MacMillan Report Awaited by Banks With Some Concern

Important Document May Be Made Public Before End of the Week—Is Ready For Submission To the Governor-General—Creation of a Central Bank Favored.

OTTAWA, Nov. 2—There is evidence that the Canadian banks are viewing with some apprehension, as well as great interest, the report of the Macmillan Commission on currency and banking questions, which may be made public before the end of the week. The report is ready for the Governor-General, who returned yesterday from a tour of southwestern Ontario. Afterwards, the Cabinet will decide on the time of publication. The report is printed and a very full digest is also being prepared.

No doubt exists that, in some form, the creation of a central bank of discount was favored by the commission, with the report that certain reservations. The Canadian banks took strong objection to such an institution on the grounds that the functions of a central bank were really covered now by the operations of the Finance Act. It appears, however, that a bank of the kind is favored as a matter of governmental policy and to be in line with developments at the World Economic Conference at London.

WICKERSHAM IS SURPRISED

Syracuse, New York, Nov. 2—George W. Wickersham, chairman of former President Hoover's commission of law observance and enforcement, said tonight that he "made a mistake" in reading the public mind regarding prohibition when the commission's report was submitted.

"I realize", he said, "that I made a mistake. I thought that eventually there would be drastic modification or repeal of the 18th amendment, but I never thought it would come so soon."

Voters of British Columbia Flocking to the Polls Today

No Less Than 175 Candidates Put Into the Field by Various Groups

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 2—British Columbia electors are flocking to the polls today in all seats except those of Victoria and Vancouver.

Final appeals in the general election campaign were made last night by a majority of one hundred and seventy five candidates seeking election in 41 seats. Polling in six other ridings is scheduled for November 27.

At the last election, five years ago, Premier S. F. Tolmie led the Conservative party to victory over the Liberals. Votes counted in 1928 found the Government with 35 supporters, the Opposition with 12. One Labor member was returned.

The election of the Tolmie Government ended a 12 year Liberal regime. The standing of the parties at the close of the Legislature was unchanged, except that the Liberals had lost one seat to the Conservatives in a by-election in Vancouver North. There was one vacancy.

Voters have a wide choice for a variety of parties have solicited support in the campaign just closing—

GOV. McLEAN GIVES SUPPORT TO POPPY CAMPAIGN

The following message has been directed to the people of New Brunswick by His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor McLean in connection with the observance of Poppy Day and Remembrance Day:

"One again, as Remembrance Day approaches, I deem it a great honor to endorse the sale of Veteran poppies, not only as a mark of remembrance of our beloved sons and daughters who gave their lives on behalf of their country, but as a means of providing nourishment and shelter for those of their companions who came back to us scarred, maimed and helpless.

"On various dates throughout the province, I am informed, the sale of poppies will be carried out under the auspices of the various branches of the Canadian Legion. May I appeal to all to support this project as generously as their means will permit.

"These poppies are the product of Veteran shops which give much needed employment to disabled veterans, unable to earn a living in the usual walks of life. In addition, the proceeds of all sales are used to bring comfort and sustenance to sick, disabled and unemployed ex-service men and their families, who are worthy objects of our charity and our generosity. I thereafter give this project my hearty endorsement, and I trust that it will receive the unanimous support of all the people of this loyal province.

"HUGH H. McLEAN,
Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick."

Mr. Heenan was found to have been negligent to the extent of 70 percent for not turning his car further out in the road when he first observed Tessis on the highway. Damages of $700 consequently were assessed by Mr. Justice Armour against the former minister.

Almost up to the minute of his departure, Litvinoff asked that the name of his liner be withheld. To surprised comments that a proletarian diplomat should sail in a royal suite it was said that he was a last minute passenger and only the Imperial suite was available.

The dapper, confident Russian Foreign Minister will have two bedrooms, a breakfast room, a salon and a private veranda for himself, his secretary, Divilkovsky, and Constantine Smansky, chief of the Soviet Foreign Office Press Bureau.

Litvinoff left Paris by Motor with Charge d'Affaires Rosenberg, of the Soviet Embassy and Boris Stein, chief Russian delegate to the World Disarmament Conference. His secretary and Smansky came on the Berengaria boat train.

The hurried summons came from Miss Marie McCauley of Yale terrace, West Orange. She told Father Burke that her mother had only a few minutes to live, and he rushed to their home in his car.

As her entered the house, the daughter, 37 complained of feeling ill, and a moment later collapsed on the floor. Father Burke gave her the last rites. Dr. Alton Sherman said the mother might recover.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2—It is reported that the Senate Banking Committee may call ex-President Hoover to the witness stand to testify in regard to banking transactions during his term of office. Buying Gold Abroad

The purchase of gold abroad by the United States Government began today. There is much speculation in banking circles here in regard to the outcome of this move of President Roosevelt's, but it is pretty well understood that he aims to restore commodity prices to the 1926 level. It is held that if the Government pays high prices for gold, commodity prices will soon get back to the 1926 level. When that happens the President will take steps to stabilize the dollar.

LIBERALS OF ONTARIO NOT IN DRY COLUMN

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 1—The Liberals would never be a prohibitionist party as long as he was leader, Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, declared in an interview here today. He was referring to the Conservative statements that an issue in the next provincial elections might be whether hotels and restaurants should be permitted to sell beer and wine. "If the Conservatives think that they are going to 'jockey' us into position of advocating prohibition they are sadly mistaken", stated Mr. Hepburn. "As long as I am leader of the Liberals it will never be a prohibitionist party."

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2—More rum boats along the coasts and mounting liquor supplies at their home stations were interpreted today by coast guard officials as spelling trouble with smugglers if prohibition is repealed. All along the coast line, they said, the number of liquor smuggling vessels is increasing and off the north-east there are almost twice as many. Between Cape May, N. J., and Nantucket Island, Mass., one official said, there now are approximately 50 rum boats, large and small, the greatest number since the so-called "rum row" in Long Island Sound was the object of a federal drive in 1925.

An Alleged Healer Arraigned In Court on a Charge of Theft

Women Kissed His Hands and Feet and He Was Escorted In Style from Court House

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2—A large crowd collected outside the Pemberton square courthouse yesterday to greet Nicola Colangelo, alias "Professor" Nazarine Colangelo of Providence, seer and "healer", who had just been arraigned in the Suffolk Superior Court on a charge of stealing money from two believers in his powers. One woman even stooped to kiss his feet, while many others grabbed his hands and kissed them. He was escorted in style away from the courthouse.

He pleaded not guilty to the theft of money from Nicola Nasutti, of Roslindale, and from Frank Colantonis, of Mattapan. It is alleged that the fame of "Professor" Colangelo as a seer and healer spread to such an extent that Nasutti and his wife went to Providence to view the miracles which he was said to perform. They were so impressed that they withdrew a large part of their savings and went again to see the "Professor". Mrs. Nasutti had undergone two operations and claimed at the time that the ministrations of "Professor" Colangelo had cured her. The cure, however, is said to have proven to be of doubtful value, and she and her husband complained to the police. The case will not be tried before Christmas, it was stated, because of the prospective length of trial, about three weeks.
