Those Nasty Little Pimples

Thousands suffer untold miseries from the knowledge that these blemishes make them disgusting to those with whom they come in contact. They worry, day after day, wondering how they can get their skin cleared up. The way is to use Burdock Blood Bitters; a remedy that drives out the impurities from the blood, and when this is done the complexion is left without the sign of a pimple.

REVISION OF THE FRUIT ACT

In order to meet suggestions and recommendations of the various fruit interests of the Dominion, a proposed revision of the Fruit Act, 1923, has been drafted. The Act may be cited as the Fruit Act 1934, and will cover the present day requirements of the trade. The word "fruit" means fruit of every kind grown in Canada, known botanically as such, except cranberries and wild fruit in respect of which no grades are prescribed. Copies of the proposed Act have been distributed to all parties concerned, and any criticism or recommendation in connection therewith should be made with the least possible delay to the District, Provincial, or Dominion Association as the case may be or direct to the Fruit Commissioner, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

GILBERT JORDON, 60-YEAR-OLD BARKER'S PT. MAN KILLS WIFE, THEN WOUNDS SELF AFTER QUARREL

Shocking Tragedy Occurred Last Night at Seven O'Clock at Home at Barker's Point—Wife Shot Through the Back, Died Instantly—Rhoda Jordan, Aged Six, Tells of Quarrel Between Couple—Police Hold Wounded Man.

Mrs. Gilbert Jordan, aged about 47, is dead and her husband, Gilford Jordan, 60, lies wounded in the Victoria Hospital here, the result of a domestic tragedy which occurred at Barker's Point at seven o'clock last night.

Jordan shot his wife as she fled out the back door of their home following a quarrel, when the man threatened to shoot her and made his way upstairs to get his gun. Mrs. Jordan dressed hastily and ran out the back door.

The man used an old-fashioned .43 Spandau rifle. The bullet entered Mrs. Jordan's body when she was about eight feet from the back door. She died almost instantly, staggering only a few feet. When the coroner, Dr. Charles MacKay and the R.C.M.P. investigators arrived, she was lying on her hands and knees, dead, a pool of blood at her feet.

Jordan after shooting his wife went back into the squalid little kitchen of his home and shot himself. The bullet entered his chin causing a deep wound. Though in a semi-conscious condition last night at the hospital, it is expected that he will recover. Dr. MacKay stated today that his wound was not a serious one.

From headquarters of the R.C.M.P. today it was learned that Jordan, if he recovers will face the charge of murdering his wife. The police are in possession of the rifle with which the shooting was done, two empty shells, and one live one.

The screaming voice of little Rhoda Jordan, aged six, as well as the sound of the shots brought Lloyd Arnold, a neighbor, to the scene of the tragedy shortly after it occurred. The child was crying "Mama's shot" as near as Arnold could make out.

After making a short survey, Arnold notified Russel Rickard, who lives a short distance away. The latter telephoned the R.C.M.P. who arrived on the scene a few minutes later. Both Rickard and Arnold, as well as several other residents of that part of Richibucto Road, heard the shots.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jordan had been married twice. Their own family consists of four children, Rhoda, Gilbert, Percy and Ralph. These four children were the only witnesses to the tragedy last night.

Children Tell Story

Rhoda the youngest, and Gilbert, a crippled youth, pieced together the story for the coroner and police last night. Their father and mother had been quarrelling all afternoon over a crooked knife, that had been used by the family for whittling. Early in the evening the two had become violently excited and their father had threatened to shoot the mother. Making good his threat he ran upstairs for his gun. According to the children's story the mother dressed herself and fled out the back door. She had gone only a few yards when the report of the gun sounded and the woman staggered and fell in the yard. The man had shot from within the house.

According to the story told by Gilbert, the crippled lad, the man then came into the house and pulled the trigger on himself, inflicting a wound in his chin. He asked Gilbert to put a pillow under his head, when the man fell his head came in contact with the door of the kitchen through which his wife had left the house.

Quarrelled Often

Barker's Point rumors are that Jordan and his wife had quarrelled often. A year ago, the husband was apprehended on a charge of assaulting his wife. There was no report of jealousy being a motive.

There was also no talk of insanity on the part of the husband, Clarence Bruce, proprietor of the general store at Barker's Point, stated last night that Jordan had been in the store only the day before and had asked for some hen feed. He had been his normal self at that time, according to Mr. Bruce.

Dr. Charles MacKay, coroner, who examined the body of the dead woman, found that the bullet had entered the woman's back, coming out through the breast. During its passage the bullet had directly penetrated the heart, causing almost instant death. The woman had staggered only a few paces after being hit. When found she was on her hands and knees.

Dr. Arthur F. VanWart, performed a partial autopsy on the body last night in order to trace the course of the bullet for the information of the coroner's jury.

The inquest had been set for tonight at eight o'clock at the York County Court House and the jury empanelled is as follows: William Staples, foreman, George Vivian, Charles Sharkey, Otto Hughes, Ernest Hughes, Jardine Graham, Rufus Fulton, and Oliver Holland.

An R.C.M.P. guard was kept over Jordan at the hospital last night. Owing to the man's condition police could extract no statement from him as to the occurrence, but it is expected that an attempt will be made today to get a statement for the coroner's jury tonight.

The Jordans had been living at Barker's Point for at least ten years it was said by neighbors. The man is a native of Ripples, Both Mr. and Mrs. Jordan had been twice married. Mrs. Jordan's maiden name was Banks and her first husband was James McFadden. Her children by her first marriage are Artherine of this city, and Mrs. Thomas Blank of Devon. Jordan's only son by his first marriage, Wilfred, died some years ago.

The body of Mrs. Jordan was removed to McAdam's Undertaking parlors where it was viewed by the jury last night. Jordan was taken by ambulance to the hospital shortly after the shooting occurred.

The Jordan home is a flat little building about one hundred yards from the main Richibucto Road, and near the Barker's Point dance hall. It is understood that the Jordans have been on the direct relief in the parish of St. Marys this winter and they have had financial difficulties.

HAWKS WON EASILY FROM MOUNT A. TEAM

Stadium, Moncton, March 4—Virtually crowned Maritime Amateur Hockey Association senior champions for the second consecutive season by their overwhelming 10-1 rout of the Mount Allison University six here tonight, Moncton Hawks were eager for the Allan Cup trail to Upper Canada. The Hawks, senior "A" class title holders by virtue of their Maritime (Big Four) Hockey League championship, lived up to all forecasts when they subdued the gallant but untried band of collegians from Sackville. The latter, Maritime "B" winners, are scheduled to perform at home Friday night in the second fixture of the two game, total goal final round.
