Three Programs Will Radiate Class and Pep on Air

Three stellar air features, Alexander Woolcott's discourses as "The Town Crier", the sparkling musical revue—Andre Kostelanetz Presents "California Melodies", will inaugurate new schedules on the WABC-Columbia network during the week of December 24.

Woolcott will dispense his entertaining, hair raising, mystifying or reminiscent stories every Tuesday and Friday, from 10:15 to 10:30 P. M., A. S. T., starting Tuesday, December 26. Also starting Tuesday, December 26 the Kostelanetz musical, featuring Evelyn MacGregor, contralto; Evan Evans, baritone; and a large orchestra and chorus, will be broadcast each week from 10:30 to 11:00 P. English Singers Will Broadcast on Christmas Eve

A half hour of the atmosphere of Christmas Eve in Elizabethan England will be provided for WABC-Columbia network listeners in a special concert by the New English Singers to be broadcast from 11:30 to 12:00 P. M., A. S. T., December 24. The little group of six artists, under the direction of Cuthbert Kelly, has established an international reputation for their masterful as cappella programs devoted to early English sacred and secular compositions. Howard Barlow and the Columbia Symphony Orchestra will provide orchestral interludes.

The opening group of songs will consist of a 16th Century work by Praetorius, "In Trinitatis", and Smith's arrangement of "Sing We Noel Once More". Next the singers will offer "The Christmas Rose" and "I Saw Three Ships", followed by "In Dulce Jubilo" and "Pafapan", Barlow's orchestral interludes will be; Debussy's "Snow is Dancing", the Tschakovsky Danse des Mirlitons", and the Pizzicato movement from the same composer's Fourth Symphony. Kelly and the New English Singers will conclude the presentation with a cappella arrangements of "Mid-winter" and "We've Been Awhile Awaiting".

HANS LANGE TAKES UP BATON BRUNO WALTER

Hans Lange, gifted violinist and conductor who since 1931 has been a regular conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, will succeed Bruno Walter as leader of the distinguished organization in the weekly WABC-Columbia broadcasts beginning with the concert on Sunday, December 24, from 4:00 to 6:00 P. Lange's time will be divided as follows: December 18 through January 7; February 8 through February 11; February 28 through March 4; and March 26 through April 8. Toscanini's first broadcast concert will be on January 14, and his appearances will be divided as follows: January 11 through February 4; February 15 through February 25; March 8 through the 25th; and April 12 through the concluding performance of the season on April 29.

The extreme cold weather last week did the disappearing act to the wood pile.

RADIO STARS TRACE BACK ANCESTORS

There isn't a Mayflower ancestor in the whole boatland, yet the forefathers of today's radio stars seem to have rated a pretty big hand in their day. Frinstance:

Albert Spalding is a direct descendant of General Simon Spalding, and William Lyon Phelps, of Colonel William Lyon, both the general and the colonel having fought in the Revolutionary Army. Mildred Bailey is a direct descendant of General Robert E. Lee, and Mildred Rose, of Valentine Rauh, who was General U. S. Grant's bandmaster. Vera Avn claims descent from General William Cooper and Davidson Taylor, the announcer from Cromwell.

Colonel Stoopnagle and Budd, fine peace-loving fellows that they are, also date their families back to the Revolutionary and Civil Wars. Colonel Stoopnagle lists in his family tree Salmon P. Chase, secretary of war in Lincoln's cabinet. Budd's genealogy goes back to George Washington's mother.

Several stars have the strain of the nobility of Europe. Among these are three news commentators. Edwin C. Hill is a descendant of Sir John Russell, who was speaker of the English House of Commons in 1424; H. V. Kaltenborn, a nephew of von Kaltenborn-Stachan, former German minister of war, and Boake Carter, a great nephew of Sir George Kellner, financial advisor of Queen Victoria, and a great-grandson of Francis Boake, Carter Shanganah Castle, Dublin Ireland. Then, too, George Jessel admits being a nephew of Sir George Jessel, chief justice of Great Britain during the reign of Queen Victoria; Stephen Fox, descending from Sir Stephen Fox, lord chamberlain of the household of King Charles II, and John C. Daly, relationship to Sir Charles Dalrymple, queen's counselor and member of Parliament. Harriet Cruise is a great niece of the late Lady Katherine Byrns of Ireland while Katherine Cavalli is a descendant of Daniel O'Connell, the Irish statesman.

