Christmas Music Will Be Heard on Canadian Circuit

Jack Slatter who has devoted the major part of the musical career to the designing and presentation of unusual dance music programs will again display his originality and style in the Christmas program of "Dance Moods", successful new Canadian Radio Commission feature which will be heard on Monday, December 25th at 1:30 P. M., over a Canadian network.

Slatter can make dance-inspiring rhythm out of hotcha and the classics. There is a subtlety of waltz, rumba and tango tempo in his arrangements which captures the imaginations and he has transcribed some famous compositions for his own especial requirements. His Christmas program will reveal this flare for his setting carols in his presentation in waltz time and music from famous fantasies in faster tempo still. The mood of Christmas celebration will be present in this popular dance orchestra feature with unusual instrumentation and double vocal trio work to enhance it.

This program will constitute the fourth presentation by this able young conductor-arranger under Canadian Radio Commission auspices

Will Broadcast Merry Christmas To Byrd Expedition

Charmaint Peterson, seven year old daughter of Carl Peterson, member of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, will wish a Merry Christmas to her father Admiral Byrd and others of the party during the broadcast to and from the expedition on Saturday, December 29. Charmaine's voice will be carried by short wave radio over the 10,000 mile air span between New York and the Ross Sea, through which the Byrd flagship, the Jacob Ruppert, is cutting its way.

Admiral Byrd will receive a special Christmas message from his wife during the same broadcast. As it will be impossible for Mrs. Byrd to visit the broadcasting studios in New York at that time, her message will be read to the Admiral by Captain Ashley McKinley, a close friend of the family and third in command on the previous Byrd Expedition. Admiral Byrd, in turn, will send his wife greetings from the Antarctic, and a member of the ice party will wish a Merry Christmas atmosphere will be completed with anthems by the dog drivers' glee club. The entire ceremony will be heard over the WABC-Columbia network from 11:00 to 11:30 P.M., A. S. T.

Henri Deering, noted American pianist, served through the World War without sustaining a scratch. Then came the Armistice and he crushed one of his fingers in an automobile accident. Only expert surgery restored the member or those nimble fingers wouldn't now be playing for NBC listeners.

WILL BROADCAST TONIGHT

Prof. B. S. Kierstead, head of the department of Economics and Politics at the University of New Brunswick, will broadcast tonight at 9:15, over CFNB and a trans-Canada network. His subject is "The Politics Philosophy of Fascism".

Columbia Chain Announces New Features for 1934

An elaborate schedule of special features has been arranged by the Columbia Broadcasting System to mark the New Year. Foreign countries will contribute to the two-day radio celebration while symphony orchestras, the man-in-the-street and leading American entertainers pay tribute to the Old Year and offer a hearty welcome to the infant 1934.

Two programs will present a radio record of outstanding happenings of 1933. On Friday, December 29 at 9:30 P. M., A. S. T., the "March of Time" will dramatize the leading news events of the past twelve months. Of chief interest will be the unfolding of various phases of the New Deal under Franklin D. Roosevelt. William Adams' characterization of the President will be among the high lights.

"A Kalesidoscope of 1933" will be broadcast from 9:30 to 11:00 P. M., A. S. T., Sunday, December 31, reviewing the most important developments of the entertainment world since January 1, 1933. Leading contributions to the field of popular and classic music, as well as scenes from the year's outstanding plays and musical comedies will be recalled. A galaxy of noted radio performers will take part in the program.

Colonel Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle will emerge from his Olympian observatory to assume the role of oracle on December 30 at 10:15 P. M., A. S. T. He will "predict" what will happen in 1934, the year just drawing to a close. On the same day at 7:00 P. M., A. S. T., Columbia announcers will join Bob Taplinger on his "Meet the Artist" program to do for the last time the things they resolve not to repeat in 1934.

Dance Orchestra Will Broadcast "Fireside Medley"

A special "Fireside Medley", presenting favorite songs of hearth and home in Gene Gifford's brilliant arrangements, will be featured by Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra as the holiday highlight of the Came Caravan on a nationwide WABC-Columbia network Tuesday, December 26, from 11:00 to 11:30 P. M., A. S. T. Pee Wee Hunt and the Do De Mi Girls will provide special vocal interludes.

Irene Taylor warm voiced soprano soloist of the Caravan will offer her interpretations of "Sittin' On a Log", and "I Just Couldn't Take It, Baby". Other vocal novelties will be Kenny Sargent's melancholy version of "I Had To Change The World", and the hit song "Not for All the Rice in China", to be sung by a male trio with the band.

Glen Gray will open the program with a "Roman Scandals" medley, including "Build a Little Home" and "Rome Wasn't Built in a Day", and will close with a group of Casa Loma's famous dance hits entitled "White Jazz".

Special Program By Philadelphia Orchestra Friday

Leopold Stokowski will conduct the Philadelphia Orchestra in a special program of Christmas music in the broadcast over the WABC-Columbia network from 3:30 to 5:00 P. M., A. S. T., on Friday, December 22. During this concert the Philadelphia Orchestra Chorus will be heard in conjunction with the orchestra for the first time this season. Sylvai Levitt will direct the singers and solo parts will be sung by Benjamin de Loache baritone.
