UPSWING IN MARITIMES

In its shipping department the Halifax Chronicle, one of the most pronounced Liberal journals in the Dominion says:

As the business upswing gathers momentum in Canada, its steady sweep lends impetus to activities at Canada's Atlantic ports. Day by day a stream of shipping moves in and out of the two great Maritime ports—Halifax and Saint John—and the increasing traffic they bear is a barometer of conditions in the seaside provinces.

Ashore business in the Maritimes is speeding up. Industrial plants are working nearer capacity than they have for years. Car loadings have leaped far past the 1933 figures. And business and industrial leaders agree the outlook is distinctly improved.

The ports face prospects of the best winter season in years. For Halifax, J. L. Hetherington chairman of the Harbor Commission, declared January figures undoubtedly will show a record-breaking movement of freight over the Commission's piers. And he is confident 1934 is going to be the biggest year in the port's history. "With an increase of tonnage last year of 290,056 tons, the port authority is facing 1934 with full confidence of a larger freight movement through this port than ever before," he declared today.

Export of apples almost tripled, rising from about 500,000 barrels to 1,500,000 barrels. The export of cattle increased last year and is still picking up. Grain shipments have increased.

"But most encouraging of all," said the Commissioner, "is the increase in the routing of packaged freight. Apple shipments may vary with the crops and various factors affect shipment of other kinds, but the packaged traffic may be taken as a fair indication of general conditions.

In Saint John, port facilities are taxed to capacity in handling the rising volume of traffic pouring over wharves. Authorities, hard pressed to handle shipping without delay, emphasize the need of rebuilding the four berths destroyed by fire some time ago.

* THROUGH OUR SIEVE *

A cook book contains the embalmed records of endless delight.

Open the door! Maybe it isn't the wolf this time. Maybe it's opportunity. A grouch does not like grouches. He hates 'em. What he likes is the velvety touch.

Theatres 3000 years ago didn't have room enough between the rows of seats, either.

Blood lust is what makes a human creature commit murder and then think up a motive.

People who wish to scatter joy, often have poor judgment in selecting what conveys it.

We hope February will not get over ambitious and try and out do January in the weather line.

It must be a relief to turn professional and get your money at a bank instead of feeling under a pillow.

If you are not used to it, by the time you get to the step next the top on a stepladder, you feel like Darius Green, about to make his leap.

To show how movie theatres go from one extreme to another, Clyde Moore, Columbus, O., State Journal, May, says one of the flicker palaces there had "Little Women" one week and Kate Smith the next.

U. N. B. Student Union Abolished At Special Meeting

At a specially called meeting today at noon the Students' Union of the University of New Brunswick voted itself out of existence by a majority vote of five to one. Provided that the President and Senate of the University approve the move, the students' government from now on will be by means of students' representative councils.

Donald Jamer, editor of "The Brunswickan," stated today that the change has been brought about because of difficulties of the Students' Union to get quorums at its meetings, and also because of what he termed "heckling and quibbling" without substantial results. There has been dispute for the past five years in student circles from the alleged mis-operations of this body.

J. Campbell Macleod, president of the Union, opened up the question of a revised constitution. A motion was passed, moved by Vernon Daughney, that the new type of government go into effect at once. Mr. Macleod will submit the new constitution to the President and Senate for its approval. One of the chief criticisms against the Students' Union is that it is obsolete and has no more use to the affairs of the student body. A wider and more thorough representation is needed, is the claim.

TWO IN THE FIELD

Woodstock, Ont., Feb. 1—Two candidates are definitely in the field for the by-election called for April 13 in the South Oxford Dominion constituency, made vacant by the death of T. M. Caying. A. S. Rennie of Tillsonburg is in the field as Liberal candidate and Harry Scott is the C.C.F. standard bearer.

A Conservative convention to name a candidate has not yet been called.

A REAL SPORTSMAN

As announced in these columns yesterday the New Brunswick Guides Association prize offered to the non-resident angler taking the largest salmon, in the open waters of the province during 1934 was won by Capt. Charles A. Campbell of New Brunswick, New Jersey. While fishing at the Hart's Island pool last September with Raymond Currie of this city as guide, Capt. Campbell hooked and landed a 22 pounder. The prize will be presented to Capt. Campbell at the Boston Sportsmen's Show next week. This week a wire was received from Capt. Campbell inviting Guide Currie to attend the show as his guest and he will leave for Boston this evening. Capt. Campbell and his friend Paul Richardson of Larchmont, N. Y. are semi-annual visitors to New Brunswick. They are real sportsmen and have made many friends here. Brigadier General Parsons of Saint John, commander of Military District No. 7, is a guest at the Queen.

DECISION FROM OTTAWA

The Canadian Pensions Commission, which sat here yesterday, considering twelve pensions applications, concluded its business last evening and the members of the Commission left today for their homes. Decision in the twelve applications will be delivered from Ottawa at a later date. The members of the commission were Dr. D. W. Grey, and Stephen Jones, both of Ottawa and G. A. Gamblin, of Saint John, district pension advocate.

A SIGN OF SPRING?

Coupled with the optimistic prediction of King Groundhog, who must have stayed out this morning since he couldn't see his shadow, is the report that a number of crows have been already seen on the Saint John riverfront in recent days. The appearance of crows is usually associated with the coming of spring citizens will be glad to know.

LITTLE ACTIVITY

No unusual activity was indicated today re removal to new quarters of business men in this city. It is possible that tenants are postponing possible removal till more pleasant weather in May.

Who's afraid of the old Ground Hog?

New Hampshire Collegians Do Not Bar Negroes

Durham, N. H., Feb. 1—University of New Hampshire students protested informally but vigorously today against a so-called "gentlemen's agreement" which barred one of their star athletes from competing in boxing matches tonight because he is a Negro.

When the university's boxing team departs for New London, Conn., today for this evening's bouts with cadets of the University States Coast Guard Academy, Fred Moody, Concord, N. H. all round athlete, remained behind. The university's publicity deploration subsequently explained that barring of the Negro resulted from an agreement of long standing with the academy.

When arrangements for the boxing matches were made more than a year ago it was explained, Coast Guard academy officials pointed out that a great number of their students were from the southern states and they would prefer to have New Hampshire bring no Negroes on the boxing team.
