CONCERNING JUDGES

The Legislature yesterday agreed to a bill to amend the Judicature Act. It was not of great importance as it merely re-enacted an amendment of two years ago which provides that two supreme court judges shall reside in this city. This means we are pleased to say Mr. Justice Richards will have the privilege of continuing a citizen of Fredericton, a concession extended his predecessor, Mr. Justice Crockett. The passage of the bill of course emphasizes the fact that while judges are appointed and paid by the Federal government, the Provincial Legislature has control over their movements; it creates the courts and stipulates where the judges shall reside. As Attorney-General Harrison pointed out last evening, the Nova Scotia law compels Supreme Court judges to reside in Halifax, the Capital of the province. The Mail recently had occasion to show that things are done somewhat differently in Nova Scotia than in New Brunswick and this is one instance. Not only are the judges compelled to take up residence in Halifax, but Ministers holding office in the provincial government are also compelled to reside in that city, although it may be explained that they are paid for full time service which is not the case with New Brunswick ministers.

The New Brunswick Judicature Act, makes it incumbent upon two supreme court judges to reside in Saint John, but as a matter of fact three now make their homes at or near that city. Saint John is the chief commercial centre of the province and possesses a large array of legal talent, the convenience of which no doubt has to be given consideration. It seems somewhat strange, however, that with three resident judges in Saint John that Fredericton's two judges should be deputized to make frequent trips to that city to hold sittings in chambers. One result of this is that the combined travelling expenses of the New Brunswick judges exceeds that of the Nova Scotia judiciary by $4,000 a year notwithstanding the fact that the population of Nova Scotia is about one hundred thousand greater than that of this province. The allotment of supreme court judges is the same for New Brunswick as for Nova Scotia, but when all vacancies are filled Nova Scotia has one additional county court judge. The difference in the combined salaries of the judges in the two provinces, with travelling expenses included is now almost on a par and this fact might possibly be urged against New Brunswick when a government delegations next visits Ottawa to press for better terms.

Leader Dysart in the course of his speech in the House yesterday expressed the opinion that the province was paying too high a price for road machinery. He pretended to have information from Nova Scotia that the government of that province had bought road graders at a lower price but on being pressed by Hon. Mr. Stewart was unable to show the machines used in the two provinces are identical. Leader Dysart with a flourish of trumpets declared that the government should appoint a Royal Commission to investigate the matter. If the opposition leader has faith in his ability to prove his charges, then it is up to him to move for the appointment of a Royal Commission, and stake his political existence on the result, but he carefully avoided taking that step.

While opposition members of the House during the debate yesterday had something to say in condemnation of the governments marketing bill, Mr. Pirie, the Victoria potato magnate, maintained a discreet silence. Mr. Pirie has on several occasions demonstrated to the House that he knows how to express his views. His silence on this occasion there was surprising to say the least.

Every member of the opposition in the Legislature has participated in the debates so far with the single exception of the veteran from Gloucester. Not to be left out in the cold Mr. Legei was chosen to second the amendment moved by Leader Dysart to the supply motion and no doubt appreciates the honor conferred upon him.

It is quite evident that should the Legislature ever see fit to enact a law compelling all supreme court judges to reside in Fredericton it would undoubtedly be just as easy to fill vacancies on the bench as it is at the present time.

Some kind of record surely must have been established in Sierra County, California, in 1933. Only one couple obtained license to marry and eleven divorce complaints were filed during the year. And if it is a record, it is not a very good one.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Did anybody ever hurt your feelings—or was it your pride?

Be part of an organized minority—taxpayers, for instance.

In the world there is too much repetition in everything.

Missionary work may become humdrum, but it isn't humdrum of home.

Many things may be preserved in alcohol, but law and order are not on the list.

What has become of the old-fashioned woman who thought she smelled something burning?

A man seldom poses as a confirmed bachelor until after some woman has confirmed him.

Don't make the mistake of giving a man advice which doesn't confirm his own opinion.

The average wife's greatest problem is not how to keep from spoiling her husband, but how to keep him from spoiling himself.

A man with an independent fortune can afford to run for office. As a means of making a living, it is precarious.

What's become of the old-fashioned ladies who used to say, "I'll take a limb, please, and part of the bosom?" One has to become thoroughly accustomed to a wooden-board starched shirt and swallow tails before he can converse easily in company.

The Rock of Ages

THE MONUMENT you erect should be chosen with care; it will never be changed or discarded. It should be a source of satisfaction and comfort for a lifetime. Many original and artistic monuments stand in local cemeteries as examples of the fine work we have created. Each has individuality and character of its own—not that sameness so often found in the ordinary monument. On request we will present and explain our catalog of exclusive yet inexpensive designs of monuments made from Marble and Granite.

EVERY ONE HAS A JOB IN OVID

Ovid, New York, March 9—No unemployment and no stores, houses or even rooms for rent except in the hotel and transient accommodations in this village of 1,500 population. Lying in a rich farming section, about a mile from Seneca Lake, Ovid supplies the greatest number of the employees at the Willard State hospital, a few miles away, and there is no one in the village who really wants a job that isn't employed. The same situation has placed vacant houses at a premium.

IN THE HOUSE

It now seem certain that the debate on the budget in the Legislature will end on Tuesday afternoon unless followers of Leader Dysart avail themselves of the privilege of speaking on his amendment moved yesterday, which is hardly likely. Hon. D. A. Stewart has the floor this afternoon and when he concludes the House will adjourn for the week-end. It has been arranged that Premier Tilley will conclude the debate on Tuesday afternoon. Supply is expected to occupy the greater part of next week.

PORT CREDIT, Ont., Mar. 9—This town's fire department sprang to its engine today as an alarm sounded. The driver stepped on the starter. Nothing happened. In desperation a fireman ran into the street and hailed the driver of a gravel truck. The truck towed the engine to a home which was burning and the men attached a hose to the nearest hydrant. The hydrant was frozen. A bucket brigade put out the blaze.

Word has been received by friends from George M. McDade, M. P., that he is doing nicely and expects to be back at the House in Ottawa, the latter part of this week.—Chatham Gazette.