Byrd Stowaways Will Be Heard on The Airwaves

The three New Zealand youths who stowed away in a life boat aboard the Byrd Antarctic Expedition flagship, Jacob Ruppert, will be introduced to the radio audience on the regular weekly broadcast from the ship to be heard over the WABC-Columbia network from 11:00 to 11:30 P. M., A. S. T., Saturday, December 16. They will be interviewed briefly on their experiences.

The broadcast from the Ruppert will open as usual with a blast from the steamer's whistle, the barking of the dogs and the ringing of the ship's bell. Charles J. V. Murphy will report briefly on the highlights of the past week and a piano and harmonica duo by Byron Gay, the sea-going song writer, and Alphonse Carbone, the musical cook, will supply the necessary melody. Admiral Byrd will speak about his plans for unloading the 250 tons of equipment and supplies which the Ruppert is carrying to Little America.

A program of entertainment by William Daly's Orchestra, Maria Silveira and Gordon Graham will come from the CBS New York headquarters for the explorers.

The horse has come back again. Only sleds appeared in market on Saturday, the automobile being put out of business by recent storms.

But if movie stars are paid too much, who else deserves the money their acting earns?

There is scarcely a clergyman in the whole wide world who can not tell a man something that it is good for him to hear.

:: FOR THE WOMEN ::

STEAMED CRANBERRY

Three slightly beaten eggs
One cup sugar
One half melted butter
One half cup milk
Three and one half cups flour
One and one fourth teaspoons baking powder
One and one half cups fresh cranberries
Combine ingredients as for cake, adding the fresh cranberries last of all. If cranberries seem too firm or sour, use quarter cup more sugar to sweeten them sufficiently.

Pour mixture in greased mold, cover tightly and steam three hours. This as well as other steamed puddings may be cooked in a steam pressure cooker, the same as brown bread. This requires about two hours at a low pressure.

When the cranberries are added whole and raw, they keep their bright red color and original shape and flavor. If they are too sour, however, they may be first cooked with sugar into a sauce, and then added to the mixture. When handled in this manner, they do not appear so attractive, but, of course, taste much sweeter.

HARD SAUCE

One fourth cup butter
Three fourths cup powdered sugar
One half teaspoon vanilla
One eighth teaspoon nutmeg
Method: Cream butter and sugar. When white and creamy (about ten minutes) add vanilla and nutmeg. The secret of creamy white sauce lies in long beating. Heap with a fork on a serving dish and chill. Serve cold on a hot pudding.

JUMBLES

One fourth pound of butter
One half pound of flour
One half pound of sugar
Three eggs
If a vegetable shortening is used instead of butter, add a fourth teaspoon of salt to the recipe. Cream the shortening, beat in the sugar, add eggs one at a time and thoroughly beat after each one. Stir in the flour. Roll out lightly on floured board. Cut as desired and bake in a moderate oven. (Note: no liquid and no baking powder are used in these old fashioned jumbles. Keep the dough as soft as it is possible to handle. Roll them thin still occupies the vast studio of and bake one or two "testers". If his prosperous days, and I said to dough is too rich add a little more flour, but no more than a little. Keep board on which they are rolled and well floured).

SAND TARTS

One half pound of butter
One pound of granulated sugar
One pound of flour
Two well beaten eggs
Cream the butter (or desired shortening) and slowly add the sugar. Beat thoroughly and add the flour, little by little with the well beaten eggs, beat

PRUNIE CREAM MOLD

One fourth pound cooked prunes
Three tablespoons cold water
One third cup sugar
One cup whipped cream
Whites of two eggs
One ad one half cup hot prune juice
One tablespoon lemon juice
One half inch piece stick cinnamon
One and one half tablespoons gelatine
Cook the prunes as usual, adding the cinnamon and the sugar. Strain and cut prunes into small pieces. Soak the gelatine in the cold water until soft, then add to the hot prune juice with the lemon juice. When cool and beginning to set, fold in the whipped cream and the beaten egg whites. Mold and chill well before serving.

APPLE-LEMON PIE

Two cups chopped apples
One half cup of fine cracker crumbs
Two lemons, juice and grated rind
Two eggs, well beaten
Two tablespoons melted butter
One and three fourths cups of sugar
Pare, core and chop the apples. Mix them with the other ingredients in the order given. Put in pastry lined pie plate, cover with a top crust and bake about half an hour in a moderately hot oven.

ASKED A LOT

(Philadelphia Bulletin)
Gerald Kelly, New York art critic was talking about the effect of the hard times on artists.

"I called the other morning", he said, "on an artist who used to have a five figure income. The poor fellow is possible to handle. Roll them thin still occupies the vast studio of him: "I suppose they ask you a lot for the rent of this fine studio, old man."

"Yes", he said, "they asked me 30 times last month."
