HOGS CELEBRATE REPEAL IN THE SOUTHWEST

Rising Star Tex., Dec. 19—John Garner farmer near here, is wondering whether the hog population of his ranch still favor repeal, now that they have indulged in the mysteries of intoxication.

Gardner, unthinking, placed a barrel of skimmings from apples, which he had used in making syrup, in the hog corral. A few days later the hogs overturned the barrel and devoured its contents. Mother nature had done its work, verified by the hilarious squeal, nose dives and staggers of his porkers.

Well, now, in this matter of a man and his drink maybe the real question isn't as much whether he should stand up for it as whether he can stand up under it.

REICH TO INTERN
DURG ADDICTS AND DRUNKARDS

Berlin Dec. 19—Drastic measures are to be taken in the third Reich against habitual drunkards and drug addicts.

All those who inhabit German prisons and penitentiaries on Jan. 1 will be interned in an asylum for inebriates independent of their prison teams. The same measure will be taken in future against those found to have committed a crime while intoxicated.

Habitual criminals may be interned indefinitely if such a measure is in the public interest.

CODE EXTENDED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 19—The automobile code has been extended until September 1st. The outlook for this industry is considered good.

HON. W. H. HARRISON DISCUSSES MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE AT BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

Saint John, Dec. 19—Hon. W. H. Harrison, D. S. O., K. C., Attorney-General of New Brunswick, was one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade here last evening and briefly expressed his views on a number of matters of public importance. In seconding a motion to adopt the president's report, he said it was not the government of New Brunswick which had withdrawn financial support when the activities of this body was necessarily suspended in 1930.

"The commission has very important work to do", he said. "It is necessary that we have a transportation expert to watch every move and see that our interests are protected."

Discussing a section of the report which dealt with a national park in New Brunswick, Mr. Harrison said the provincial government would regard acquisition of the land for the park as a good investment if the federal government could be persuaded to expend the sum necessary for the park's establishment and provide a worthwhile amount of employment. National parks are developed by the Dominion after the provinces have turned the land over to the federal government, free of encumbrances.

The Lumber Industry

Development in the lumber industry, Mr. Harrison continued was heartening, and he hoped it would mean higher wages for the men in the woods and an increase in revenue to the provincial government. With the overhead the government had in carrying on essential services, and with declining revenues of recent years, it was "almost impossible to make ends meet."

"You've already seen the announcement of what the provincial government of what the provincial government, referring to hard-surface roads. "With the co-operation of the federal government and very substantial financial assistance we feel we can go ahead with a moderate policy. We realize the necessity of it, and are going to start it and carry on as funds permit."

He next dealt with governmental financing. In Australia, there had been a conversion of six per cent bonds into three or four per cent bonds and the people there had willingly agreed to it, realizing the advantages of resultant reduced governmental expenditures and higher security.

It was here he mentioned that he believed the Board of Trade could do much in creating a favorable public attitude toward such conversion in Canada.

Telling of his trips to the Old Country in behalf of the Eastern Canadian lumber industry, Mr. Golding predicted that 1934 would be a much better year for lumbering.

Aims of Parents'
Assoc. Not Understood

workers in behalf of this fine movement has attempted to make it clear that the Parents' Association of Fredericton is not in conflict with the educational officials of New Brunswick. Its chief aim is to be co-operative and to receive cooperation in return—two of the principal tenets of democracy.

WHISKEY FOR THE SICK

Portland, Maine, Dec. 19—It has been decided to allow Maine hospitals to sell whiskey for medicinal purposes. Yesterday when it was reported that patients in hospital here needed whiskey, two men journeyed to Boston and obtained a supply for them.

Shanghai, Dec. 19—Fifty soldiers were drowned in the Yangtze river when a steamer rammed an overloaded military launch carrying 150 men, near Kiukiang.

City Schools Will Close for Christmas

There is nothing of an unusual nature in the closing of the public schools this Christmas. R. D. Hanson, secretary of the school board, reported today that during the term there had been only a few cases of contagious disease and these had been "dealt with strictly". At the present time there were no cases extant. The school secretary attributes the several cases of contagious disease to incoming families. Many new families, he noted, had moved into the city during the past year or so.

PRICES STILL LOW

New York, Dec. 19—Although the price of gold has been raised to $36 per ounce, so far the change has not stimulated commodity prices, which still remain at a low level.

THE LAST TRIBUTE

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Louise Oland, wife of F. Alfred Oland, who died on Saturday, took place at Saint John this morning and was attended by many sorrowing relatives and friends, including a number from this city. The remains were taken to St. Peter's Church, where high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Father Lockary assisted by Fathers Sullivan and Dolan. Interment was made in St. Joseph's Cemetery. Mourners from this city included Mr. and Mrs. Royden Colter, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Colter, W. T. H. Fenety, John G. Fenety and Fred Fenety.

TURKEY OUTLOOK

Already the local market is well supplied with turkeys for the Christmas trade, several merchants having made generous importations. The birds are being offered for sale in local stores for thirty-five cents per pound. A supply from nearby districts is expected tomorrow.

The Misses Mary and Christine Holmes daughters of Dean J. H. A. Holmes have returned from Netherwood School, Rethersay, for the Christmas vacation.

NEW BRUNSWICK PROTESTANT ORPHANS' HOME

Office: Room 12, 50 Princess Street; P.O. Box 796

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Dec. 14th, 1933.

TO THE PROTESTANT PEOPLE OF NEW BRUNSWICK:

Ladies, Gentlemen and Children—

In the twenty-second verse of the fifteenth chapter of the Gospel according to St. John, you will find these words spoken by Christ: "If I had not come."

Have you ever thought of what conditions today would be like: If Christ had not come. Particularly, have you ever thought of what the condition of Little Children would be: If Christ had not come?

If Christ had not come, no well-filled stockings would delight the children on the morning of Christmas day.

If Christ had not come, those who have somewhat more than some others of this world's goods would not be giving of same to supply the needs of under-privileged Children at any time; and particularly in an extra generous manner at this time of year.

If Christ had not come, we would not have the ORPHANAGES that are so vital a necessity today.

It would be easy to go on indefinitely and tell what the Children in particular would lack... If Christ had not come. But thanks be to God, Christ did come on that first Christmas morning.

Because Christ did come, an honest effort is made by every person who loves and honors the name of Christ to see that not one Child is without a reasonably well-filled stocking on Christmas morning.

Because Christ did come, many persons who can, do at Christmas time what a few who can, do also at other times, namely, feed the hungry, clothe the naked and provide shelter for the Children who would otherwise be hungry, naked and homeless; except for the ORPHANAGES.

We who live today can never know how much the world owes to the fact that Christ did come. Because Christ's coming so long ago made all conditions so different and better for us all, we accept many of Christ's gifts to us as an everyday matter of course.

But because Christ did come and has given us all so much let us each and every one honor His name at this anniversary of His birth by sending a Christmas Gift to these Little Ones of His, of whom he has said "Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Proportionately as we give to these Little Ones, we show God how much we appreciate His Gift of His only begotten Son to us, on that first Christmas Day.

The Treasurer's address is P. O. Box 796, Saint John, N. B.

We remain, on behalf of the nearly 250 Little Ones in the Orphans' Home, whom Christ loves,

Yours very truly,

JAMES W. BRITAIN, President.

H. USHER MILLER, Secretary.
