In Colleen's own words she will live in New York because Al (Al Scott, her broker-husband) has to live there because of his business and while I will continue to make motion pictures I will not reside in California. We will take an apartment for the winter. I determined not to be kept away from Al for such long periods anymore."

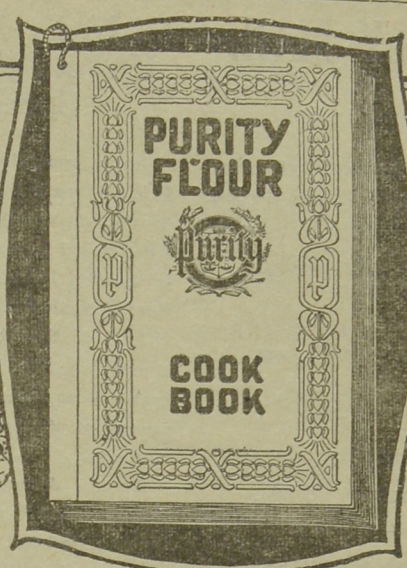

Colleen at present holds a contract with Radio RKO which provides the studio may use her for more films but will have to notify her in New York 30 days before she is supposed to step on the set here.
