HOW TIME IS WASTED

Judge Rutherford, described as a foreign anti-social agitator and head of the International Bible Students Association, came in for some free advertising in Parliament last week and no doubt will be duly appreciative of the same. Mr. Young, a Liberal member from Saskatchewan, brought the matter up while estimates of the Marine Department were under discussion and replied to a previous statement by the Minister, Hon Mr. Duranleau, that Judge Rutherford, had called Hector Charlesworth, Chairman of the Radio Commission, "a thief, a liar, a Judas and a polecat and therefore fit to associate with the clergy." Mr. Young contended that Judge Rutherford had not a monopoly of abusive language and sufforted his contention by quoting the following passage from an article that had appeared in the Toronto Saturday night in 1927, when Mr. Charlesworth was its editor.:

"Recently Toronto had the doubtful honor of entertaining once more a heavy-jowled flannel-mouth known as "Judge" J. F. Rutherford, grand vizier of the "Russellites" or the International Bible Students' Association, together with some thousands of his followers. What the said Rutherford is a judge of we do not know—perhaps of cigars, perhaps of fat swine—perhaps he is called judge by way of persiflage, just as an elevator man is called 'Cap.'

"The war is over and peace loving people are willing to let by-gones be by-gones, but they do object to wandering blatherskites and professional liars starting the war all over again on Canadian soil. That Rutherford is a lying demagogue is apparent from the text of his addresses, in which he exploits the old fallacy that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor.

"On the night of July 21, reputable fathers of families anxious to listen-in on the progress of the Dempsey-Sharkey prize fight were kept out by the high power oratory at the Toronto Coliseum."

Mr. McIntosh, Liberal member for North Battleford, took a hand in the debate and read letters from three of his constituents protesting against the action of the radio commission in banning Judge Rutherford's lectures from the air. Eventually, he clashed with Premier Bennett, who, according to Hansard, replied as follows:

Mr. Bennett—This afternoon an hour was spent disposing of the Judge Rutherford incident, and now, in order that a member of this House might try to secure three votes at the next election—

Mr. McIntosh—No, it is six.

Mr. Bennett—We have put upon the record these three protests, for no other purpose in the world.

Mr. Mackenzie, Vancouver, raised a point of order and a lively debate ensued. The chairman ruled that the Premier's remarks were in order, but Mr. Mackenzie appealed from the ruling which was sustained by a vote of 49 to 17 in a slim House.

As Premier Bennett well said, the discussion cost the country from $100 to $150 and could not possibly serve any public purpose. The only purpose it served was to give Judge Rutherford and his sect some free advertising.

By championing the cause of an "a foreign anti-social agitator" in Parliament the Liberal members of the House who precipitated in the debate are probably laboring under the belief that they are furthering the cause of free speech. Perhaps it is only fair to say that Eastern members refrained from taking part in the discussion and the division list showed 148 members paired.

Medical journal asserts that surgery can now be acocmplished without a shock. That must mean that the anesthetic is administered at the moment of presenting the bill.

Fredericton is the headquarters of a boot and shoe manufacturing company which turns out as fine a grade of footwear as can be obtained in any part of the Dominion Yet, if this concern had to depend to any great extent on the patronage which it receives locally, it would not last over night. Within the last year two concerns which handle the product of shoe manufacturers in the Upper Provinces have set up in business here and appear to be finding some demand for their goods. The old-time "Buy at home and encourage home industry" slogan appears to be a dead one so far as this community is concerned. Under the circumstances it is not to be wondered that a large percentage of the population is on direct relief.

The City of Moncton goes on daylight saving time on May 28, and continues until September 4. Fredericton gave daylight saving time a trial some years ago and, while it worked out well, somebody registered a protest with the result that no effort has since been made to economize on daylight.

Babe Ruth's $52,000 salary has renewed the debate over the comparative value of players. But that depends upon what value. The Babe is considered as an attraction for box office receipts. Many times $52,000 worth of tickets are sold to persons who wish to see Babe knock a home run.

Somehow times must have changed. Imagine! In Chicago school children by the thousands struck to force the city to pay the teachers' salaries, now in the arrears to last June. All an old time pupil would do for a teacher was to give her an apple now and then.

Minnesota is determined to keep her reputation as the state of 10,000 lakes if she has to pay for it. Twelve lakes around St. Paul, it develops, are kept filled by pumping into them 4,400,000,000 gallons of water from wells annually.

Most people don't want to be perfectly good. That's hard work.

"Lack of efficient systems of bookkeeping," says an exchange, "is one of the contributing causes to the heavy burden of local taxation." Not exactly an accomplice, perhaps; but an accessory after the fact.

The distinguished Southern educator who says that college students should be treated "as if they were human beings" leaves us still a bit in doubt as to what he thinks their actual status is.

Anyway, business giants no longer have the nerve to call poets and their like "impractical visionaries."
