

A GLANCE AT THE LOCAL NEWS
OF FREDERICTON 27 YEARS AGO

(FROM THE DAILY HERALD FILES
MARCH 19, 1907)

A Warning
The rector of Fredericton has heard that some colored children have been going about with a paper asking for a contribution to the Sunday School and stating that the rector gave them authority to do so. Canon Cowie wishes to warn the public against those children and he stated that he has not authorized them to collect money.

Home From Quebec
John Kilburn the well known lumberman who has been superintending his lumbering operations in Quebec province for some weeks has returned home. He reports that his crews have made good progress and will likely finish hauling to the stream some time this week. There was four feet of snow in the woods when Mr. Kilburn started for home.

Changes Hands
Joseph Richards who for the past few years has conducted the Empire House in Queen Street took possession of the York Hotel this morning. Mr. Richards has had considerable experience catering to the travelling public and will no doubt make a success of the York Hotel.

Want Free Wharfage
Dr. L. A. Currey, K.C., president of the Hampstead Steamship Company will shortly make application to the city council for exemption of wharfage rates for the steamer Hampstead which now piles between this city and Gagetown. It is claimed that the company last year paid $100 in wharfage fees which amount represents almost the entire profit on the year's business. It is felt by the company that the city council can well afford to grant some concession.

A Western Offer
It is possible that Fredericton may lose another excellent teacher. H. H. Hagerman of the Normal School staff having lately received a tempting offer from the town of Nelson, B.C. Although the salary to be paid is much in excess of that which he receives here he has not yet decided to accept the offer. Mr. Hagerman is a graduate of the U.N.B. and one of the most efficient and painstaking teachers in the province. It is to be sincerely hoped that the government will be able to retain his services. (The government did retain his services and he is now principal of the Normal School.)

Personal Mention
Dr. J. R. Inch leaves for Saint John tomorrow to attend the funeral of the late Dr. Stocton, M.P.
Bishop Richardson was in Saint John Sunday holding confirmation services and tomorrow will attend the funeral of the late Archdeacon Neals at Woodstock.
Mr. and Mrs. William Lynn of Rum-ford Falls, Maine, arrived in the city on Saturday to spend a few days with Mr. Lynn's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Lynn.

Student Debate.
The intercollegiate debate between teams representing King's College of Windsor, N. S., and the U.N.B. is to take place at the Opera House next Thursday evening and is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Lt. Governor Tweedie will preside and the judges will be hon. C. W. Robinson, J. D. Hazen, M.P.P. and W. A. Sangster barrister of Windsor, N.S. The subject of the debate will be:—"Resolved that a closer union of the British Possessions in America would be mutually beneficial." The U.N.B. team will be composed of M. L. Richard, D. R. Hayward and F. D. Orchard.

Stock Importation
The provincial government which has done a great deal to promote the agricultural interests of the province is asking authority from the legislature to expend $25,000 for the importation of horses and sheep.

Resigned Pastorate
Rev. J. D. Freeman who on Sunday announced his resignation of the pastorate of the Bloor Street Baptist Church, Toronto and intends to remove to the United States was a former pastor of the Brunswick Street Baptist Church in this city. Immediately preceding Rev. J. H. MacDonald, He is a native of Mill Village, Queens Co. N.S. and a preacher and pastor of great energy and capacity.

STREAMLINE
CLOTHING NOW
FOR THE MEN

New York, March 16—Now it's the men who are to be streamlined. It happened to motor cars, trains, bars and women some time ago. Today, at the men's annual style show being held here by the New York Custom Cutters' Club, stylist averred that conservative man is bowing his head to the breath of a zephyr and pledging his future appearance to modern scientific style. Designed along lines of least resistance, all new models display a speedier, more frankly "nifty" effect than man has assumed since the revolutionary days of the "red-coats."

Waistlines are lifted far above that location where the normal waist is commonly encountered. Coats of sack-suits are one inch longer than they were last year and dress-suit tails are longer by six inches.

Authorities on style at the show favor the non-resistant qualities of soft coat-fronts and natural shoulders. They declare that padded shoulders are obstructions to progress and "out of style." In keeping with the new zeal for speed, striped materials are much in favor.

As guides to sartorial splendor in perfect taste, Frank Nagel, spokesman for the club, suggests Grover Whalen, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Adolph Zukor, Adolph Menjou, Anthony Drexel Biddle and Joseph E. Widener.

NON-COLLEGE
GERMANS O.K. TO FIGHT DUELS

Berlin, March 17—One needs no college diploma to fight a duel in Germany now, says Der Wegweiser.

The paper said it learned today that "Chancellor Hitler desires every German to know how to wield the sword and to be extremely jealous of his honor."

Heretofore class prejudice, the paper pointed out, barred "satisfaction at arms" for him who had no university degree.

STUBBORN MULE
TIES UP TRAFFIC

Chicago, March 17—Sooky, a mule, is no respecter of big-city traffic.

Having planted itself squarely on the street car tracks, Sooky refused to budge, and the police were called.

"You push from behind and we'll turn our car sideways and shove this animal clear," said a policeman to the motorman. The result:

Sooky kicked out the glass of the street car, then the glass out of the headlights of the police automobile.

It took the combined efforts of neighborhood volunteers and the police to pull Sooky away—some 30 minutes later—with a rope.

FINDS A QUEER COLLECTION IN HIS HENHOUSE

Tremont, Maine, March 15—A poultryman, entering his henhouse on an extremely cold morning, found not only his hens but also:

- Five sea gulls.
- Three crows.
- Two partridges.
- One sheldrake.
- One white-winged coot.

TO MEET QUEBEC CHAMPS
SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I., Mar. 17—The Crystal Sisters of Summerside left here this morning for Montreal, where they will meet the Quebec champions in the play-offs for the Canadian championship of the women's hockey league.

the meeting of the municipalities committee at the legislature this morning and consideration of the Fredericton assessment bill has been deferred until Wednesday. There was a big delegation on hand to support and oppose the bill and the Committee chairman George W. Allen, K.C., stated that he was anxious to have as large an attendance as possible.
