Paint on woollen or silk gools away without injury to the goods.

When preparing old dry beans. for baking, a little soda in water er them soft and tender.

A pinch of soda added to rhabarb, stewed or for the pies, helps to sweeten it and less sugar is required.

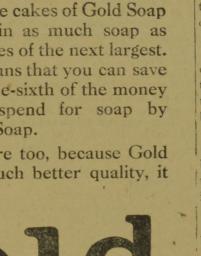

If dandelion greens are a little old and tough they can be made tender by adding a little soda to the water in which they are parboilea.

If the cream for whipping or for berries is slightly soured it can be used if a pinch of soda is beaten in.

Tins can be made silver bright by subbing them with soda and old paper.
