions of trust in the different. And never in the history of Canada has there been a more opportune season than while this struggle is on. Let us have cleaner politics and more honest business in the conduct of our public affairs."—Premier Norris, of Manitoba, at London, Ont.

MESSAGE TO YOUNG MEN.

"After a long life I shall remind you that already many problems rise before you; problems of race division, problems of creed differences, problems of economic conflict, problems of national duty and national aspiration. Let me tell you that for the solution of these problems you have a safe guide, an unfailing light, if you remember that faith is better than doubt, and love is better than hate.

"Banish doubt and hate from your life. Let your souls be ever open to the strong promptings of faith and the gentle influence of brotherly love. Be adamant against the haughty; be gentle and kind to the weak. Let your aim and your purpose, in good report or in ill, in victory or in defeat, be so to live, so to strive, so to serve as to do your part to raise the standard of life to higher and better spheres."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at London, Ont.

NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT.

Miss Kathleen Burke, who is writing in "Island and Water" a series of articles descriptive of her visit to the French front, sets forth the following "Litany of the Poilu":

"Of two things, one is certain: You are either mobilized or you're not mobilized.

"If you're not mobilized there is no need to worry; if you are mobilized, of two things one is certain: Either you are behind the lines or you're on the front.

"If you're behind the lines there is no need to worry; if you're on the front one of two things is certain: Either you're resting in a safe place or you're exposed to danger.

"If you're resting in a safe place there is no need to worry; if you're exposed to danger, of two things one is certain: Either you're wounded or you're not wounded.

"If you're not wounded there is no need to worry; if you are wounded, of two things one is certain: Either you are wounded seriously or you are but slightly wounded.

"If you're wounded slightly there is no need to worry; if you're wounded seriously, of two things, one is certain: Either you recover or you die.

"Finally, if you recover there is no need to worry; if you die you can't worry."

This sums up the litany of the brave sons of France.

OUT OF THE DIM PAST.

In an article in the Moncton Transcript Mr. W. C. Milner quotes the following from the St. John Courier of sixty years ago:

"We are informed that an old soldier named Huson, who died in Carleton in the year 1850, aged 100 years, was in the habit of relating many interesting reminiscences of New Brunswick. Among others he was wont to state that in 1759 he belonged to a Highland regiment, and came through the woods from Quebec to Fredericton with a company of artillery. From Fredericton they came down the river and landed a little below the Falls, forming into a line in the woods near Carleton, probably on what is now the Provincial Lunatic Asylum grounds. After being fired at repeatedly by the French from Fort Frederick, Carleton, they marched down the old Manawagonish road, and the artillery from the heights above, where No. 7 Engine house now stands, fired on Fort Frederick, and drove out the French, who retreated across the river to Portland. He used to say that a fever afterwards broke out among the British troops and a large number died and were buried on Navy Island."

Toronto Star: The Mail and Empire suggests that the slowness of recruiting may be due to criticism of the Government. As a matter of fact, the treatment of Sir Robert Borden by Opposition journals has been fair and even generous, while the treatment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier by the Mail and Empire and the News has been notoriously unfair and venomous. This is not said in a complaining spirit, or with any hope of amendment. The attitude of these journals is due to fear. The Borden Government is exceedingly unpopular, and dissatisfied Conservatives are numbered in tens of thousands. It is thought that they may be amused and diverted by the kind of abuse in which the Mail and News indulge.

In paying tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the Reform Club of Montreal on Saturday, Mr. F. B. Carvell, M. P. for Carleton, N. B., said: "I admire the man's ability and judgment, but above all I admire the man's honesty. I admire his honesty of purpose, his absolute sense of equity and justice when dealing with different races and creeds. And there can be no question in the world that if the Lord spares this man's life, 'I believe He will'—he is the one man in the Empire today who will be called upon to take hold of the 'mix-up' in Canada and bring order out of 'chaos.' So say all Canadians who desire to see Canada take her proper place in the eyes of the world."

Canadian Jeweler: Bradstreets have compiled statistics that prove that 84 per cent. of the failures are among the non-advertisers. The merchant who does not believe in the use of printer's ink has never advertised right. The failure to produce results is not chargeable against advertising, but against the manner in which it is done. Advertising is the modern creative force, positive and potent—a force that has produced two blades of grass where but one has grown before. It is the flowering of industrial evolution. It is the conqueror of unfair competition—the promoter of right dealing—the solution of the mail order problem. Its basic principle is frankness.

The Ottawa Free Press says: "When we remember the very prominent part which Armand Lavergne played in the formation of the Borden cabinet, how he came down here and had conferences with the new Premier in regard to Quebec representation in the Government; and when we visualize one Blondin—a ferocious Nationalist when Nationalism paid—still sitting as a prominent member of the Borden cabinet, we cannot help exclaiming with that British statesman 'Disraeli, who had little to learn about party politics, 'Organized hypocrisy.'"

The Auditor General of Canada has gone to England, and the news of his approach threw the whole Canadian overseas hospital service into a fever of reform. "Is it not about time," asks the Toronto Star, "for a Military General to go over there and bundle off to the front thousands of trained officers and men from Canada who have never got nearer the war than England is?"

Through Our Sieve

You can't puncture a pneumatic tire by pinning your faith to it.

Every girl has her own exclusive idea of what a perfect man should be.

Dying in poverty is dead easy compared with living in poverty.

The hard tack issued to soldiers is not as hard as the one you discover with your bare foot.

The first thing a man does after making a fool of himself is to try to explain how it happened.

The chief ambition of a ten months' old child seems to be to eat its clothes and wear its food.

As a general thing, if two sports get an even break, both are likely to go broke.

It is said that a young man is formed at 25, but it takes much longer than that to reform him.

And the cheap editorial writers who tell all about "the war from day to day" don't seem to get any further ahead than the rest of us.

The trouble with some men is that they seem to think they are entitled to a month's vacation every time they work an hour.

No doubt you've noticed that in the film story the fellow perishing in the desert always waits till he comes to a pile of dried bones and then lies down to die.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-LIVES"—The Wonderful Fruit Medicine—Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema—and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-lives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning—as "Fruit-a-lives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c.
